

Sound Off CADET SLOUCH by Jim Earle

Dear Editor
The Battalion
I jest thought I'd write a short letter to keep you from gettin' lonesome puttin' out the Battalion. I passed by late last night at 10 and saw that the lights were still on so I knows you must be workin' hard to be up that late.

It seems that the only thing I's done this week is writ themes and take quizzes. I jest finished this three page report on the best story I every read, but it wuz really kinda stupid. It's called Romeo and Juliet and it's a great love drama which Shakespeer writ. It's about these two kids, weren't but 13 or 13 1/2 years old, who were crazy about each other. They ended up killin' themselves which didn't make no sense because everyone knows its jest puppy love they's sufferin' from. Shucks, I would have used up my nine lives already if 'n I wuz to kill meself every time I fell for some cute little girl.

Speakin' of cute little girls reminds me of this tall black-haired girl in my 6 a. m. class. She don't come in though until seven, at 6 in the morn because those in fact no one does. I only comes three juniors in my dorm told me to get in good with the teacher I should always be an hour early for class. Course she probably doesn't need no extra help, but I's thinkin' of tellin' her about comin' at 6 to get in good. Then maybe I can take her to the picture show some night.

When I first come to A&M I wuz mad because girls were here, but then those juniors told me they wuz only here during summer school. That makes me feel better because girls kinda make me nervous if you know what I mean. They's always frettin' and fussin' and chasin' boys and I ain't ready to be caught yet. I want to be an Aggie first. I know how those girls chase Aggies. That is all except this girl in my class of course. I can tell she ain't like the rest because her big brown eyes are jest like my squirrel dogs and my great gran-squirrel dogs and my great grandpa (I didn't think he was so hot but my family always calls him great) always sez them thar eyes are jest bustin' out with kindness and faithfulness to his maste.

Well I guess I's better go. My old hands are jest about written out after that theme and all. I'll try to write next week but my teachers are beggin' to keep me after class to rewrite my papers. Those juniors tell me that's a sign they're beginnin' to notice me.

Foreign Enrollment Shows Big Increase

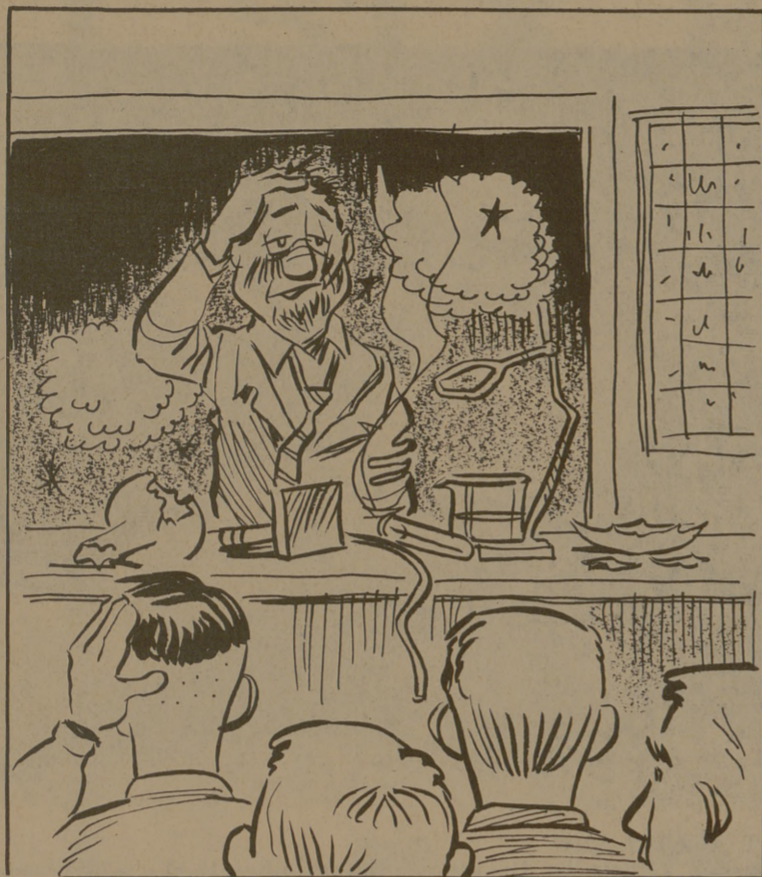

Foreign student enrollment for Texas A&M's first summer session is up 21 per cent over the similar 1965 period.

Among 370 international students are representatives of 52 countries, from Argentina to Viet Nam. India, Pakistan, Tunisia, Mexico, China and the United Arab Republic lead enrollment figures. India registered 54, including 48 graduate students. Enrollment for the first summer term in 1965 was 305.

SHORT SNORTS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that a salvage dealer must, upon demand, surrender license plates and certificates of titles to motor vehicles obtained for scrap disposal, resale or any sort of salvage.

Texas Supreme Court ruled that Texas Highway Commission may dispose of unused right-of-way and that land does not revert back to original owner.

"... there's no need to carry this experiment further—th' principal involved is apparent. . . ."

State Of The Campus Address

By HERKY KILLINGSWORTH

My fellow students. As we pause here during the middle of our term I feel it is necessary to reestablish my present policies both here in our beloved school and abroad. A new term will soon be upon us and indeed if I am to stay in school I must reaffirm my decisions and also clear up the nasty rumors concerning my roommates, Lani Byrd, Lennie Byrd, and Larry Canary.

With the heavy burden of Chief Student upon my hands I seldom have enough time to spend with my roommates. When I am in College Station, Lani Byrd is in Bryan; when I am in Bryan he is in Mexico running about the country yelling "Beautifico, beautifico" which translates out to be "Beautify," "Beautify."

And Lennie Byrd has her head up in the stars. She spends more time in Hollywood than she does at home in the Big Apartment. It seems like it was only yesterday that he was graduating from college and now look at him. Back again for more. I am proud of his Aggie heritage although there are times when I wish he wouldn't "let George do it."

I find it necessary at this time to clear up a rumor concerning Larry Canary. He is not going to buy the Principality of the Vatican City. This is an uncivilized stab in the back started by members of our opposing party school, TU. People like that shouldn't be allowed in school for they only blacken the good name of students everywhere.

When together in the Great Apartment, ours is a happy family. Of course our dog "It" isn't around anymore. Darn those pesky squirrels. Dean Mac Marrow is sending over a committee to exterminate them from the Great Apartment Walls, but I am sorry for it is too late for "It." We carried the mangy mutt back to our Bryan Penthouse and buried her next to her puppyhood playmate, Rubber Bone.

My fellow Aggies I only wish that my roommate problems were as simple as my school problems. The North Professors unfortunately are still presenting scenes distracting my home attentions and I fear that I may soon have to make a policy concerning this matter. Meantime I will continue as always and keep supplying them students to fail until it is my turn to go before them. Until then, I shall continue to "let George do it."

Also, we are having problems right here within the boundaries of our own University. Dissention and segregation is blackening our true Aggie Heritage of share and share alike. Of course everyone knows of the problems of which I speak. I speak of the coeds now attending our institution which are runing the fine Aggie tradition of our past. I plead with you to accept them. They are a part of our heritage dating back to Eve and even closer to home, Mrs. Baird. Falter not when you see one pass by but lift your head to the flag and remember that they are necessary in the continuance of our fellow students.

These school problems are major problems indeed and problems which I will carefully ponder during the remainder of this term and into, I hope, the next term also. Along with Dean Mac Marrow and Senator Ninikid Kandy, we will do what we feel will best aid this University and help it to continue being the land which our forefather, General Lawrence (?) Sullivan, intended. In the future we will study more major problems such as the economic condition I am now undergoing in my new decrease in allowance, new fund raising drives in the name of Incoming Tacks (Texas Aggies Campus Kops Sanctuary) to make up this economic problem, and possibly those problems concerning our schools abroad such as Baylor, Rice, and A&M Consolidated.

I hope you will continue to back me throughout my term as Chief Student and I will do my best to support your faith in my roommates and I. Until then, Lani Byrd, Lennie Byrd, Larry Canary, and I will lift our heads to the old red, white, and maroon and sing that old freedom hymn we learned way back when, The Aggie War Hymn. I thank the fellow Americans.

(This has been an unpaid political announcement and written for the expressed purpose of fun.)

Mortimer's Notes

Howdy! Following are my comments for the week:

If you missed the dance at the Memorial Student Center last Thursday, you missed something . . . Tom Morgan, the man in charge of the affair, reported the dance was a complete success . . . He also reports The Riptides from San Antonio will play June 30 for another student dance . . . The admission for the June 30 dance will be $1 per person . . . Morgan said dances will be scheduled during the summer and to watch for a night swimming dance party . . . More details on the swimming party will be announced later.

Aggies are always trying to help with something . . . Well, Don Allen, chairman of the Student Senate Welfare committee, is directing a special summer blood drive for the Wadley Blood Foundation of Dallas . . . Allen wants this drive to be a community drive not just an Aggie drive

. . . Any person interested in donating blood should call the Student Program Office of the MSC. Reports from Austin has it that several members of the Texas Liberal Democratic party are disappointed that Texas A&M does not have political clubs on campus . . . Leaders of the organization said they will look into the situation and that they will try to get some results . . . Political clubs have long been an issue on campus . . . The Student Senate has favored allowing the clubs on campus but university administrators have balked at the Sen-at demands.

Actors are still needed at the Fallout Theater-Workshop . . .

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Benjamin Franklin once said, "If a man could have HALF his wishes, he would double his troubles."

See Ya 'round—

Help A Teenager

Are you interested in the welfare of the teenagers in Bryan-College Station this summer? Ask the average teenager his most pressing problems during the summer months—the odds are he will mention the need for something to do and the desire to have a job.

The Texas Employment Commission solicits your pledge to give summer jobs to Bryan-College Station teenagers. There is no fee to the boys and girls or to the employer for employment in this program.

Perhaps you know of jobs outside of your firm that would be available to these boys or girls of 16 to 21. Suggested tasks are yard work, ranch work, house and garage clean up, clerical, typing, stenography, car hops, sales clerk, package delivery, service station attendants, child care, swimming pool sitters and hand bill circulation. You can help these young people by having them help you in your vacation periods in business and in your home.

We will accept requests for jobs of any duration—three hours to three months. All job applicants will be screened and only qualified youngsters will be sent to you for the job you have to offer.

Call the Texas Employment Commission at 822-0136 today.

The teenagers of Bryan-College Station want to help you; will you help them?
