

MSC To Add Color Printing To Darkroom

The Memorial Student Center Camera Committee adds color capability to its darkroom layout next month, announced President Ken Reese.

The color photo printing equipment, capable of producing prints up to 11 by 14 inches in size, will be installed in Darkroom D on the third floor of the MSC. The committee utilizes four six-by-six foot rooms for black-and-white photo printing, one of which will be converted to color.

Major items in the $750 color setup is a Kodak color processor, Omega D2V enlarger and voltage regulator. Reese said the equipment, purchased on bid from Southwest Camera of Houston, will arrive in mid-January and be in operation by Feb. 13.

Odin Clay, color consultant of Southwest Camera, will instruct committee members in use of the color equipment in a February meeting. Clay was a judge for the 1966 Southwest Intercollegiate Photo Salon sponsored by the committee.

MSC maintenance personnel will install plumbing for the processor, Reese said.

He noted that the three B&W darkrooms will be equipped with new equipment, including focusing enlargers, tanks and trays.

The camera committee meets on the second and fourth Mondays each month. Only a Jan. 9 meeting is scheduled this month.

Consultant Gives Lecture Monday

Cuthbert Daniel, a leading consultant in application of statistical methods to industrial problems, will give a Graduate College Lecture Monday at Texas A&M University.

"The Fitting of Equations for Industrial Data" is the topic of Daniel's 4 p.m. presentation in the School of Architecture Auditorium.

Daniel earned a master's degree in chemical engineering at MIT and did additional graduate work at Harvard and Berlin universities. He taught chemical engineering for several years before becoming a private consultant.

For his work in design of experiments and multiple factor problems, where he made notable contributions to theory and practice of fractional factorial experiments, Daniel was elected a Fellow of the American Statistical Association, the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, and the American Association for Advancement of Science.

At A&M, Daniel also will make a series of seminar lectures Jan. 10-13 in Animal Industries and Plant Sciences. He will be honored at an informal coffee at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in room 102 of the Data Processing-Statistics Building.
