The Texas A&M Parachute Club will give a sky-diving exhibition Saturday on the C. E. Field, in the northeast corner of the campus.

They will perform various free-fall maneuvers at 3 and 3:30 p.m., jumping from an altitude of 8,000 feet.

Parachuting is the ultimate expression of self-dependence, according to Buck Irving, junior aerospace engineering major and member of the A&M Parachute Club.

"Since its conception in 1961, more than 10,000 jumps have been made by club members," he said.

The club, an official school organization since 1962, has won three national intercollegiate championships, in 1963, 1965 and 1966. The club placed second in 1964.

"Actually parachuting has a different meaning to everyone who has jumped," Irving said, "but the club offers the experience to anyone who wishes to try."

One member found it hard to describe his first jump. "I just kept thinking it will all be over in a moment," said Skip Thomas, electrical engineering major.

Mac Kendrick, veteran of 73 jumps, describes parachuting as an "art and a sport."

Membership in the club is open to everyone in the Bryan-College Station area. Meetings are every Thursday night after yell practice in the Gay Room of the YMCA. Anyone unable to attend these meetings but wishes to join may contact Dave Burrus in Dorm 10-425; Terry Garrett, Dorm 18-227, Irving, Dorm 19-305 or Kendrick, Dorm 4-310.

HAPPY LANDING
Buck Irving lands right on a predetermined target as he practices for future competition.

It happened while I was hiking in the mountains . . . suddenly I came into a clearing and saw the crumbling foundations of what had once meant shelter and protection for a pioneer family. Rugged mountains surrounded the decayed dwelling on three sides. But in front there opened a panorama across a valley which in all its beauty held me spellbound.

I turned and noticed a small old-fashioned rose bush which seemed to reminisce with yesteryear beside the moldering stoop. I could feel the presence of those long-ago people. How they must have loved this place. The woman had tended flowers and vegetables here, had borne her babies and had helped her man carve a life from the wilderness.

What was their secret . . . these pioneer people? Where did they find the courage and confidence needed to face the privations and dangers of primitive living? God was their refuge and strength. Their love of Him illumined their lives, and goodness graced their days.

Just so today, God and His Church are the source of all bounty, greatness, and joy. They are yours for the asking.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
