English Department Places 3 Assistants

Three Department of English graduate assistants have been placed for next year, Dr. John Q. Anderson, department head, has announced.

Daniel D. Mast of 416 Milwaukee, Bryan, has accepted an assistantship to begin a doctoral program at the University of Arizona.

Alan C. Love of 416 Tauber, College Station, will teach at San Antonio Junior College.

Gerald V. Ellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foister Ellison, 2411 S. Buchanan, Amarillo, will teach at Southwest Missouri State College.

of the Equine July 11-13 at Stresa, Italy.

The veterinarian will present a paper on new research findings on equine infectious anemia, or swamp fever in horses.

Moore's invitation to the conference is in recognition of his research on infectious anemia. A&M is the only place in the world which has developed highly reliable tests for the disease in horses.

Student Architects Return From Trip

A team of graduate urban and regional planning students from the School of Architecture returned to the classroom this week after a 10-day tour of Mexico.

Joseph McGraw, director of the Department of Urban and Regional Planning, said students explored the influence of culture on the formation of Mexico City and other metropolitan areas of the country.

The planners helped Mexico welcome President and Mrs. Johnson in Mexico City. They visited Acapulco, Cuernavaca, Taxco and Guadalajara.

Publicity Director To Speak Here At Education Meet

A former newspaperwoman and radio programmer will represent the National School Public Relations Association in Texas A&M conferences for educational administrators in June.

Dee Preusch, director of professional development for the NSPRA, has been with the NEA departments since 1956. She served as director of publications for the last six years.

The public relations woman will take part in the June 13-15 conferences at the Memorial Student Center, delivering three addresses and introducing another speaker.

Miss Preusch went into weekly and daily newspaper advertising and promotion after serving as principal of a small elementary school in Kansas. She has done radio programming and book publication work, as editorial assistant for Prentice-Hall Publishing Company before joining NSPRA.

She took her bachelor's degree at Kansas State University and studied counseling psychology at George Washington University.

She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, public relations society of America, and the Educational Press Association, and holds honorary memberships in Phi Kappa Phi and Psi Chi.

Miss Preusch will speak to the Texas School Administrators Association June 14 and will lead two discussion groups on communication services of NSPRA.

As professional development director of NSPRA, she coordinates chapter development and services, supervises the PR personnel clearinghouse, works with association state representatives and education institutions and is managing editor of publications circulating a million copies each year.

New Member Added To Police School

Stephen H. Clack, 33, formerly a Texas Department of Public Safety instructor in Austin, is a new member of the Police Training Division here.

Clark's employment was announced Tuesday by Wallace Beasley, coordinator of police training for the Engineering Extension Service.

The new instructor began work this week. He is teaching in a police school at Big Spring.

Geology Prof To Lecture Here

Dr. John C. Harrison, associate professor of geological sciences at the University of Colorado, will lecture here Tuesday.

"Gravity Measurement Off the Coast of Southern California" is the topic of his 7:30 p.m. talk in room 105 of the Geology Building, announced Dr. Davis Fahquist, geology professor.

Hirsch Attends Concrete Seminar

Dr. T. J. Hirsch, head of structural research in the Texas Transportation Institute, presented a paper on "Prestressed Concrete Piling" at a seminar in Portland, Oregon, Wednesday.

The seminar was sponsored by Oregon representative of the Prestressed Concrete Institute.

The paper deals with the subject of dynamic behavior of piling during driving. Hirsch is supervisor of a research project on piling behavior which is sponsored by the Texas Highway Department and U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads.

Vet To Attend Equine Conference

Dr. R. W. Moore of the College of Veterinary Medicine will participate in the First International Conference on Infectious Diseases
