Science Academy Names 7 Profs

Six Texas A&M faculty members and a retired faculty member are among 148 persons listed in the Texas Academy of Science's Visiting Scientist Program for 1966-67.
Supported by the National Science Foundation and industrial organizations, the Visiting Scientist Program is designed to improve science and mathematics education by making free services of professional scientists available to junior and senior high schools.
Dr. Addison E. Lee, TAS program director, said visiting scientists discuss current knowledge in scientific fields with students and teachers.
A&M faculty participants include Dr. Richard J. Baldauf, acting Wildlife Science Department head, in zoology; Dr. William S. McCulley in mathematics; Dr. A. F. Isbell in organic chemistry; Prof. Coleman M. Loyd in physics; Dr. Bruno J. Zwolinski in physical chemistry; and Dr. Aylmer H. Thompson in meteorology.
Dr. C. C. Doak, A&M professor emeritus of biology, is listed in biology. The retired professor lives in College Station.
A replacement is to be named for the late Dr. Isaac I. Peters, an A&M dairy science authority in the program.

STORM

Liam Burns, Dean Letzring, Everadus Vos, Carl Wood, Donald Koelsch, Augusto Bresba, Anton Vos, Alfred Gutierrez, and Dr. Guy A. Franceschini.
THE FINDINGS of Cruise 14 in the western Gulf, when all the data is compiled, will be compared to other material which has been gathered in the same area by Dr. D. F. Leipper, also of A&M. In this manner, a complete comparison will be made of the water masses in the western part of the Gulf of Mexico before and after the destructive forces of a hurricane.
