Howerton Joins Police Division
Roland R. Howerton, retiring Fort Worth assistant chief of police, is a new member of the Police Training Division for Texas A&M's Engineering Extension Service.
Howerton, who logged 36 years on Fort Worth's 548-man police force, will continue to live in Fort Worth, but will teach special courses throughout Texas A&M's TEES in juvenile officer training, supervision and criminal law for policemen.
The Travis County native was chief of police at Fort Worth from 1951-53. He headed that city's police academy from 1953 to 1960 and was in charge of operations as assistant chief. Howerton joined the force as a patrolman May 1, 1930.
No newcomer to A&M sponsored schools, Howerton has taught at police schools at College Station, Arlington and Big Spring. A graduate of Pilot Point High School, he attended Texas A&M.
A past president of the Texas Police Association, Howerton is third vice president of the National Associates of Texas. He attended the 13th session of the FBI National Academy in Washington.

FINDING GOD IN NATURE
Down in Louisiana there's a spot which casts a spell of reverence upon my soul.
But what I have found along the bayou I have seen, too, in the awesome might of a granite peak, in the mystic wonder of a shadowy canyon. I have heard it in the restless symphony of the surf at night.
These, the shrines of nature, are God's hint of a spiritual meaning in life.
But, long ago, man responded to God's hint. The churches in which we worship and learn and serve—these are the workshops He inspired. Week by week, year by year, under the hand of the Master, lives are being fashioned to His blueprint . . . devoted to His purpose.
Yes, we can find God in nature! But the road of spiritual discovery only begins along the bayou. It goes on from there to our highest quest.
