After Scrimmage Session
'Kids Were Trying'—Stallings
 By GERALD GARCIA
 Battalion Sports Editor
 "The kids were trying and that is the important thing, but we are still a long way from Georgia Tech," commented Texas A&M head football coach Gene Stallings after the Aggies completed their first scrimmage of the spring drills Thursday.
 Stallings said the Aggies, which play Tech for their first game in the fall, had a long way to go but that he could not really tell until the coaching staff reviews films of the scrimmage.
 The scrimmage, held in chilly weather in Kyle Field, saw the first offensive unit score two touchdowns on consecutive 80-yard drives against the second defensive squad, while the first defensive unit held the second team offense scoreless.
 "Offensively we stopped ourselves," Stallings said. "We would start a drive and miss an assignment, leave a block too soon or drop a pass."
 Stallings plans to send the Aggies through the second scrimmage of spring drills Saturday. Saturday's drill will start at 3 p.m. and the scrimmage will begin about 3:40.
 Running the first offensive team was Harry Ledbetter, last year's No. 1 quarterback. Ledbetter directed both drives, climaxing the first with a four-yard run by Bill Sallee. Ledbetter scored the points after on a sneak.
 Others on the first offensive team were Tommy Maxwell and George Walker, split end; Donald Koehn and Maurice Moorman, tackle; Gary Kovac and Jack Pyburn, guards; Jim Singleton, center; Ed Breding and Mark Weaver, tight ends; Wendell Housley, and Lloyd Curington, wing back; Dan Schneider and Glenn Lindsey, fullback; and Sallee and Ken Caffey, tailback.
