sent the wishes and dislikes of his class. He is the mouthpiece of the fish class to the administration and the other three classes. Because of my mobile life I have become somewhat adept at meeting and understanding people.

This is a prime prerequisite for a good representative. He must understand and know the will of the people he is representing. In conclusion I would very much appreciate the vote of my fish buddies and will strive, if I am elected, to make the great Class of '69 the best class this University has seen or will ever see.

for freshman representative to the Student Senate, I believe the fish should know something of my qualifications. In high school, I was elected vice president of our student council and held offices in debate club, Latin Club, band, and National Honor Society. I had the honor of serving as president of the Episcopal Young Churchmen of the Diocese of Texas, and I also attended Boys State. In scouting, I have attained the rank of Eagle and have held the offices of junior assistant Scoutmaster, president of my air squadron, and Explorer district secretary.

Here at A&M I posted a 2.24 GPR at mid-semester and have been trying to live up to the Aggie traditions. If my fish buddies see fit to vote for me, I can promise them above all, loyal and outspoken representation on the Student Senate. I promise that as fish representative I will always convey and stand up for the wishes and beliefs of the freshman class.

Fish, come out and vote Thursday and remember to cast a vote my way for solid representation.

I am seeking one of the four positions in the Student Senate from the Freshmen class. I graduated from Jones High School in Houston and I'm majoring in government. I participated in student government in high school and in the South Texas National Forensic League Congresses. If I am elected to the Senate, I will try to act as a voice of the Freshman Class in the Senate.

Because most of the fish do not know anything about the candidates who are running for their class officers and representatives, I would like to acquaint you with some of the qualifications of a fish buddy who is running for representative to the Student Senate.

Pat O'Rielly was very active in his high school of 1,100 students and gained much valuable experience which qualifies him for the Student Senate. He served on his own high school student council for three years; his senior year as a representative at large. He was very active on the council, heading several committees his senior year, including the bonfire committee and others. He was president of his senior class of 285 and led the class to a very successful year. Because of his many activities, hard work, and superior leadership ability, he was given a leadership award by his high school student body. He lettered four years in varsity baseball and one year in football. His senior year, he was elected the captain of his baseball team and president of his high school Lettermen's Club.

Pat is aggressive and a very hard worker as is shown by his past accomplishments. But he is not relying on his past for his election. He believes the Class of '69 can best be represented by active and interested students and, if elected, he is determined to serve actively and in the best interest of the class at all times. He very sincerely solicits the advice and opinions of every fish on any matter and he will do everything in his power to present your ideas and complaints to the Student Senate.

Pat, as a member of the Corps and the Fish Drill Team, is well aware of the many problems and complaints that most fish have. I am sure that if you elect him as your representative to the Student Senate, you will find that his experience and desire will make him the best representative our class can have.

Thanks for the opportunity to announce my filing for freshman class office. I'm running for pre-vet representative to the Student Senate. I would like to urge all my fish buddies to vote in this election, and I would welcome a vote for myself. This is the biggest turnout for filing in several years, and it would be very disappointing if there were more candidates than voters. Make the fish Class of '69 the best ever by electing fish officers that represent the whole fish class.

I would like to publicly announce my candidacy for the post of freshman pre-vet representative to the Student Senate.

One of the drawbacks of freshman elections is a lack of knowledge about the candidates on the part of the electorate. To help allay this handicap, I would like to state my qualifications.

I am in Company B-1 Vets. I was graduated from Saint Louis University High School, in Saint Louis, with second honors. I was president of the science club and a National Merit finalist.

If elected, I hope to champion the needs and preferences of my fellow preparatory veterinary medicine majors.

I hereby announce my candidacy for a position on the Election Commission.

My qualifications are as follows:

Ranked fifth in graduating class of 98 with an overall average of 94;

Experienced in formal election procedures;

A promise of hard and zealous work as a member of the Election Commission to efficiently handle YOUR elections in the highest possible degree of excellence;

And most important, a burning desire to make A&M better than ever!

I will appreciate your votes and support in the coming elections.

Pat Harris is my name, I'm from Dayton, Texas, and I am taking architecture. This is to announce my candidacy for election commissioner in the election Thursday.

As a freshman all that I have to offer in the way of qualifications in high school. At Dayton High School in my senior year, I lettered in football, baseball and track, won two district championships in the UIC Scholastic Meet, served as student council president, national honor society president, class secretary and was given the American Legion Citizenship Award.

My first taste of A&M was at Junction where I posted a 3.5 grade point ratio. (My mid-semester average was 2.12.)

This election is awfully important to the Class of '69. I'm not going to say 'Vote for me.' Personally, I feel that I'm qualified, but the important thing is that all of us fish get together and vote.
