Last Lecture Series To Present Stewart

Norman A. Stewart, associate professor of business administration, will be the "Last Lecture" Series speaker at 6 p.m. Monday in the YMCA Building, general secretary J. Gordon Gay has announced.

German Designer Here For Month

A special consultant from Germany's top school of design will arrive Monday for a month's stay at Texas A&M.

Herbert Ohl, head of the building department for Hochschule Fur Gestaltung in Ulm, will assist on a hospital design project by the Research Graduate Center of A&M's School of Architecture.

Architecture Chairman Ed Romieniec, who made the announcement, noted that this marks the third visit to A&M by Ohl.

Monroe To Speak At SFA Banquet

Dr. Haskell M. Monroe will be guest speaker at the spring banquet of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity at Stephen F. Austin State College.

Monroe, assistant dean of the Graduate College, will be guest speaker at the banquet here March 5. He received both his bachelors and masters degrees from Austin College in Sherman, and his doctorate degree from Rice University.

Monroe is editor of "The Papers of Jefferson Davis," a projected 15-volume collection of the speeches, letters, and other meetings of the Mississippi senator, Secretary of War and Confederate president.

PE Club Members Attend Convention

Five Physical Education Club members will participate in the Southern District Convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation Thursday through Sunday at Louisville, Ky.

They include President Joe Webb, Secretary-Treasurer Mike Overton, Program Chairman Johnny Bickham, senior representative Frank McCoy and Dick Barnett.

C. E. Tishler, department head, will accompany the delegates.

MSC Bowling Meet Winners Announced

Winners in the annual Memorial Student Center Bowling Tournament have been announced by M. W. Smith, MSC games room manager.

Jim Milstead of San Antonio blasted 1,099 pins in five games to capture first place and a $20 gift certificate.

Bob Brandt of Texas City posted 1,090 pins for second place and a $10 certificate.

Richard Rassmussen took third with 1,064 pins. He won a $5 certificate.

Stewart Wins Stock Contest

Robert Stewart, a Houston banker who serves on Texas A&M's investment committee, won a crystal-ball gazing contest by coming within a hair's breadth of predicting the 1965 closing of Dow-Jones Industrials.

The advisor is senior vice president and manager of the loan and investment division of the Bank of the Southwest. He is the first Texan to win the annual contest conducted by a trust company in New York.

Stewart made his prediction in February 1965 that the December 31 closing would be 968.75. Actual closing was 969.26.

One of three bankers who consult on stocks for endowment funds, Stewart isn't making predictions for the Dow-Jones closing in 1966.

"I'm quitting while I'm still ahead," he promised.

Hensarling Writes Food Service Article

Dr. Paul Hensarling authored an article for the February, 1966, issue of "School Management."

"How Good or Bad Is Your Food Service Operation" gives a checklist developed and used by Texas schoolmen for evaluating food service management. It includes questions concerning organization and administration, food service facilities, business practices and health and sanitation.

Hensarling heads the Department of Education and Psychology.

McGuire To Address Engineering Club

Professor J. G. McGuire, assistant dean of engineering, will discuss cooperative engineering education at Thursday's meeting of the Texas A&M chapter of the American Association of Engineering Educators.

NEW BAND SWEETHEART

Miss Patsy Reading of Houston was chosen as 1966 Band Sweetheart at last weekend's Band Dance. She was presented with carnations by Ronnie Winn, Maroon Band drum major.
