Aggies Lead Texas Bowling

The Aggie Bowling Match Team won 11 of 12 games in Austin Saturday to lead the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Conference by three games. The Ags swept the first two opponents 8-0 in defeating South-west Texas and Sam Houston State. Their only loss came at the hands of second-place Arlington State, whom the Farmers dropped 3-1. High scorer for the Aggies was Zelman Joseph with 1724 for nine games. Standings after the first round of league play are:

Kauffman Learns Position Fast

Jim Kauffman is a young man who aims to distinguish himself in everything he tries. He has made his mark in the classrooms of Texas A&M and he's rapidly improving as a defensive halfback on the Aggie football squad. He didn't have much of a background for the job when he was moved to a defensive halfback post early this fall but he learns fast and he's getting better. "I think I'm learning," he says. "I know that I have a good teacher in coach Jack Hurlbut who works with the defensive secondary. He knows what he's teaching but more than that he has that knack of making us understand what he's teaching. He gets it across to me better than any coach I've ever been around." Kauffman, who stands 5-9 and weighs 180, was a linebacker on a defense and played halfback and fullback on offense for Georgetown High, a Class AA school in the Austin area. He was captain of his team his senior year and Georgetown won its district title. He made all-district and was a second-team choice for all-state. TCU, Rice, Texas and A&M were interested in his football talents. He only visited A&M and Texas and decided to become an Aggie. "I wanted to play in the Southwest Conference and I knew I didn't want to go to Texas. I wanted to major in building products marketing and A&M was the only school that offered it. However, since he arrived, the course has been discontinued because not enough students were taking it. Kauffman, whose mother is a second-grade teacher in Georgetown, has been a Distinguished Student every semester he's been at A&M. He has a 2.74 grade point average out of a possible 3.0. He started one game and played enough to letter as a freshman footballer but was held out of action his sophomore year. Last year he saw a little action but didn't letter. He played as an offensive wingback occasionally but the big play that he remembers was a 62-yard quick-kick against Texas Thanksgiving Day. Kauffman's classroom work already has earned him a graduate school scholarship award, the Peters Memorial Award given by the Houston Sales Executive Club. But, that comes later. Right now the important thing in Kauffman's life is playing defensive halfback next Saturday afternoon against the Baylor Bears. "I just imagine they'll throw a few passes," he says.
