

Christmas Spirit?

It is a shame that many A&M students who wish to express the Christmas Spirit on campus by decorating their dorms or rooms are curtailed by some students who delight in tearing down or defacing such attempts.

Students in one dorm erected a decorated tree above their entranceway. It stood only several days before being maliciously torn down. Signs or posters on campus are subject to theft or defacement constantly, regardless of their importance or value.

Christmas is a time of sharing and it should apply to our campus as well as our off-campus life.

Aggies have a reputation for being respectful of others and it should certainly be evident at this time of the year.

Holiday Housing Arrangements Set

Housing Manager Allan M. Madeley yesterday emphasized the importance of early housing arrangements for students planning to stay on campus during the Christmas holidays.

"All dormitories will be closed and locked at 6 p.m. Friday," Madeley explained, "except dormitories 13 and 22 and ramps E, F, G and H of Walton Hall."

Madeley made the announcements in a Housing Office memorandum to the student body.

"Any student who will have difficulty clearing his dormitory by the time indicated for it to be locked, because of transportation or other problems, should contact his dormitory counselor for arrangements," the announcement continued.

"STUDENTS other than those living in dormitories 22 and 13 and ramps E, F, G and H of Walton who will need accommodations at any time during the holidays should contact students in these areas concerning use of their rooms," Madeley continued. "Dormitory 22 will be available during the holidays only to students currently assigned there."

"To secure a room," Madeley explained, "A student must obtain a signed note of permission from all occupants of the room he expects to occupy in the areas listed, and must bring this note to the Housing Office by 5 p.m. Friday."

Students living in those areas who expect to remain in their rooms during the Christmas holidays must report to the Housing Office and sign for their room in order that they may be located if need arises. No extra fee will be charged to those signing up for the holidays.

"Any students, including permanent occupants, found living in one of the dormitories left open, who have not registered with the Housing Office on the holiday roster or any students found in one of the locked dormitories without permission, will be subject to disciplinary action," Madeley warned.

Young Republicans Ask For Lifting Of Political Club Ban

A resolution asking for the removal of political club bans on college campuses was passed recently by the Texas Young Republican Federation.

Copies were sent to the A&M Board of Regents, President Earl Rudder and James P. Hannigan, dean of students.

The resolution said, in part: "Whereas these organizations (campus political clubs) have the official sanction of college administrations as campus clubs, in both state-supported and private institutions . . .

"Therefore be it resolved that the . . . Texas Young Republican Federation urges the board of Directors of Texas A&M University to reverse the current ban of political organizations from the Texas A&M Campus . . ."

A copy of the resolution was also sent to the state Young Democrats meeting, in the hope that they would also adopt the resolution.

The adoption of the resolution was announced Monday night at the meeting of the A&M Young Republicans at the Presbyterian Student Center.

Guest speaker for the session was Becke Doyle, member of the University of Texas Young Republican Club.

She spoke on the history of the Texas Young Republican Federation. The organization was formed in 1960, and consists of 120 member clubs with almost 10,000 members.

Sound Off

The Editor,
The Battalion,
Dear Sir:

While participating in the Computer-Match Debate Tournament on your campus this weekend, I happened to read your excellent editorial on student strikes against the war in Vietnam. It was one of the finest expressions of opinion that I have read in any college publication and you are to be strongly commended for your honest and forthright stand.

In addition, the debaters from the various schools participating were unanimous in their praise of the helpful and friendly attitude of the A&M student body in showing those of us who were strangers our way around.

Sincerely yours,

Don't just sit there, Wallace Middendorp. Make a noise. Or drink Sprite, the noisy soft drink.

WALLACE MIDDENDORP SAT HERE

What did you do when Joe (Boxcar) Brkczpluj was kicked off the football team just because he flunked six out of four of his majors? What did you do, Wallace Middendorp?

And when the school newspaper's editors resigned in protest because The Chancellor wouldn't allow the publication of certain salacious portions of "Night in a Girl's Dormitory" you just sat, didn't you? You've made a mockery of your life, Wallace Middendorp!

Protest, Wallace Middendorp. Take a stand. Make a noise! Or drink Sprite, the noisy soft drink.

Open a bottle of Sprite at the next campus speak-out. Let it fizz and bubble to the masses.

Let its lusty carbonation echo through the halls of ivy. Let its tart, tingling exuberance infect the crowd with excitement.

Do these things, Wallace Middendorp. Do these things, and what big corporation is going to hire you?
