Aggies Focus On Tigers After Win Over Raiders

A smiling, relaxed Gene Stallings walked into yesterday's weekly press conference and said: "We needed one."

And one the Aggies did get. In fact, it was a convincing win over Texas Tech, 35-14.

Right after his opening remark, Stallings focused his attention to LSU, A&M's opponent this week.

"They (LSU) are tough, big, strong and can really hit you in defense," the Aggie boss said. "They've got some good personnel and their pass defense is very good because they drop back a lot of folks."

Even though LSU graduated some players from last year's team which beat Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl, Stallings still thinks the Tigers returned excellent players.

"Anybody that beats Arkansas has got to be good," he continued.

Stallings said only safety George Walker and halfback Lloyd Curington would definitely be out of the LSU game with injuries. Walker is suffering from an ankle injury and Curington, who was hurt in the Georgia Tech game, has a leg injury.

All other Aggie personnel will be ready for the game, even though several players are nursing slight injuries.

"We have a couple of players that will not get much work this week because we don't want them to aggravate their injuries," Stallings said.

Stallings thought the Aggie defensive unit improved over the Tulane game, but still figured more improvement was necessary. He did single out good play from Ken Lamkin, Rolf Krueger, Grady Allen, Harvey Aschenbeck and Tuffy Fletcher.

On offense, Stallings said the line blocked well and the backs looked good. Guard Gary Kovar and tackle Maurice Moorman graded well, while backs Edd Hargett, Bill Sallee and Wendell Housley also played good.

The Aggie boss didn't mention any personnel changes. When asked if there were any, he just shrugged his shoulders. This could mean that there will be some or that he will go with the same team that "Made Something Happen" against Texas Tech.

TEACHER WAS NEPHEW OF PUPILS

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — Not many teachers faced the problem confronting Samuel S. Smith when he began teaching in a one-room schoolhouse at Little Poplar Grove.

Among Smith's 40 students were three of his aunts, two uncles and a sister.

"None of my relatives seemed to know what to call me," he said. "So usually they didn't call me — they just came after me."

Fish To Open Campaign Against TCU Wogs Tonight

By GARY SHERER

The Aggie Fish, with perhaps the best crop of talent in recent years, open the 1966 campaign against the TCU Wogs at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Fort Worth.

Fish Coach J. A. Helms is hoping to improve on last year's mark of one win and four losses.

"We have shown steady improvement in our practice sessions but we won't know how much until the first game," Helms said. "The players have a good attitude, perhaps the best I've seen."

So far in practice games with the varsity reserves, the Fish have looked good. Offensively, Barney Harris, quarterback, from San Antonio; Ross Brupbacker, halfback, from Lafayette, La., and Jimmy Adams, weak end, from Houston Waltrip, have impressed. On defense, Winston Beam, middle guard, from Odessa and tackles Lee Roberts from Alpine and James Selvidge from Tyler have shown promise.

"Pre-game notices on TCU look pretty good and we expect a tough game," Helms added.

The game will open the 24-game Southwest Conference freshman football schedule.

Texas Christian is hoping to continue where they left off last year. Last year the Wogs were undefeated in five games.

Two standouts for the Wogs are halfbacks Bub Deerinwater and James Vanderslice, from Wichita Falls.

Wogs coach Fred Taylor has fielded a 51-man squad for this year's freshman team. He figures the Aggies, Baylor and Texas are the teams to beat but has an optimistic outlook for his team.

The game will be played at Amon Carter Field with a crowd of 25,000 expected.

Helms is expected to start Adams at weak end, Terry Brewster at weak tackle, Mike Smith at weak guard, Mike Stinson at center, Rusty Stallings at strong guard, Joe Shaw at strong tackle and Ronald Rudloff at strong end.

The backfield will consist of Harris at quarterback, Brupbacker, at strong back, Larry Stegent at weak back and Bruce Kempf at fullback.

On defense, Robert Kirehner and Walter Mohn at ends, Roberts and Selvidge at the tackles, Beam at middle guard, Jimmy Piper at rover, Gary Gruben and Bill Gilliam at linebacker, Mark Moseley and Brian Christen at cornerback and Danny McBride at safety.
