

CADET SLOUCH by Jim Earle

"He's takin' it hard! He's been studying a week for a final exam and just found out he's been studying th' wrong notes!"

Sunday Is The Day

This Sunday is the day that someone usually too busy will offer to do that trivial task normally left for "Mom."

This Sunday is the day that sons and daughters recognize the fact that "Mom" usually cooks more than 1095 meals, washes more than 100 loads of laundry and cleans "that messy room" more times than necessary during the year.

This Sunday is the day that "Mom" gets: those cards she says are "sweet;" the candy she doesn't "need;" new house shoes that are her "favorite color" — but a size too small — and a little more attention than she admits she deserves.

This Sunday is the day that "Mom" remembers the time when those "college kids" of hers were only learning to walk. "Could it be so long ago?" She asks herself. "It seems like only yesterday when I sent them off to their first day of school."

This Sunday is the day we remember her for all the times she saved that spider in the P. O. box from starvation with a letter from home. Also for those words of consolation and encouragement after that grade report's surprising "D" — along with all those "F's".

This Sunday is the day that "Mom" is thanked in many ways for seeing her son through A&M and remaining firm when that son had first thoughts of attending "that other school."

This Sunday is the day we stop and say—"THANKS MOM."

Mrs. Chaney To Head Wives' Council

Mrs. Glenda Chaney will serve as president of the Aggie Wives' Council for the school year 1967-68.

Mrs. Chaney, wife of Thomas Chaney, senior Architectural Construction major, was elected at the last regular meeting of the council Monday. She represented the Associated General Contractors Wives Club.

Other officers elected for the year are: Mrs. Pat Reeves, vice-president; Mrs. Dee Koch, secretary; Mrs. Sylvia Garcia, treasurer; Mrs. Cheryl Callaway, reporter; and Mrs. Angelyn Basinger, parliamentarian.

The council is composed of the president and an elected representative from each of approximately thirty Wives Clubs and co-ordinated activities of these clubs. The annual "Mrs. Texas A&M" contest and dance and numerous charitable projects are sponsored by the council each year.

Mrs. William G. Breazeale and Mrs. Howard Perry, sponsors, were each presented a gift in recognition of their help and advice during the previous year. Both will continue as sponsors with the council.

Swedish Defense Official Visits A&M Police School

Col. Bertil Broberg, head of the Defense Bureau of Swedish Industry in Stockholm paid a whirlwind visit Thursday to Texas A&M's Police Training School. "I'm visiting various parts of the United States to learn more about training security personnel," Broberg remarked. "A number of Swedes have attended police training schools at A&M and were impressed with the quality of instruction."

In his one month tour of the U.S., the bureau director has visited with security officials in Washington, at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida, and with NASA security officers in Houston.

Films Set In Grove

Movies will be available every night for summer school students at the theater in the Grove for free.

"We have finished selecting the programs for the coming summer," Rudolph V. Gomez, Grove manager, said.

"These are some of the finest of both recent and older films made," Gomez claimed.

"John Goldfarb, Please Come Home," "The Prize," and "Father Goose" are three of the humorous films to be featured this summer.

The Grove will also present several classics scattered throughout the season, "Bell, Book and Candle," "The Grapes of Wrath" and "Cyrano de Bergerac."

"Comancheros", starring John Wayne, is just one of the top westerns to play this summer.

The Grove also has one of the largest and finest collections of "tiger flicks" to be found anywhere. "The Guns of Navarone," "Damn the Defiant," "Marine," "Paratrooper," "Cash McCall" and "The Best of Enemies" are just a few.

Admission will be free for all those with current ID cards. For those without cards, the charge will be 40 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

Because of Daylight Savings Time the shows will begin at 8:30 p.m.

A cartoon will also be shown each night.

Student Housing Set For Summer

Unless they live with their families or have "very unusual" circumstances, all male single undergraduates must live on campus to attend school here this summer.

This notice came in a memorandum from University Housing Manager Allan M. Madely and will soon be placed on dormitory bulletin boards.

Dormitories 17, 18, 19, 20, 22, and Walton Hall (Ramps E, F, G, and H) will be open to male students during the summer sessions.

Students living in those dormitories who wish to reserve their rooms may do so May 15-19.

Other students may reserve rooms in those dormitories May 22-June 2.

Further information concerning rooms for the summer session may be obtained either at the Housing Office or by reading the memorandum at the dormitories.

WALLACE BEASLEY, coordinator of police training for A&M's Engineering Extension Service, discussed training methods and gave Broberg brochures and other training materials.

"We don't have security schools for private enterprise in Sweden," Broberg explained. "We hope to establish such schools on national and local levels in the near future."

Broberg, a 30-year Swedish military veteran and general staff officer, has since 1964 headed the bureau which represents the Swedish Employers' Confederation said the bureau, although not a government organization, cooperates closely with government and civilian organizations. War production, general civil defense and security sectors are included in the bureau.

NO NEWCOMER to the United States, Broberg was graduated from the advanced infantry course at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1948.

Saddle, Sirloin Group Sponsors Banquet Tonight

Awards, scholarships and installations will highlight the annual Saddle and Sirloin Club's banquet tonight.

The Annie E. Wilson award will be presented to the outstanding senior in the club, and the Brewer and John Kuykendall Award will be given to the outstanding senior in the Animal Science Department.

The Saddle and Sirloin club will also present awards to the outstanding freshman, sophomore and junior students. The Jack Estes, Jr. and Meat Laboratory Award will be handed to the champion ham salesman at the banquet. Freshman and sophomore judging contest winners also will be honored.

Charley Scruggs, editor of the Texas-Oklahoma-New Mexico-Arizona Edition of the Progressive Farmer, will be installed as an honorary member of the club.

He also plans to talk with security officers in Houston.

He also plans to talk with security representatives at Fort Gordon, Ga., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Hartford, Conn., before flying home.

Asked about his observations in the United States, the official remarked: "I don't feel so tall here. Most people in my country are considerably shorter."

BROBERG IS six feet, four inches tall.

"I'm a member of Rotary International in Stockholm, the oldest Rotary Club in Sweden," he smiled. "The king is an honorary member and visits often."

Photographs from all over the nation will be judged Saturday in the ninth annual Intercollegiate Photo Salon sponsored by the Memorial Student Center Camera Committee.

"The Salon has gone national for the first time this year," Chairman Ken Reese said. Previously the contest was limited to schools in the Southwest area.

The contest is open to all amateur photographers and members of photo clubs in universities and colleges in the U. S.

"We sent out more than 500 invitations this year," Reese said. Last year approximately 200 prints were entered and 125 exhibited. Each entrant can enter a maximum of four prints in either black and white or color.

Photographs will be entered in eight categories: Pictorial, still life, portraiture, news, nature, sports, human interest, and fashion and advertising.

Judging will be in the Assembly Room of the MSC beginning at 9:30 Saturday morning. Visitors are welcome to sit in on the print judging, Reese said.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each of the eight categories, and ribbons will also be awarded for each print accepted for display. A ribbon will be given for the outstanding print of the Salon and a plaque to the outstanding photographer.

After the judging, winning photographs will be displayed in the MSC lounge area for a week.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE FIRST MAN ON THE MOON?

NO, I'M NOT THAT BRAVE

I DON'T THINK I'D EVEN LIKE TO BE THE SECOND...THE THIRD MAN WILL HAVE QUITE A BIT OF RESPONSIBILITY, TOO, AND THE FOURTH WILL HAVE TO KEEP A LOT OF RECORDS...

THE FIFTH MAN WILL HAVE A LOT TO LIVE UP TO BECAUSE OF WHAT THE OTHERS DID AND THE SIXTH WILL HAVE TO WORK HARD AROUND THE MOON-STATION...THE SEVENTH WILL...

YOUR BROTHER IS THE ONLY PERSON I KNOW WHO WANTS TO BE THE FORTY-THIRD MAN ON THE MOON!
