Mayeux Awarded Literary Prizes

Placing second among some 350 professors from across America, Col. Gilbert E. Mayeux, professor in the Department of A&M, was awarded three literature prizes while attending the American Summer Course at Sorbonne, France.

Mayeux was honored by the professors selected to instruct the Americans. His prizes included books by a famous author in each of the three centuries studied — 16th, 17th and 18th.

Mayeux, who wished to express thanks to Texas A&M for its help in taking these courses, returns to teach second year French and Spanish this fall at A&M.

Schools, has announced. Classes will begin at 6 p.m.

Monday at the high school. Courses will be offered in most approved high school subjects, Lucas said, and may be taken for credit or for professional and self-improvement. Special offerings include art, personal finance and basic reading.

Tuition is $15 a course except for basic reading, which is offered tuition free by the Brazos County Literacy Council.

The evening school is open to any person 16 years of age or older who is not attending any high school during the day. Classes for regular offerings will meet Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Basic reading meets on Tuesdays, 6:30-8 p.m.; art on Thursdays from 6-9 p.m.; and personal finance on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7-9.

The personal finance course, specially designed for husbands and wives, will be taught by H. G. Kenagy, former insurance company executive and business administration professor. It will include budgeting, consumer debt life and general insurance, home buying, taxes, how to buy and sell securities and estate planning. It will carry no cre-

Carter Placed On Probation

bribe from a foreign student, Suphachai Weoprasirt of Thailand last fall.

District Judge John M. Barsentence and told Carter that because of his "age and posia Topeka, Kan., data processing tence." firm, accepted $100 from Weoprasirt to change certain grades from failing to passing. The grand jury indictment listed four course grades which Carter changed. Director of Admissions and Registrar H. L. Heaton testified that the changes were discovered by Dr. John M. Nance, head of the Department of History and Government.

Nance first noticed a discrepancy when comparing his department's records with those of the registrar.

"After this instructor reported to us, we were able to uncover other grade discrepancies," Heaton testified. All of the grades were for courses taken during the spring semester in 1964. The five-year probated sentence was recommended by Brazos County District Attorney D. Brooks Cofer Jr., and was acceptable to the defendent's attorney, W. S. Barron. "No one intends on doing wrong," Carter told the judge. "During the past year I have

Constitution Week To End Thursday

The week ending Sept. 23 has been set as "Constitution Week' by Congress. President Johnson issued a proclamation which urges all Americans to observe this week with proper ceremonies and activities. The President also wished that Americans would re-evaluate the heritage of their Constitution.

Mrs. John Barron, president of the William Scott chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, invites all Texas A&M students to join with the chapter in the 178th celebration of the Constitution.
