Mop Hairstyles Bring New Image

Those who decry the mop top hair styles of today's youth fail to consider some underlying implications of the luxuriant coiffures.

In the 1950's those who looked with distaste upon the greasy duck-tail fad possibly had some reason for alarm. A tough kid in duck-tails looked like he could do damage, because he looked distasteful.

But consider a young man of 1967. He walks down the street with his locks blowing in the wind, bangs hanging coquettishly down to his eyebrows, purple shirts with charreusse polka dots, checked skin-tight pants, and shoes with high heels. Brigitte Bardot should look so tough.

He may not look like John Wayne, but then he doesn't look like Jack the Ripper either. The only drawback is twenty years in the future. How will he explain the hair curls in the attic to his son?

IE Department Receives Gauges

Precision measuring equipment used in critical manufacturing operations has been presented to the Industrial Engineering Department at Texas A&M by Fred B. McKimball, president of Southwestern Gauge Company of Dallas.

Valued at $4,500, the equipment includes micrometers of various types, electronic, lens and 'go-no go' type gauges. The equipment, installed in the department's quality control laboratory, will be used in quality control courses and any instruction involving physical measurements, noted D. A. W. Wortham, department head.

"This equipment is adequate for illustrating almost all precision measurements of manufacturing operations, even in very precise military parts and surface finishes," Wortham said.

"It gives us probably the best equipped quality control lab in the Southwest," he added.

Band Association Elects Officers

Former Texas A&M band members have elected officers and ratified bylaws of a newly formed Texas Aggie Band Association.

Tom Murrach of San Antonio, president of the Jefferson State Bank and a 1928 A&M graduate, was elected president of the 1,200 members association, an organizational committee announced today.

Other officers elected in the mail ballot are vice president W. T. Riedel, superintendent of A&M Consolidated Schools; secretary Joe Buser, Former Students Association, and treasurer Dr. Martin McBride, veterinary public health instructor at the university. All reside in College Station.

Association members include any former student of A&M who was a bandsman. The association was formed to assist the Aggie Band, Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, bandmaster, and band objectives. General membership meetings will be held every two years at time and place fixed by the executive committee.

Capurro To Visit In Mediterranean

Dr. Luis R. A. Capurro of Texas A&M, president of the Scientific Committee on Oceanographic Research, will attend meetings in the Mediterranean area and assist in equipment tests off the California coast during the next month.

Dr. Capurro, a research scientist in A&M's Oceanography Department, will be at Scripps Institute at LaJolla, Calif., Jan. 16-21, for sea trials of equipment to measure deep sea tides. The instruments were designed by Scripps and French scientists.

The A&M scientist will represent SCOR at an Intergovernmental Geographical Commission bureau and consultative meeting at Monaco Jan. 30-Feb. 2. Dr. Capurro, as SCOR president and advisor on scientific matters, will sit in discussion of sea water pollution, air-sea interaction and problems connected with cooperative oceanographic expeditions throughout the world.

The native of Buenos Aires and Argentina Navy officer will preside at a SCOR meeting in Jerusalem Feb. 6-11. Sponsored by the Israeli Academy of Sciences, the meeting brings together SCOR representatives for discussion of topics including calibration of velocity measurements and the physical equation of the state of sea water.

State convention delegates will be elected at a Student Education Club meeting tonight.

The 7 p.m. meeting will be in Rooms 2C and D of the Memorial Student Center, announced President Don Houston.

Seven A&M delegates will attend the two-day Texas Student Education Association convention at Dallas March 2-4.

Education club guests tonight will be members of the A&M Consolidated High School Future Teachers Club. Refreshments will be served.

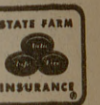

Captain Capurro will speak on "Oceanography from Space," a new research undertaking at A&M, before the University of Jerusalem faculty of humanities and sciences.

AN OPEN LETTER

Hello Aggies,

For several weeks we have been running our advertisement in the Battalion telling you about Aggieband Recreation Center located behind Betty's Fashions in the Redmond Terrace Center, College Station, Texas.

We've told you that we have two five by ten billiard tables, two five by ten snooker tables, sixteen four by eight billiard tables, seven pin ball machines and other games. That we are open 7 days each week from 8 a. m. till midnight. That no alcoholic beverages are sold or allowed. That we sell billiard supplies, jointed cue sticks, etc.

Hundreds of Aggies have visited our Recreation Center, and we believe most of them were impressed. If you have never visited the Aggieband Recreation Center, we hope you will very soon. We believe you will like what you see.
