SHARON MIGUES
"It's tremendous that SCONA began here and speaks well of the University and students." Mary - Hardin-Baylor College.

BILL CATES
"I've been very impressed with the people and things here. The student hospitality especially impressed me." West Point.

KAREN HARPER
"I'd heard about A&M and the Corps review was beautiful and the campus is pretty." University of Arizona.

RALPH GIPSON
"One thing I noticed was the "thank you" sign for your football team. The school spirit here must be very high." University of Alabama.

JAVIER GUERRERO
"People are very friendly. we met the president of the college and have received good hospitality from the Corps and civilians." University of Mexico.

SCONA Delegates Give Impressions

Statements varying from "Where are the girls?" to "And those boots..." were some of the answers given by SCONA delegates to the question of what was their first impression of A&M. In a random survey, a dozen SCONA delegates were asked to comment upon their opinion of A&M after arriving on campus Wednesday. Members of the delegation from Mexico were impressed by student friendliness and that they were able to meet the president of the university. After seeing the Corps Review, one female delegate simply remarked, "It's really cool!" Nearly everyone said something about the friendliness of A&M students. As two representatives from the Naval Academy put it, "That's the big thing."

Christmas 'House Party' Planned For A&M International Students

The Aggie Christian Fellowship, in cooperation with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, is organizing a contingent of international students at A&M to attend a "Christmas House Party" at a Colorado ski lodge Dec. 19-26. Tom Wright, ACF secretary, said a meeting of those interested in attending has been set for 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Gay Room on the second floor of the YMCA building. The purpose of the meeting is to explain details of the project and arrange for university transportation if necessary. The Inter-Varsity Fellowship, an interdenominational Christian organization on university cam-
