Absentee Voting Benefits Student

Surveys indicate that the majority of Texas college voters—over 50,000 strong—have a definite preference for one of the senatorial candidates in the coming election.

However, because most students are registered to vote in their home towns and are away at school in November, it is necessary for them to vote absentee. Students think voting absentee takes extra time and trouble and many never get around to casting a ballot.

One week from today is general election. Many public officials are up for re-election and any of them would give their right arm for 50,000 votes, as would their opponents.

Students are always demanding more voice in society, and what could be a louder than a vote cast. Any student eligible to vote may receive an application for a ballot by merely stopping by the county clerk's office in the Brazos County Courthouse. With a five-cent stamp, he can cast his ballot without returning to the place where he registered.

An Open Letter To Friends of Mike Richards;

That famous AGGIE SPIRIT became reality to our family the night of Mike's accident. The hospital lobby was filled with Aggies offering help and concern. Mike joins us in thanking all of you who offered and gave blood, and all who assisted in every way. Your many expressions of friendship have been a constant comfort for us at this time of great stress. May God bless and keep you.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick T. Richards Editor's Note:

Mike is the Aggie injured last week in a one-car accident on FM 60. We are happy to report that he is now out of danger and recovering steadily.

Abe Lincoln Says

In reply to the letters published by Paul F. Gunner on (10-25-66), R. L. Singletary, and F. A. Tice on (10-26-66). The sudden thought of what Abe Lincoln once said occurred to me. He said, "United we stand divided we fall." I feel the same is true about this great university of ours as was true of this great nation of ours. Sure the Corp of Cadets was here first but so were the Indians. I am not advocating abolishment of the Corp of Cadets. What I am advocating is that the Corp of Cadets and Civilians take pride in TEXAS A&M first and stand together as Aggies have in the past, and hopefully will in the future, instead of always degrading one another. Remember an Aggie is an Aggie whether non-reg or military.

A 'Fish' Privilege

I have always wondered why "Fish" at Texas A&M have not been given the privilege to think, but after reading Fish Gunner's letter in the Oct. 25, 1966, issue of The Battalion, I know.

I do not know whether Fish Gunner realizes it or not, but a little better than half of the athletes here at Texas A&M are not in the Corps. I suppose these men are not considered Aggies by him either.

The points expressed by Don Coker in the Oct. 27, 1966, issue of The Battalion are, in my opinion, of very sound judgment and he speaks from experience.

What points I have left out, he did not.
