Institutes Receive $65,000 Grant

A Department of Health, Education and Welfare grant of $65,000 will be employed jointly by three Texas A&M agencies for a 10-week summer institute, Dr. Frank W. R. Hubert, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, has announced.

"Statistical Methodology for Education Research" will be instructed in the institute from June 6 through Aug. 12.

The Institutes of Statistics and Human Resources and the Department of Education and Psychology will conduct the institute, Hubert added.

Faculty includes Drs. D. G. Barker, Education and Psychology; Dr. D. Drew, Data Processing Center; W. A. Luker, Human Resources, and R. J. Freund, H. O. Hartley and J. G. Darroch of Statistics. Hartley is institute director, Luker associate director.

School Director To Teach Course

Mrs. Sue Loew of Bryan Public Schools is one of six visiting professors to teach courses in the Department of Education and Psychology this summer.

The Bryan Schools director of art will teach a four weeks special course in elementary school art education, announced department head Dr. Paul Hensarling.

Other visiting professors include Dr. Jeannette Piccard, balloonist and flying enthusiast who is a consultant for NASA, Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston; Dr. L. V. McNamee, Baylor, Dr. Fred L. Mahler, Sam Houston State; Dr. Clifton Harris Jr., Houston Baptist College, and Mrs. Betty Coody, Lamar State College.

Alcoa Foundation Awards Grant

A $5,500 grant from the Alcoa Foundation was awarded to A&M Wednesday by H. F. Chrisco, works manager of the company's Rockdale smelter.

The funds will be used to support four $750 undergraduate engineering scholarships and a $3,000 graduate fellowship in chemical engineering.

The foundation also presented two tons of foundry ingot for use in the Department of Industrial Education.

Educators Attend Conferences Here

Three nationally known educators attended two days of conferences with Department of Education and Psychology officials.

The educators offered suggestions for improving A&M's doctoral program, Dr. Paul R. Hensarling, department head, indicated.

THE COLLEGE PRESIDENT: HIS CAUSE AND CURE

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married, picketing—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to Prexy.

(It is interesting to note that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are always called "Trixie." Associate professors are always called "Axy-Pixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

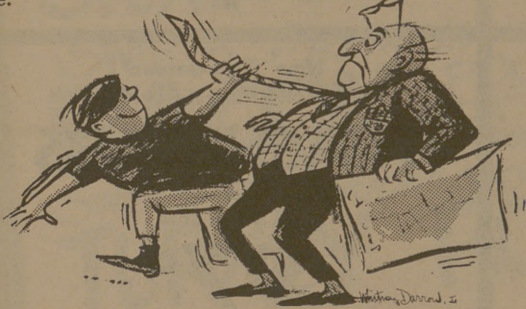

But I digress. We were speaking of Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. Why pathetic? Well, sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsome group in the entire college—delightful you, the students.

It is Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He can only gaze wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how? It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry gaily, "Heigh-ho, chaps! Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your drear and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you, sir."

"For me?" he will say, lowering his lids. "You shouldn't have."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this is a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and whenever I think of you..."

"Why, hey?" he will ask curiously. "Because, sir," you will say, "though you are no longer a young blade, still you gleam and function. Full though you are of years and lumps, rheumy though your endocrines and flaccid your hamstrings, still you remain sharp, incisive, efficacious."

"Thank you," he will say, sobbing. "So it is with Personna," you will continue. "Naturally you expect a brand-new blade to give a close, speedy shave. But how about a blade that's had hard and frequent use? Do you still expect a close, speedy shave? Well, sir, if it's a Personna, that's what you'll get. Because, sir, like you, sir, Personna is no flash-in-the-pan. Like you, sir, Personna abides."

He will clasp your hand then, not trusting himself to speak.

"But away with gloom!" you will cry jollily. "For I have still more good news to tell you of Personna!"

"How is that possible?" he will say.

"Hearken to me," you will say. "Personna, in all its enduring splendor, is available not only in Double Edge style but also in Injector style!"

He will join you then in the Personna rouser, and then he will bring you a steaming cup of cocoa with a marshmallow on top. Then you will say, "Good-bye, sir. I will return soon again to brighten your dank, miasmic life."

"Please do it," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

Prexy and undergrad, late and soon, fair weather and foul—the perfect shaving companion to Personna® Blades is Burma Shave.® It comes in regular and menthol; it soaks rings around any other lather. Be kind to your kisser; try Personna and Burma Shave.

Associate Education Commissioner To Speak

James A. Turman, associate commissioner of education, U. S. Office of Education, will discuss the federal government's role in education at the 600-member School Administrators and Supervisors Conferences June 13-15.

The former Texas legislator speaks at a general assembly June 15, in the Memorial Student Center ballroom. Turman will be introduced by Texas Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar.

The Bonham native develops and evaluates Office of Education activities in nine regions. He works directly for Commissioner of Education Harold Howe.

The 38-year-old educator went to the White House Task Force-created post from the Bureau of Higher Education staff at Dallas.

Turman was elected to the Texas House of Representatives for four consecutive terms, 1955-

1963, and was also Speaker of the House. During the eight-year period he served on all major standing committees, including the Appropriations Committee.

Remembered for efforts in improving Texas youth educational opportunities, Turman co-authored laws revising the Teaching Certification Standards and Teacher Retirement System. He sponsored legislation raising minimum state teacher salaries.

The East Texas State and University of Texas-educated administrator began teaching at the age of 19. He gained teaching and administrative experience at elementary through university levels.

"Dr. Turman is one of the outstanding young men to come out of Texas," said Dr. Paul Hensarling, head of the Department of Education and Psychology at A&M. "His reputation among teachers and professional people is the best because of his support of public education, especially at the secondary school level."

Son of a tenant farm family in Fannin County, Turman spent his childhood in farm communities near Bonham and attended public schools in Bonham, Gladewater and Gober.
