Offense Wins Tuesday Match
 By GARY SHERER

The seventh spring football practice session Tuesday afternoon saw the offense pull even with the defense in a short scrimmage on Kyle Field.

Head Coach Gene Stallings and his staff pitted the "maroon" offense and defense against each other in a sustained drive session. The ball was set on the five-yard line and the offense had to move the pigskin out to the 25 or sustain the ball for two first downs.

The spirited scrimmage was the highlight of the two-hour workout as the defense stopped the offense on the first series of downs.

On the next two series, the offense, led by Edd Hargett and Wendell Housley moved the required 20 yards both times.

On the second play of the first successful series, Housley took a handoff and circled left end for 14 yards and cinched the offense of making the 25. On the last series, the defense led by Grady Allen pushed the offense back to the 2-yard line where it was their down and eight to go.

Hargett faded back and hit sophomore Barney Harris, who was running at wingback Tuesday, with a 14-yard pass. Then, behind the blocking of Maurice Moorman and Rolf Krueger, Housley got the rest of the yardage and the offense went to the showers with a good night's work under their belts.

The rest of the scrimmage was taken up with the first team units going against the second and third team groups.

With the exception of the spring training and Tuesday's golf and tennis matches, this week at A&M is slow for sports activity until this weekend when A&M spring athletic teams get back into action.

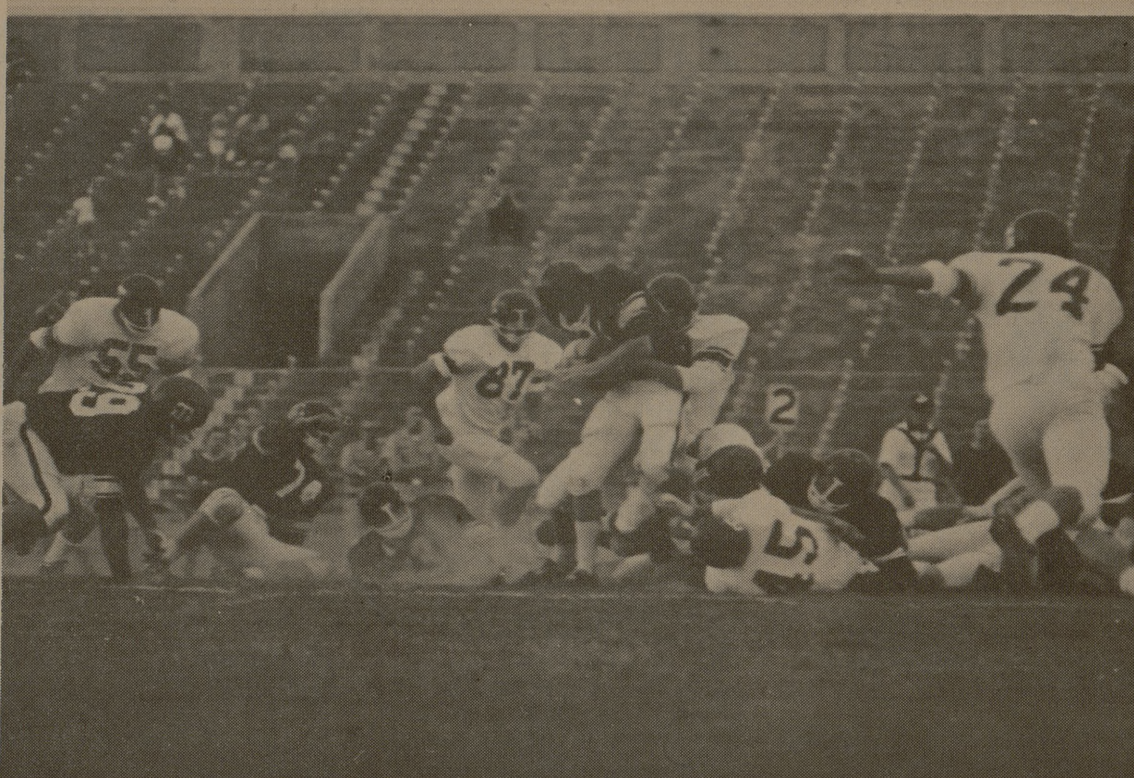

The track team, led by Randy Matson, will be at Des Moines, Iowa, for the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

The Drake people are looking forward to the event, as it is a foregone conclusion that Matson will draw a big crowd after his electrifying performance on "Randy Matson Day" at Kyle Field this past Saturday.

Southwest Conference baseball will resume this weekend with all SWC representatives in action. The Aggies will be in Waco for a two-game stand with the Baylor Bears. The Aggies, at 5-6, still have an outside chance for the title. Baylor, however, is 3-8 and have been eliminated from title contention.

This fact will tend to make the Bears loose and they will be trying to thwart what chances the Aggies have for the SWC crown. The Aggies have to win all their remaining games if they are to stay alive in the title picture.

This weekend and next is all that is left for Aggie spring sports for the '67 season. Along with the track and baseball team action this weekend, the golf, tennis and fish baseball teams also will be in competition.

 The Southwest Conference golf championship came closer to becoming the sole possession of the Texas Aggie linksters Tuesday as they blasted the Rice Owls, 5 1/2-1/2, in Houston.

The second-place Baylor Bears remain in contention with the Aggies and a match between Baylor and Texas Christian was supposed to clarify the conference standings, but rain forced postponement and the match has been rescheduled for today.

Against the Frogs, if the Baylor squad garners two points or less, the conference title will automatically go to the Aggies.

If the Bears score more than two, the links championship will be decided Saturday on the A&M golf course in a head-to-head encounter between Baylor and A&M.

TENNIS
 A 6-0 defeat at the hands of the University of Houston tennis team earlier in the season was revenged Tuesday by the Aggie netters on the A&M courts as they downed the Cougars 4-2.

In the number one singles match, Pete Faust of A&M beat Ed Livsey 6-4, 7-5. A&M's Joe Tillerson defeated Don Sampson 6-4, 6-2 and Marcus Beleck of A&M downed Larry Brownstein 6-3, 6-3.

The only singles victory for Houston came as Byron Tankersly edged Terry Smith 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

In doubles Faust and Tillerson beat Livsey and Tankersly 6-4, 6-2. Brownstein and Sampson took the second match from Beleck and Smith 6-1, 6-2.

Friday the Aggies host Texas Christian for the final match of the year before the Southwest Conference meet.

 The Aggie Fish took two matches from the Houston freshmen as Dwight Howard defeated Chip Shirley 6-2, 6-0 and Bruce Crumley beat Shannon Blackwell 6-4, 6-0.

The Fish are now 10-2 for the season and play the Texas freshmen in Austin today.
