Fish Fall To Sips 26-21

The TU Shorthorns pulled the strongman act and muscled just far enough to shade the hustling Aggie Fish, 26-21, in Austin Saturday.

Featuring the main TU attraction, Bill Bradley, the Shorthorns huffed and puffed for 332 yards on the ground. Quarterback Bradley bumped 131 yards, 73 coming on a TD trek in the second quarter. He added a 99-yard pass interception for good measure.

Charlie Riggs generated a balanced Aggie machine which rumbled for 112 yards in ground work and added 152 yards in the air. Although he hit 7 of 14 passes for 136 yards, Riggs most directly impressed his TU counterparts with three short sneaks for scores.

The Shorthorns first saw scoreboard lights after Fish punter Mike Caswell sliced a short boot of 26 yards, and the Sips took over on the Aggie 37. Nine plays later, Horn fullback Jim Graham hit right guard for 1 yard and a TU 6-pointer. Bradley's toss for two went astray and 6-0 said the scoreboard.

The young Ags promptly received the kickoff and seemed undaunted while driving to the TU 14. But Bradley said nix by stealing a Riggs pass at the 1 and accompanying a quartet of his fellows 99 yards to paydirt. The score stood 12-0 as Bradley once again threw away on the point-after.

But the Fish called a halt to proceedings of this type following the kickoff. Riggs flexed his minute muscles and carried the Fish 80 yards to touchdown country, squeezing his 150 pound frame through right guard for the last five. Bill Hobbs booted the PAT and the score improved, 12-7.

An exchange of punts put the ball in Aggie hands on the Fish 32, where Riggs added end Tommy Maxwell to his repertoire with a 67-yard pass-and-run play to the TU 1. Riggs popped into a puddle of horns to score, and Hobbs kicked true for a 14-12 Farmer lead at halftime.

Shorthorn stock rose in the second half as Bradley, from his own 27, stumbled inside left end, played a short game of hide-and-peek with an Aggie defensive man using a TU blocker as base, and completed a 73-yard scoring scamper. Halfback Chris Gilbert hit for 2 points and the lead reversed, 20-14. But not for long.

After a fumble recovery at the TU 25, Riggs completed two tosses to Maxwell and scooted the final six yards himself. Hobbs again booted and Fish hopes ballooned, 21-20. Sip offensive then employed a yard of dippy and two of doodle for the winning TD. After defensive back Denney Aldridge stole a Riggs pass and crunched to the TU 46, Bradley used the shotgun formation to drive 54 yards, with Gilbert blasting over left tackle for 1 yard and 6 points.

Leading 26-21, Shorthorn Loyd

5 To Be Admitted To Ag Fame Hall

Five Aggie athletic greats will be inducted into the A&M Athletic Hall of Fame Wednesday in conjunction with the Turkey Day Bonfire.

The five, including a national champion football coach, two gridders and two Olympic stars, will be admitted to the exclusive club at the second annual Hall of Fame Dinner at 8:30 in Duncan Hall.

The coach is the late Homer Norton, the mentor that led the Aggies to national prominence during the 30's and early 40's and the national championship in 1939.

The two gridders, Jack Mahan and Tyree Bell, both Aggie captains. Mahan was All-Southwest Conference in 1919 and again in 1920 at his fullback spot while Bell was a stalwart that captained the 1912 and 1914 Farmer squads. Mahan was also an Olympian in track.

Walt (Buddy) Davis and Darrow Hooper represent the select group of Olympic stars when they are inducted into the Aggie honor hall. Davis took second in the high jump in 1952 while Hooper brought home second in the shot put that same year.

The master of ceremonies for the banquet, in the east wing of A&M's "Club Duncan," will be Alec Chesser. Chesser is the color announcer for Kern Tipps on the Humble football broadcasts of SWC grid action.
