Dyke Appointed Library Head

Dr. James P. Dyke of Eastern New Mexico University, was appointed director of libraries and professor, Tuesday by Texas A&M's Board of Directors. Dyke comes to A&M Sept. 1 to fill the post vacated by Robert A. Houze who became head librarian at Trinity University.

The 45-year-old librarian has 20 years of professional experience at Hardin-Simmons University, the University of Oklahoma, the University of Illinois and Eastern New Mexico.

The Breckenridge, Tex., native served as a B-24 pilot during World War II. He earned his BA in library science from Oklahoma in 1946, his MS from Illinois in 1950 and Ph.D. in 1957.

Spache To Speak Here On July 8

Reading consultant and psychologist Dr. George D. Spache (pronounced like "speech") will speak on problems in public school reading programs Wednesday at Texas A&M.

Area educators and the public may attend the 8 p.m. lecture in the Architecture Building auditorium.

The NDEA Reading Institute speaker is president of Reading Research Services at the University of Florida. He is past president of the International Reading Association.

"We are fortunate in having Dr. Spache," said Dr. William H. Graves, institute director. "He guides our perspective in designing sound elementary school reading programs."

The U. S. Office of Education-financed institute attracted 35 elementary principals and supervisors to A&M. It is sponsored by the Education and Psychology Department.

Spache performed undergraduate and advance work at New York University, acquiring the Ph.D. in 1937. He taught and was psychologist at several New York state schools and agencies. Prior to NYU psychology instruction, Spache was an industrial consultant.

Campus Briefs

Hesstvedt To Give NSF Address Tuesday
Norwegian geophysicist Dr. Egil Hesstvedt will deliver an NSF Summer Institute address Tuesday at Texas A&M.

The meteorology professor at the University of Oslo will speak on "Secondary Education in Norway" at 8 p.m. in Room 146 of the Physics Building.

Hesstvedt chaired the Oslo Geophysical Society two years and holds membership in the Norwegian Geophysical Society. He instructed in the Scandinavian Air Lines System and was professor at the University of Stockholm.

Cloud physics, composition and circulation of the atmosphere up to 100 kilometers are his primary research interests.

Review Needs Student Help

The Texas A&M Review, campus magazine for the College of Liberal Arts, is soliciting short stories, features, fiction, jokes, poetry and other material written by A&M students and faculty members. Publication cannot be guaranteed, but the utmost consideration will be given to all material. Material should be sent to:

Visitors Crowd Campus, Official Greeter Says

Visitors streamed onto campus in June, Official Greeter P. L. (Pinkie) Downs Jr., announced.

Downs reports 6,411 persons attended short courses, conferences, class reunions and other scheduled meetings. This number included 628 freshmen who pre-enrolled, plus 648 mothers and fathers.

The university has hosted 1,071,933 visitors since Downs began keeping records 17 years and 1 month ago. He estimates they spent $22,511,853 in the community.

Largest single group to visit Aggieland in June was the Texas 4-H Roundup, with 2,000 participants. Smallest was 12 for a gasoline engine seminar.

Twenty-eight groups comprised the total visitors, Downs noted.

Ingram Leaves Food Service

John Ingram, food service manager of the Memorial Student Center and Duncan Dining Hall the past year, left Texas A&M Tuesday to take over food service operation at the James Connally Institute in Waco.

The retired Navy food technologist came to A&M from a private concern in California.

"John has done an outstanding job at the MSC," Fred Dollar, A&M Food Service Department director, said. "He leaves with our regrets but with our best wishes."

Ingram takes over the Connally service immediately, though his first meal won't be served until Sept. 1. Hiring personnel, equipment installation and food purchases will require his attention.
