

3 Ag Specialists Head For Dominican

MARRIAGE

will continue for the next three weeks in an attempt to inform the students on the problems of marriage. These programs will present information that is meant to help the student both before and after marriage.

The next forum will be March 1 when Dr. Henry Bowman will discuss, "Sex in Human Relations—Premarital".
On March 7 Bowman will return to discuss "Sex in Human Relations—Marital."

The last forum will be March 14 when Dr. Bardin H. Nelson will discuss "Marriage Outside Your Faith."

Three agricultural specialists heading for assignments with the Texas A&M-Agency for International Development contract group in the Dominican Republic are in orientation at A&M.
Larry Vest of Tolar will complete 22-week orientation and language program next week. He will join the contract group as poultry science advisor, announced Dr. Jack D. Gray, International Programs director.
Vest was assistant county agent at Port Lavaca. The Tolar High School graduate earned B.S. and M.S. poultry science degrees at A&M in 1964 and 1966.
Eldorado farmer Jene Moore will complete orientation March 15 to become administrative assistant in the Republic. He was awarded the M.S. in agricultural education at A&M last year. The 1947 animal husbandry graduate will be accompanied to the Dominican Republic by his wife, who is presently enrolled at the University of Michigan.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Murphrey and their three children will depart for Santo Domingo after the orientation program June 1.

Seagoville High School graduate took bachelor and master degrees at A&M in 1948 and 1953 and has done work on a Ph.D. at Michigan State. Murphrey taught vocational agriculture at Seminole 10 years.
The International Programs personnel are studying Spanish in advanced language training, technological change methods, cultural adjustment problems and economics of underdeveloped countries in the Modern Languages, Sociology and Economics Departments.

Expert On Russia To Keynote Industrial Teacher Conference

Dr. Marshall L. Schmitt, an authority on Russian polytechnic education, is keynote speaker for the 20th Industrial Teacher Conference here this week.

general sessions, group meetings and discussions covering design techniques, public relations, industrial relationships, manufacturing and specialized courses for uncommon students.

The industrial arts specialist of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare will address more than 500 conference participants Friday night on "The Agony of Getting Anywhere." The meeting begins Thursday and continues through Saturday.
The conference consultant was selected a member of a three-man team to study polytechnic education in the U.S.S.R. in 1959.

Brazosport School District teacher T. L. Bay will preside at TIAA general membership, executive committee and board meetings.

Industrial arts teachers from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and day conference sponsored by the Oklahoma will attend the three-Texas Industrial Arts Association and A&M Industrial Education Department, notes Dr. Leslie V. Hawkins, conference director.

The Texas Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education, Texas College Industrial Arts Association and Iota Lambda Sigma fraternity will meet in conjunction with the conference.

Featured speakers include Wayne F. Comer, assistant director of corporate industrial relations for Ling-Temco-Vought; W. A. Mayfield, Texas Education Agency industrial arts consultant; Dr. Chris H. Groneman, A&M industrial education head; and Dr. Reagan Brown, A&M extension sociologist.
"A Positive Approach to Industrial Arts" will be explored in Carol LaFerne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Laferney of Somerville, Texas, and received her diploma from McKenzie - Baldwin Business College for successfully completing the Secretarial Course. She is marrying William Hill, Jr. also of Somerville on the 4th of March and will move to Robert Lee, near San Angelo, where her future husband is in business. Carol is looking forward to employment with the Civil Service.

Sandra Sue Rice is the daughter of Mrs. A. S. Rice of Iola, Texas. She enrolled for the Stenographic Course at McKenzie - Baldwin Business College and also for the IBM Key Punch Course and received her diploma for completing both courses with above average grades. She is now employed in the Agricultural Education Dept. at A&M University.

It's trade-in time for tired old myths.

Like the one about business. Especially big business. That it is beyond the rugged individualist's wildest daydream to enter this holy of holies because he'll lose something that's very sacred - like his independence.
Sure, it can happen. If a guy or gal wants to hide, or just get by, or not accept responsibility, or challenges.
We're not omniscient enough or stupid enough to speak for all business, but at a company like Western Electric, bright ideas are not only welcome, they are encouraged. And no door is shut. Create a little stir, go ahead, upset an old applecart (we replace shibboleths at a terrific pace - we have to as manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System - in order to provide your Bell telephone company with equipment it needs to serve you.)
There's an excitement in business. True, we're in it to make a profit, but working to find new and better ways to make things that help people communicate is very rewarding and satisfying. Did you ever hear these wry words of Oliver Wendell Holmes? "Never trust a generality - not even this one."

That's how we feel about the generality that claims you'll just become a little cog in a company like Western Electric. You might, of course, but if you consider yourself an individual now, odds are 10 to 1 that you'll keep your individuality. And cherish it. And watch it grow. Even at big, big Western Electric.
You know, that's the only way we'd want you to feel. If you feel like coming in with us.
