Geosciences Dean Chosen Gulf Research Group VP

Dr. Horace R. Byers, dean of the College of Geosciences, has been elected second vice president of the Gulf Universities Research Corporation.

Byers was elected at a meeting this week of the corporation in Austin. Gulf Universities Research Corporation is an organization of universities and institutes dedicated to research of all types in or on the Gulf of Mexico.

Other new officers include Dr.

G. E. Murray of Louisiana State University, president; Dr. Archie Straiton of University of Texas, first vice president; Dr. E. H. Mann, Miami University, third vice president, and R. S. Woodbury, Southwest Research Institute, San Antonio, secretary.

Anderson Attending Education Meeting

Dr. John Q. Anderson, English Department head, is among 25 Texans chosen to participate in a conference on education today and Friday at Richmond, Va.

Four hundred representatives will attend the conference sponsored by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Hackney Authors Welding Article

B.M. Hackney, a teacher trainer for the Engineering Extension Service, is the author of an article in the November issue of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education.

"Speeding Up Welding Instruction" is the title of Hackney's article in the technical publication.

Hackney tells how a Houston high school welding instructor speeded up instruction by building a portable three-section screen equipped with the same type lens shade as specified by the Bureau of Standards for arc welding. The device includes a speaker system.

Entomologists Attend New Orleans Meetings

Five staff members are attending a series of meetings held in New Orleans this week by the Entomological Society of America.

Attending the meetings, which end Friday, are Dr. J. C. Gaines, Dr. P. L. Adkisson, Dr. H. R. Burk, John G. Thomas and M. V. Meisch, all of the Department of Entomology.

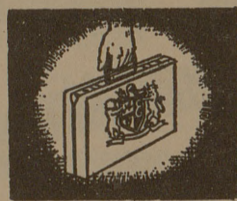

Gaines will present a paper entitled "Insecticide Resistance in Bollworm Population in Texas," and Dr. Adkisson will present one on "Photo-Induction of Diapause in the Pink Bollworm."

From New Orleans Dr. Gaines will go to Atlanta, Ga., to attend the Southern Forest Disease and Insect Research Council, where he will participate in discussions on research on forest insects.

Pan-Am Program Scheduled Tonight

The Pan-American Roundtable will sponsor a program featuring wives of A&M Latin American students at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the A&M Consolidated High School auditorium.

No admission will be charged, and the public has been invited to attend.
