Australian Chemist To Give Graduate Lecture Friday

Dr. Max Amos, chief chemist for the Techtron Corporation of Australia, will give a graduate lecture Friday at Texas A&M.

The Graduate College-sponsored lecture, "High Temperature Burners and High Intensity Lamps in Atomic Absorption Spectroscopy", is at 3 p.m. in rooms 13 and 14 of the Herman Heep Building.

Amos has studied atomic absorption for six years.

Hubert Appointed To Library Committee

Dr. Frank W. R. Hubert has been appointed to the advisory committee of the first Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries.

Hubert, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, was named by Gov. John Connally.

The committee will recommend at the March 23 conference how the public can be made more aware of library's needs and how library services can be made more effective, Hubert said.

Conference coordinator is Dorman H. Winfrey, director librarian of the Texas State Library in Austin.

Hubert heads the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities.

House Writes Article For 2 Journals

Dr. William C. House, assistant professor of management at the School of Business Administration, authored two articles appearing in separate professional journals this month.

His article, "Effects of Group Cohesiveness on Organizational Performance," appeared in the January, 1966, "Personnel Journal."

A second feature, "Sensitivity Analysis in Capital Equipment Decision-Making," was published in the January, 1966, edition of "Budgeting."

House, first appointed at Texas A&M in 1962, performed his graduate and graduate studies at the University of Texas. His Ph.D. dissertation dealt with computerizing financial decisions. He received the doctor's degree in 1965.

Federal Service Interviews Feb. 7-8

Federal Career Service representatives will interview at Texas A&M Feb. 7-8.

Individual interviews may be arranged at the Placement Office on the third floor of the YMCA.

Opportunities for graduate students in any discipline are available, according to Louis S. Lyon, regional director for the Dallas region, U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Representatives will answer questions and advise students of career opportunities in federal service.

TTI Research Papers Presented at Meeting

Texas A&M research findings involving synthetic aggregates, concrete, pile driving and pavement construction are being presented at the annual meeting of the Highway Research Board in Washington, D.C., this week.

The papers result from the Texas Transportation Institute's cooperative research program with the Texas Highway Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The TTI speakers and their structural and materials topics include: Dr. W. B. Ledbetter, "Synthetic Aggregate Research;" Dr. T. J. Hirsch, "Fundamental Design and Driving Considerations for Concrete Pile;" Eugene Buth, "Correlation of Concrete Properties with Tests for Clay Content of Aggregate;" and Bob M. Galloway, "Post Velocity of Flexible Pavement Construction Materials" and "A Laboratory and Field Evaluation of Lightweight Aggregates as Coverstone for Seal Coats and Sur-
