

Data Processing Head Selected To Presidential Advisory Panel

Robert L. Smith Jr., head of the Data Processing Center, has been appointed to a panel serving the Office of Science and Technology, in the Executive Office of the President.

Smith said the panel will study the problem of computers in education. One of the big problems is financing courses where students are taught to operate the computers.

The panel will consider problems in its field and then a report will be prepared. The reports are considered before decisions are made at a federal level, Smith noted.

Smith is the only person from the South to be named to the panel.

Account Opened For Employee's Son

An account has been opened at University National Bank for persons wishing to contribute toward medical expenses of George Creagor, son of James Creagor, a technician in the Cottonseed Products Research Lab.

The youth was severely injured in a freak gun accident Oct. 19 and has been in a Houston hospital ever since.

Blood donors are also needed to replace the 71 pints given Creagor by transfusion to date.

Interested persons may contact the Cottonseed Lab or E. E. Folsom in Campus Security or may mail contributions to the bank.
