

Federal Test Applications Due Oct. 19

Applications for the Federal service management internship test to be administered Nov. 19 must be filed by Oct. 19, Placement Director Wendell R. Horsley has announced.

Leading to junior executive positions in the federal government, internship examination passage qualifies candidates for special training. Most management intern positions are in the Washington, D. C., metropolitan area with other opportunities available in various parts of the country.

A general test of verbal abilities and quantitative reasoning requiring 2½ hours will be administered in the Placement Office, followed by a two-hour intern exam on administrative problems and public affairs. Test prerequisites require completion or expected completion within nine months of a four-year course leading to a bachelor degree.

Candidates passing the written test in November will be interviewed during the week of February 13, 1967.

Candidates for management intern will take the additional test Jan. 18, 1967.

A part of the Federal Service Entrance Examination, the internship test may qualify candidates for a wide variety of Federal agencies in geographical locations. Over 200 kinds of positions are filled through the examination. It is, in effect, one application to many employers at the same time. Several thousand appointments are made each year with a limited number of over-seas positions also filled.

Many kinds of training programs are conducted by Federal agencies to help their employees develop themselves. Among these programs are such career positions as personal management, general administration, economics and other social sciences, social security administration, and management analysis.

Many other positions are available through The Federal Service Entrance Examination (FSEE) bulletin. Other dates for application and examination are also shown in the bulletin, available at the Placement Office in the YMCA.
