Super Bowl Teams Plan For Sunday

GREEN BAY
By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers should beat the Kansas City Chiefs in Sunday's Super Bowl because they have the quarterback in Bart Starr to lead the defense to throttle the best-breaking attack of the American Football League champions.

KANSAS CITY
By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the Kansas City Chiefs are to upset the Green Bay Packers in Sunday's Super Bowl game it will take one intangible—motivation—and their three main assets: Size, strength and speed.

The three S's probably are Kansas City's main weapons, but the motivation remains an immeasurable factor as the two teams continue to work out in closed-door sessions for the first clash of the National and American football league champions.

The odds-makers are sticking solidly behind Green Bay, but in AFL circles they're figuring the Chiefs can pull off the upset on the following basis:
Motivation
Jerry Mays, the Chiefs' defensive captain, probably expressed it best when he said: "There are two motivations in this game—No. 1, the Packers pride to prove their reputation is justified; No. 2, the underdog role. We're the underdogs—the poor kids from across the tracks coming across to play against the rich kids who've had everything their way."

Size and Strength
Physically the Chiefs are as big—if not bigger—than any other team in pro football, and considerably more so than the Packers.

The Kansas City offensive line, for example, has such behemoths as Jim Tyrer, the 292-pound left tackle and Curt Merz, the 267-pound right guard. Green Bay's biggest are a pair of 250-pounders, tackles Bob Skoronski and Forrest Gregg.

Defensively, the Chiefs' front four is massive compared to Green Bay's, with 6-foot-4, 252-pound Jerry Mays and 6-6, 230-pound Chuck Hurston at the ends and 6-7, 287-pound Buck Buchanan and 6-3, 266-pound Andy Rice at the tackles.

Green Bay can't match that. As a matter of fact, counting offensive linemen, the defensive front four and the linebackers, the Chiefs are bigger at 10 of the 14 positions.
Speed
The names are Otis Taylor and Mike Garrett, and they're the threats Green Bay will have to stop. Taylor, a sophomore flanker, gained 1,297 yards on 58 catches this season while Garrett, a rookie running back, gained 801 yards for a league-leading 5.5 average.

The two are the core of the Chiefs' strike force and have the breakaway speed that the Packers can't match offensively.
Neither one is about to predict how they're going to do but maybe Taylor expressed their feelings best when he said:
"I'm not saying I'll catch 10 passes for 100 yards, but I will say I'll catch passes. Herb Adelerley is a great cornerback, but sooner or later—no matter how great they are—you can catch passes on them."

Providence College Star Leader
NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Walker of Providence strengthened his hold on the college scoring race over heralded Lew Alcindor this week, National Collegiate Athletic Association statistics showed Thursday.

The flashy Friar scored 73 points in two games last week to increase his point-a-game average to 31, compared to Alcindor's 29.7. Walker's edge the week before over the UCLA center was 29.90 to 29.87.

Bob Lloyd of Rutgers was close behind Alcindor at 29.3. However, Alcindor had no trouble retaining his field goal percentage lead at 69.1 per cent. Barry Geraghty of Loyola of New Orleans was second at 67.1. Another of the nation's top centers, Westley Unsel of Louisville, maintained his rebound lead with 22.2 a game, almost one more than Dick Cunningham of Murray State, 21.3.

Steelsmith Is Early Leader At San Diego

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Steelsmith, a hungry young Californian who hasn't made enough money in the past two years to keep himself in tees, shot a seven-under-par 64 Thursday for a one-stroke lead over Randy Glover in the opening round of the San Diego Open, launching golf's winter tour.

The 31-year-old Steelsmith, who said he was on the verge of quitting the tour to go to work, knocked in an eagle and six birdies with a phenomenal putting exhibition around the 6,738-yard, par-71 Starbust Country Club course.

Glover, a pro since 1961 who never has won a tour tournament, also scored an eagle with a four-wood approach and a 25-foot putt on the 493-yard 10th hole and sank putts of 40 and 25 feet for a second-place 65.

Three players were tied at 66 in the field of 147, which found the course easy despite tricky winds. They were former PGA champion Bobby Nichols of Louisville, Ky., Gay Brewer of Middletown, Ohio, and an obscure New England teaching professional, Dan Keefe of Chatham, Mass.

The tournament's two biggest names, PGA titleholder Al Geiberger and U. S. Open champion Bill Casper, were off the pace.

Casper, 1966 professional of the year, who said he hit too many bad shots and didn't putt well, had four birdies and four bogies for a par 71. Geiberger canned six birdies, two on putts of 20 feet for a 69.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the big two of American golf, passed up the tournament.

Other par-breakers included Tommy Bolt, 46-year-old former Open champion, and Lou Grahame, young pro from Nashville, Tenn., tied at 67; a dozen or so bracketed at 68, and close to 20, including flashy Doug Sanders at 69.

Steelsmith, a freckled crewcut who looks like a teen-ager, won only $2,083 and failed to finish higher than 28th in 20 tournaments last year.

"I was getting so discouraged I thought I'd have to quit and go back to work," Steelsmith said. "I haven't played well enough in the past three years even to be exempt from qualifying."

He remained on the tour only through the intercession of his close friend, Geiberger, who persuaded two Los Angeles businessmen, Mike McKeon and Gene Eichler, to sponsor him.

Today, the earth. Tomorrow, the moon. What next? Even twenty years ago we would have found it hard to accept the idea of man going out into space—landing on the moon—consorting with the stars—hurting around the earth. What will things be like twenty years from now, and what will we accept then?

Living on the threshold of the space age, it is easy to be carried away by the stranger-than-fiction events that happen every day. Because of this, we need more than ever the steady force of the Church in our lives. No matter what happens, we may be sure that the Church will continue to endure as it has through the centuries. God's House will be with us in all its majesty, as will His word.

Even the astronauts themselves have shown again and again that the Church is a deep part of their lives. Be sure to make and keep it a part of yours.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
