Staunch Aggie Defenders, Beasley's Points Spark Win

By GLENN DROMGOOLE
Battalion Editor

Big John Beasley found the spacious Heart O' Texas Coliseum to his liking Saturday, as the Southwest Conference-leading Aggies remained that way with an impressive 81-60 victory over the Baylor Bears.

Beasley bombed the Bruins with 43 points, garnered 13 rebounds and helped contain Baylor's leading scorer to pace the Aggies to their fourth SWC victory without defeat before a statewide television audience and 4,400 live spectators, including a loud segment from A&M.

Feeling quite at home in the dark rodeo arena that Baylor calls home, Big John hit 17 of 28 field goals and 9 of 10 from the free throw line.

His 43 tallies equalled the 6-9 forward's production in Waco last year that launched him on the road to the SWC scoring title.

But there was a major difference in the 1965 and '66 performances. A&M won this year. The story of victory went beyond Beasley's fondness for the dim-lit coliseum. It included strong all-around defense that Metcalf called "the best effort I've had from an A&M team."

Time and again the Aggies stopped Baylor's top four of Darrell Hardy, Jimmy Turner, Tommy Hatfield and Russell Kibbe that had been averaging more than 67 points a game in conference play. The quartet gained only 30 tallies in Saturday's contest.

Beasley teamed with Randy Matson and Tim Timmerman to limit Hardy to three field goals. The Baylor center tossed in 11 free throws to lead Bear scoring with 17 points, five below his SWC average.

Dick Stringfellow held guard Jimmy Turner to three markers, Turner, a fine sophomore who scored 63 points in a freshman game last year, was averaging 22 points a game before Saturday. Hatfield's 13.7 average dipped when Dick Rector contained him to six points, and Kibbe scored only one field goal and two free tosses against the pursuit of Eddie Dominguez.

A&M controlled the boards 48-

36. Beasley led the way with 13 rebounds and Matson had nine.

Except for a two-minute interlude, the Aggies led all the way from the time Beasley hit a short one-hand jump shot in the opening seconds. Baylor tied the score at 11-11 with 13:22 remaining in the first half and again at 13-13 with 12:45 left before surging out front 15-13 on Turner's lone field goal of the game a minute later.

The Aggies regained the lead with 9:55 to go on a short set shot by Timmerman, a lead they never lost.

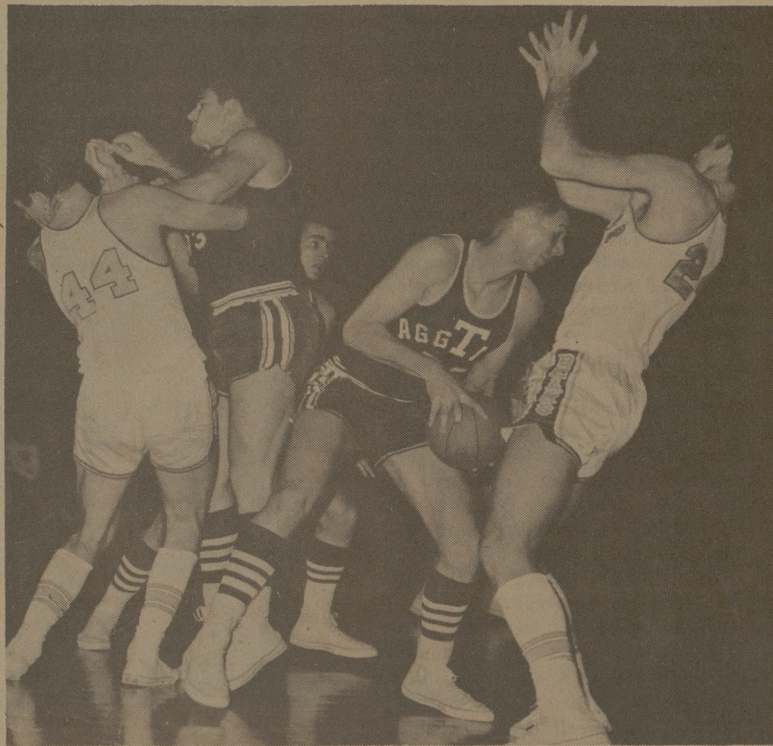

Enjoying a 36-31 halftime margin, the Cadets increased their advantage to 48-33 in the opening five minutes of the second half as Baylor went the distance without a field goal.

Metcalf cleared the bench with two and a half minutes remaining and his Aggies commanding a 75-52 lead.

Both teams were hot from the free throw line — A&M hitting 21 of 25 and Baylor making 20 of 27.

In the preliminary post-breakfast freshman contest, the Baylor Cubs drubbed the taller A&M Fish 87-73 behind the 36 points of Steve Bartells.

Billy Bob Barnett paced the icy Fish attack with 29 points. Sonny Benefield had 15 points and Ronnie Peret added 11 in the losing effort.

MATSON BLOCKS, TIMMERMAN MOVES
Randy Matson gets tangled up with Darrell Hardy (44) as Tim Timmerman gathers in a rebound from under the nose of Jerry Evans in the Aggie's fourth straight SWC victory. A&M swamped Baylor 81-60 Saturday afternoon in Waco.

Cadets Face Sip

It's TU time again Tuesday night as the Aggies seek their fifth straight Southwest Conference win against a Sip squad with a 1-3 mark.

The Longhorns may have two factors in their favor that don't show up on the books, and that's the home court advantage, though it hasn't worked too well for them this year, and the fact that they will naturally be trying harder from their next-to-the-cellar position in the SWC standings. Especially since Arkansas beat 'em on their home court Saturday.

While no one seriously considered TU a top championship contender, even a smaller group would have thought the Steers would be cruising along next to the bottom after tying for the title last year when Tech was disqualified, and only losing the play-off by two points.

A lack of experience has been cited as their biggest weakness, with Mickey White and Mike Gammon offering some brightness in a so-far bleak season.

White is a 6-5 senior forward that was the No. 3 scorer on last year's squad and No. 2 in bounds. Gammon is a guard that stands 6-2 and is expected to come into his own year.

Tip-off is at 8 p.m. in the Gym, and a good delegation of Aggie fans is expected to be set whatever advantage is left for fast-fading Longhorns.

Aggies To Get 2 Louisiana Grid Standouts

Kern Tips To Highlight Grid Banquet

Kern Tips, the "Voice of SWC football on radio," will be principal speaker at the Aggie football banquet Saturday night at the Ramada Inn.

The banquet, sponsored by The Aggie Club, is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tickets are $5 each and can be purchased at the Ramada Inn in College Station, Conway & Co. in Bryan and at the A&M athletic ticket office in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

Tips' association with radio began as a sportscaster with 1926, the same year he became sports editor of the Houston Chronicle. He went into radio full-time in 1935, serving as general manager of Houston radio station KPRC.

In 1947 he became a partner in Wilkinson, Schiweitz and Tips, Inc., an advertising agency. In 1954 the company merged with McCann-Erickson and Tips now is a vice president of that advertising agency.

In 1959 he was voted the man who had contributed most to radio and TV in Texas. A national poll has named him Texas Sports-caster of the Year five consecutive times.

He recently authored a book on the history of Southwest Conference football entitled "Football, Texas Style."

Herschel Maltz, president of The Aggie Club, will be master of ceremonies.

One of the highlights will be the presentation of the "Aggie Heart Award" to a member of the 1965 varsity.

College graduates, new to Ford Motor Company, often comment on the comparative youth of many of our top executives. The example of these men in key positions is evidence that being young is no handicap at Ford to those who possess ability and ambition. In fact, new employees can expect challenging assignments while still participating in our College Graduate Program. This means an opportunity to demonstrate special skills and initiative while still learning the practical, day-to-day aspects of the business. Consider the experience of Jim Weston, who has been with Ford Motor Company for three years.

Jim came to Ford in February, 1963. His first assignment was in marketing analysis where his principal job was evaluating present and potential dealer locations. For a time, he also gained experience in the actual purchasing of dealer locations. Later, an assignment forecasting sales and market potential with Ford Division's Truck Sales Programming Department gave him the background he needed to qualify for his present position. His job today? Only three years out of college, Jim is now a senior financial analyst in Ford Division's Business Management Department.

Jim Weston's experience is not unusual. At Ford Motor Company, your twenties can be challenging and rewarding years. Like to learn more about it? Talk to our representative when he visits your campus.

THREE WAYS TO BUY BOOKS

There are only about three ways to buy textbooks at A&M:

1. WALK INTO THE FIRST BOOKSTORE YOU SEE AND BUY THE BOOKS YOU MUST HAVE AT WHAT-EVER PRICES ARE AVAILABLE—This is a fairly common method which gets the job done, but obviously the most expensive method.

2. SHOP AROUND, COMPARE PURCHASE PRICE AND RESALE VALUES ALLOWED ON YOUR BOOKS AT THE END OF THE SEMESTER, THEN BUY WHERE YOU GET THE BEST DEAL—A far more practical, scientific method which will save you money.

(Before we continue, we think it is only fair to tell you that methods number 2 and number 3 are the same.)

3. WALK INTO LOUPOT'S, SAVE ON USED TEXTBOOKS, AND GET TOP VALUE WHEN YOU SELL YOUR BOOKS BACK TO LOU LATER!
