

Equipment School Faculty Grows

Arthur Hoover of Houston has been named an instructor for the Texas A&M Heavy Equipment School for City of Houston employees.

Alvin Jones, chief instructor of the A&M Engineering Extension Services Heavy Equipment Division, announced Hoover's employment.

The 31-year-old Hoover has taught power mechanics and industrial arts subjects at Houston's Sam Houston High School for three years and has several years' experience in diesel engine mechanics.

Hoover is a graduate of Southeastern, La., State College and is working toward a master's degree at Sam Houston State College. He is married and has two children.

Jones said Hoover will continue his residence at 9917 Aldine-Westfield, Houston.

TEES is operating a six-month training program for 118 City of Houston employees in operation of heavy equipment.
