Bryan Girl Named Outstanding Grad At Sociology Fete

Miss Mary L. McNeely of Bryan, senior sociology major, has been named winner of the J. Wheeler Barger Memorial Award and the Sociology Award.
The honor came during the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology's annual Spring Roundup awards program. Miss McNeely was among 12 recipients of various awards to students and faculty members.
The Barger Award is presented each year to the outstanding senior graduating in the department. Selection is based on academic achievement, leadership, character, personality, activities, public speaking and publications.
Other awards and recipients were:
—Bankers School Scholarship of $150 to William Carl Haseloff of Vernon in recognition of academic achievement, leadership and interest in career banking.
—Department Head's Award to Eugene J. Berger of Weimar for showing the greatest academic improvement and professional development during his junior and senior years.
—Wall Street Journal Award to Daniel W. Mathews of Edinburg as the outstanding senior in agricultural administration.
—Sociology Award to Joel Aldape of Corpus Christi for academic achievement as a junior.
—National Observer Award for leadership in sociology to Rinaldo Juarez of Robstown.
—Dan Russell Award (desk pen set) to Joe Quintana of Bryan in recognition of academic achievement and self-support while in school.
—Sociology Club Awards to faculty members and former students for contributions to the department's sociology program. They were Donald Barker, Education and Psychology Department, and Reagan Brown, Dee Kutach and Jerry Crider of Marble Falls, club past president.

Food Service Department Self-Sustaining Operation

By GUS DeLaGARZA
Battalion Special Writer
"We pay our own way. We receive no appropriated funds for operation. The only funds we get come from the student board fees and limited food sales."
This was recently revealed by Fred W. Dollar, Food Service director, who said the Food Service Department is almost a self-contained unit of operation.
The Food Service Department has its own bakery, maintenance shops, butcher shops, procurement section, administrative section as well as its primary activities menu planning and food preparation.
"We even own and pay for the operation of the vehicles used for various things."
No free foodstuffs are received by the Food Service Department from the University or anywhere else, Dollar said. The department buys several items such as milk, some beef, eggs, ice cream and cottage cheese that the University has available.
In addition, the department pays for its own insurance and added structures (modifications and improvements) such as the remodeled cafeteria and the air conditioning in Sbsa Hall.
Student board fees and limited food sales support all these vital activities, Dollar remarked. Limited food sales come from the Memorial Student Center cafeteria which is also under the department. The Food Service Department even has to pay rent to the MSC for the space used for cafeteria operation.
"Since the student board fees support the Food Service Department, we take the attitude that everything we do is done for the student," Dollar said.
"This may seem harsh in terms that the student does not get what he thinks that he should get."
"If we worked for anybody else, we defeat our purpose — student satisfaction is our goal."
With this idea of working for the students, the department seeks to improve each phase of management to better pay its way, Dollar said.
There is no profit objective per se, but the department wants to accumulate money for further improvements, he added.
"To show a profit we must try to reduce costs."
In investigating further reduction of costs, the department has taken a survey asking other schools about board fees, number of feeding facilities available, type of feeding used and the caloric value of the menu, Dollar said.
"If we find one that is doing a better job, we will try to duplicate or exceed our present method."
"The idea is to change our ways to the best."

PROGRAMMERS

TRW needs you. Centuries ago the thinking of Galileo, da Vinci, and Newton was thought heretic by many of their contemporaries. But, the test of time has seen such thoughts develop into the technologies of today. Now, in recent time, computer applications through scientific programming have so accelerated the process of problem analysis that the thoughts of today have become the designs of tomorrow.
At TRW, we have taken important strides in advancing technology through the use of computer applications. In Houston, adjacent to NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center (the home of Apollo), and at Redondo Beach near Los Angeles International Airport, several hundred skilled TRW programmers are applying their brain-power to further advance the capabilities of computers and computer sciences.
