

Track Trimeet Here Saturday

The Rice and Louisiana State track teams will be at Kyle Field Saturday to compete in a triangular meet with the Aggies.

ONE BIT of bad news for the Aggies occurs on the eve of the meet. Randy Matson, A&M's world-recordholding shotputter will not compete in the shotput event. It was revealed Wednesday that strained ligaments on the top of his throwing hand will prevent him from competing in his specialty.

Matson, however, will compete in the discus. The Pampa athlete points out that throwing the discus does not pain the injured hand. Matson's next competition in the shot will come at the Texas Relays March 31-April 1.

With Matson not competing in the shot, his meet record of 63-9 probably won't be challenged. Several other of the trimeet records, however, could fall.

ONE GOOD bet for a new record is Rice's Tommy Moore. Moore, who is the Southwest Conference 440-yard medium hurdles champion will be out to break the trimeet record of 52:7, set by LSU's Billy Hardin in 1964. Moore won the SWC meet last year in 52.5.

"It should be a real good meet because Rice and LSU have some real good runners and we have a few too," Aggie Track Coach Charlie Thomas noted. "There should be six or eight meet records broken."

Thomas spoke of Rice's Dale Bernauer, who has done the 100-yard dash in 9.4 (the meet record is 9.5 by ex-football All-America Billy Cannon in 1958). Rice's Conley Brown will be the favorite in the 440. He has a 46.5 quarter-mile to his credit this year. LSU has a speedy pair of twins, Rusty and Carl Hight who both do the 100 in 9.4 and are outstanding in the mile relay.

PROBABLY LSU's biggest attraction is javelin thrower Delmon McNabb. He holds the meet record at 250-1 feet. Last week he tossed 261 feet, so he probably will break his own record. McNabb won't go without competition, as Rice has the SWC javelin champ in the person of Ricki Jacobs. His best is 235 feet.

Thomas is looking for a good performance from hurdler DeWard Strong. The Aggie sophomore will compete in both the 120 and 440 hurdles. He will get his biggest competition in the 440 hurdles from SWC champ Moore. Thomas looks to a good match between the two.

Another interesting match will be between A&M's John Heffner and Rice's Steve Montoya in the three-mile run. Thomas noted that Heffner ran 20 miles both Monday and Wednesday in preparation for the event.

"JACK WHITE is looking good in the 440," Thomas said. He pointed out that White has run a 48.5 and he should be able to improve on that mark.

Thomas said both Rice and LSU have outstanding sprint and mile relay teams and he hopes that the Aggie entries in the event can give a good performance.

The meet will begin at 2 p.m. The tracksters' next competition will be in the Corpus Christi Invitational March 25.

Seven Advance In Rice Tourney

HOUSTON (AP)—Seven of eight seeded players advanced Thursday to the quarterfinals of the ninth annual Rice University Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament.

Fourth seeded Ted Gorski of Texas was the only seeded player to lose in first day action.

Gorski, the defending Southwest Conference champion, rallied to defeat Danny O'Bryant of Trinity, 4-6, 8-6, 6-3, in the first round but was defeated in the second round by Pierce Kelley of Tulane, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Top seeded Vincente Zarazue of the University of Corpus Christi beat Lee Kantrow of Tulane, 9-7, 6-2 in the first round; defeated Leo Laborde of Texas, 6-1, 6-1, in the second round; and whipped Colin Robertson of Oklahoma City, 6-2, 6-1.

In Thursday's quarterfinals, Zarazua meets Connor; Nitsche meets Langre; Seewagen meets Howard; and Keldie meets Benavides.

The semifinals also are scheduled Thursday.

Aggies At Houston Monday To Kickoff Week On Road

The Aggie baseball nine begins a big week of activity Monday, facing the University of Houston Cougars at Houston.

HOUSTON HAS many of its football players toiling on the baseball club. Bo Burris, the Cougars starting quarterback, is a regular outfielder, as is another footballer, Tom Paciorek. Coach Lovette Hill's charges are now 4-1 on the season after two straight wins over Lamar Tech earlier this week. As the Aggies have an All-America ballplayer in Lou Camilli, the Cougars have outfielder Ike Lucas, who also was honored as an All-America last season.

Houston has had some good pitching from righthander Wayne Hill, who probably will get the starting nod Monday.

AT THIS EARLY date, Aggie Coach Tom Chandler doesn't know who will start for the Aggies. It just might be Tommy Chiles. The Shreveport, La., senior has been nursing a sore shoulder so far this season and Chandler would like to get him into some action.

As mentioned, the 3 p.m. Houston game will kickoff a big week of action for the Aggie nine.

Thursday they will play the first of three games in San Antonio. The Aggies will meet St. Mary's of San Antonio in that game and Friday and Saturday will take the field against the Minnesota Gophers' touring team.

RONNIE MILLS has the best earned-run average at the seven-game mark of the season. The sophomore from Pasadena has not given up a run in 4 1/2 innings and two appearances. Rocky Thompson is runner-up at 1.25 for 21 1/2 innings.

Bob Sanders has the best record at 2-0 and is way ahead in strikeouts, with 14.

The Southwest Conference released its first baseball statistics this week and Texas Christian has the top batter and pitcher.

Frog shortstop Parke Davis is the top season hitter with .583 mark, while Mickey McTear has a 3-0 record and an ERA. McCarty will be remembered from last Saturday's game when the Aggies stranded 11 runs in the 6-5 junior escaped with shutout.

AGGIE CATCHER Joe Star is the number-five hitter in the SWC, at .455.

League play stats are kind large, as only two games have been played by each team. An example of this is that Baylor Rickey Head has an .875 batting average on 7 for 8 in two games. Star is third here at .571 and Ed Schwartz is seventh at .500.

Aggie shortstop Mike Arntson is enjoying a good year. The plate thus far, at .333. Good-hitting shortstop seems to be the trend in the SWC this year. TCU's Davidson, as mentioned, is leading the league hitting and Baylor's Rickey Head is also connecting well. Ed Billy Costa completes the hitting shortstops.

All the Aggie road games this week will be carried by KOB.

Grapefruit League Baseball Roundup

The Chicago White Sox increased their record to 6-1, best among major league baseball teams in exhibition games by walloping the Houston Astros 11-3 Thursday.

The Sox slammed four home runs each by Dick Kenworthy, Elia, Pete Ward and Tom Agee. Jim Wynn and Norm Miller connected for Houston.

The Boston Red Sox and New York Mets also had on their hitting clothes. Boston, trailing 1-3, scored 10 runs in the eighth and won 23-18. Joe Foy and George Scott had four hits apiece for the Red Sox.

Rookies Jim Shellenback, Knoch and Doc Ellis limited Baltimore to three hits as Pittsburgh recorded a 6-0 victory. In other games, Atlanta downed the New York Yankees 6-4 in 16 innings. Cleveland beat the San Francisco Giants 6-2, Detroit beat Cincinnati 6-3, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs trounced California 7-1.

The Washington-Los Angeles game was rained out.

Tony Taylor's single drove two runs, highlighting a three-run rally that carried the Cubs to their victory over the Cardinals.

The Cubs erupted for six runs in the seventh in breaking a deadlock with the Angels.

COME TO WHERE THE ACTION IS

Engineers joining Trunkline Gas Company this year will start to work immediately as members of an engineering and managerial team responsible for a $55,000,000 expansion program -- the eighth such major expansion by the company in as many years. These expansions have made Trunkline one of the leaders in the nation's sixth largest industry -- natural gas transmission.

Trunkline Gas Company offers career opportunities for engineers in design of pipelines and compressor station facilities, fluid flow studies, selection and testing of engineering equipment, development of prototype equipment and feasibility studies. June and Summer 1967 engineering degree candidates are wanted for career employment and a limited number of 1968 graduates will be interviewed for summer employment.

Engineers joining Trunkline Gas Company receive salaries and benefits comparable to the best in American industry. And they join a system with a tradition of growth and an unlimited future in the exploration, production, refining and transmission of petroleum, chemicals and helium--Fuels for the Space Age. All openings are in Trunkline's modern office facilities in Houston, Texas--the most dynamic city in the great Southwest.

Mark this date on your calendar.

MARCH 28, 1967

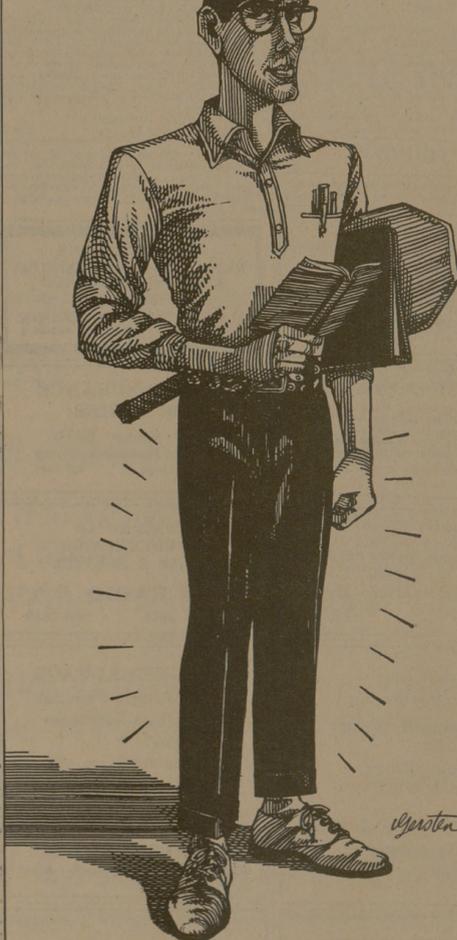

A Trunkline Gas Company representative will be on your campus that day. Contact your Placement Office for interview appointments. If you are unable to meet with the Trunkline representative you may arrange for an interview by contacting:
