

The Battalion

Volume 61

COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1967

Number 448

Company C-2 Is Winner Of Gen. Moore Trophy

RECEIVES HONOR CHORD

Bob Handley (right), is shown attaching the white honor chord to the uniform of Mike Mann after Company C-2 was named winner of the Gen. George F. Moore Trophy during Sunday's Review.

Squadron 13 Wins Academic Award

By CHARLES ROWTON
Battalion Reporter

Company C-2 won the Gen. George F. Moore Trophy and Squadron 13 won the Houston Academic Achievement Award in Parents Appreciation Day ceremonies at Texas A&M Sunday.

All other awards were made in G. Rollie White Coliseum Sunday, following the presentation of Mrs. Joseph R. Rehmet as Aggie Mother of the Year.

THE GENERAL MOORE Trophy is presented annually to the best overall unit in the Corps of Cadets.

CADET COLONEL of the Corps Eddie Joe Davis of Henrietta received the Reserve Officers Association saber from Col. Stanley V. Rush, AF Reserve. Colonel Rush is president of the ROA Texas Department.

Other awards included the N. S. Meyer-Raeburn Foundation saber to Cadet Lt. Col. Charles M. Berry Jr. of Fort Worth. Berry also accepted the President's Award to the Third Battalion for the highest grades for a battalion-sized unit.

The Fritz Award for the outstanding company commander was presented to Cadet Maj. Ernest M. Hudgens of Lufkin. Hudgens commands Company D-2.

Cadet T. Sgt. Lonnie C. Minze of Houston won the Caldwell Trophy as top noncommissioned officer.

THE DAUGHTERS of the American Revolution Award to the top junior went to Cadet 1st Sgt. Patrick G. Rehmet of Alice.

Cadet Cpl. Arthur B. Lane of Houston received the Federated A&M Mothers' Clubs Awards as outstanding sophomore.

The N. S. Meyer-Raeburn Foundation medal to the top freshman went to Cadet Harry K. Lesser Jr. of Brenham.

The Lullie-Hughey Lane Scholarship, presented to an arts or sciences sophomore, was presented to Cadet Cpl. David M. Scott of Port Neches.

THE DEPARTMENT of the Army Award to outstanding cadets in each class were awarded to Davis, Rehmet, Lane, and Cadet Arthur G. Geistweid of Mason.

Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas D. Edgar of Lake Jackson was the recipient of the American Ordnance Award presented to the top senior selected for assignment in the Ordnance Corps.

Cadet Sgt. Maj. Scott H. Roberts of Austin and Cadet Sgt. Maj. Joseph P. Webber of Waco won U. S. Army Association Awards as outstanding juniors.

American Legion ROTC Awards to Army ROTC seniors and juniors for military and scholastic excellence went to Cadet Col. Robert M. Miller of Bloomington, Minn., Cadet Maj. Pedro Garza of Santa Rosa, Cadet M. Sgt. James L. Vogas of Galveston, and Cadet 1st Sgt. William M. Jacquien of Flemington, N. J.

Cadets Richard J. Hodge of Pledger and John R. Stallings received Sons of the American Revolution Awards as the top Army ROTC freshmen.

THE ARMY Association Award for cadets excelling in military history was won by Cadet Cpls. John C. Abshier of Port Arthur and John W. Groves of Universal City.

Cadet Maj. Ernest M. Hudgens of Lufkin received the Defense Supply Association Award, given to a senior military science student.

Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas D. Edgar of Lake Jackson won the Society of Military Engineers Award for a senior engineering student in military science.

The Air Force Times Award for a senior cadet with outstanding ability and initiative was given to Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas C. Stone of Donna.

The American Legion ROTC Awards to AFROTC seniors and juniors for military and scholastic excellence went to Cadet Col. Arturo Esquivel of Eagle Pass, Cadet Maj. Tommy W. Casey of Fairfield, Cadet M. Sgt. Anthony W. Groves of Universal City, and Cadet Sgt. Maj. Wayne Julian Baird of Big Spring.

CADET CPL. David M. Scott of Port Neches won the General Dynamics Award, presented annually to an outstanding AF ROTC sophomore.

The Sons of the American Revolution Award for leadership, bearing, and all-around excellence went to Cadet John D. White of Pearsall.

Cadet Lt. Neal C. Ward of Pasadena received the Air Force Association Detachment Award as the outstanding aerospace studies senior.

Deputy Corps Commander Robert A. Been of Big Spring won two awards: The Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association Award for the top senior AFROTC cadet in electrical, electronics, or communications engineering; and the Society of American Military Engineers Last-Year ROTC Award for a senior engineering major.

THE NORMAN Beard Award for the outstanding Marine Corps Platoon Leaders' Class student

(See Gen. Moore Award, Page 3)

AGGIE MOTHER OF THE YEAR

Mrs. Joseph R. Rehmet, Aggie Mother of the Year, is shown reviewing the Corps of Cadets during Sunday's Mother's Day ceremonies.

Kirmse To Leave For Vietnam Duty

Lt. Col. George R. Kirmse of Texas A&M Military Science Department departs Saturday for assignment with the U. S. Army in Vietnam.

The officer is in his third year at A&M. He will arrive in Saigon June 23 for assignment with the Military Advisory Command, Vietnam, (MACV) as exchange officer and military advisor on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff.

COL. KIRMSE and his family reside at 1005 Skrivaneck Drive, Bryan. His wife Helen and sons, Brian 14 and Kevin 12, will move to the vicinity of Elberon, N. J.

The Fordham and George Washington University graduate has been an associate professor and officer-in-charge of the basic section in the military science department. His duties under Col. D. L. Baker included public information officer.

KIRMSE, 39, entered the Regular Army in 1951 from Distinguished Military Graduate status at Fordham. The quartermaster officer served in Alaska, Iran and Germany in addition to several stateside assignments, including depot maintenance officer and depot adjutant at Belle Meade, N. J. He was logistical advisor to the Iranian Army Corps and two Army Divisions with the Military Assistance Advisory Group, Iran.

Five Sophomores Named Advisors To Drill Squad

Five sophomore advisors to Texas A&M's 1967-68 Freshman Drill Team will be Richard G. Gonzales of San Antonio, Garrett C. Martin of Mountsideside, N. J., Steve T. Nichols of Farmington, N. M., Michael G. Portie of Vidor and Eugene A. Taylor, Jr. of Fort Worth.

Team advisors Calvin Reese and Maj. Gerald J. Harber announced the appointments.

THE SOPHS will assist senior advisor Jim Vogas of Galveston and junior advisors Michael E. Casey of Houston and Roy D. Lewis of Hurst with drill team preparation for competitions and parades. Advisors design and install manuals and movements the team employs.

Members of the 1966-67 team that won second in the nation against upperclass competition, the freshmen were instrumental in adding 21 trophies to the FDT collection.

Gonzales is executive officer and right guide of this year's team which will march in the Houston Armed Forces Day parade Saturday. Nichols is guidon bearer and Taylor a squad leader.

University National Bank
"On the side of Texas A&M"
—Adv.

Annual Competition Awards Eleven Graphics Students

Eleven Texas A&M students are award winners in the 1966-67 Engineering Graphics Competition for the annual T. R. Spence watch.

Pat A. Wertheim, a freshman geophysics major from Boerne, was judged the best engineering graphics student and presented the watch made possible through the Spence fund, announced Professor L. E. Stark.

CLARENCE E. Carter, freshman industrial engineering major of Bryan, was a second place winner in one of the four competition categories, working drawing.

Other winners of plaques contributed by the Exchange Store were, by class:

Working drawing, first, Abraham Moreno Jr., freshman, aerospace engineering major from Brownsville;

Descriptive geometry, first, Wertheim; second, Harold Jackson, freshman, electrical engineering, Marshall; third, Kwok Fun Tsao, freshman, aerospace engineering, Hong Kong;

LETTERING, first, David Bordovsky, freshman, agricultural engineering, Mart; second, Eric A. Rios, freshman, electrical engineering, Panama City, Panama; third, W. P. Temple, senior industrial education, Houston;

Freehand sketching, first, Bobby W. Davis, sophomore, industrial technology, Waco; second, Temple; third, William L. Moseley, freshman, aerospace engineering, San Antonio.

STARK SAID the awards presentation was videotaped for later showing to freshman engineering graphics classes.

Competition winners are in engineering graphics classes of Dr. James H. Earle, department head; Samuel M. Cleland, Michael P. Guerdard, Paul M. Mason, Richard F. Vogel and Stark.

Mrs. Brashears Is Elected President Of Aggie Mothers

Mrs. W. S. Brashears of San Antonio was elected president of the Federation of Mother's Clubs at Texas A&M for 1967-68.

Thirteen other officers were voted to serve with the mother of two, who comes from a family of 10 Aggies. Mrs. Brashears had six brothers who attended

A&M between 1928 and 1951. Her son, William H., graduated in 1963. Gerry, another son, also attended A&M.

A painting was presented President and Mrs. Earl Rudder at the Saturday morning business session. Rudder said the Larossa still life will hang in the entrance hall of the president's home.

Serving with Mrs. Brashears for the next year will be Mrs. Rudder, honorary president; Mrs. J. C. McLaughlin of Bryan, vice president-at-large who is immediate past president; and vice presidents Mrs. W. A. Prewitt Jr. of Temple; Mrs. John O. McLeroy Jr., Dallas; Mrs. S. T. Sikes, Houston; Mrs. M. E. Hill, Del Rio; Mrs. David Glassford, Fort Worth; and Mrs. J. D. Petty, Groves.

Mrs. Ed Flinn of Tyler was installed as recording secretary, Mrs. C. E. Noonan, San Antonio, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl J. Cantella, Baytown, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Harold Powell, Amarillo, historian.

Bulletin Board TODAY

Agriculture Economics Club will meet in rooms 112 and 113 of the Plant Sciences Building at 7:30 p.m.

THURSDAY

Lavaca Dewitt Hometown Club will meet in room 301 of the MSC at 7:30 p.m.

Waco Hometown Club will meet in the YMCA at 7:30 p.m.

Eight Aggies Win In Photo Salon

Eight Texas A&M photographers placed in the ninth Intercollegiate Photo Salon sponsored by the Memorial Student Center Camera Committee.

STEPHEN L. MCGREGOR of Amarillo won first in human interest with "A Cheap Date." Michael J. Welsh of Houston exhibited second and third place prints in nature and pictorial categories.

Arvie Caughfield of Combes also had a second place ribboned photo and thirds were taken by Donald Scafe of Duart, Ontario; Doug Wade, Amarillo; Raleigh Lawrence, San Antonio; Gary Sherer, Binghamton, N. Y., and Jud Rogers, College Station.

BOB DOONAN of Sam Houston State entered the top print and Darrel Thomas of Texas Tech was judged the outstanding salon photographer.

Other ribbons were won by Sam Houston (six), Tech (six), Monmouth College, Ill., and Thiel College of Greenville, Pa., each one.

Winning and accepted prints are on display in the MSC this week.

Ring Tickets Still Available For Activities

Tickets for the Ring Banquet, available now in the Student Program Office of the Memorial Student Center, go off sale 5 p.m. Thursday.

Ticket sales for the dance will end Friday at 5 p.m.

A package ticket is being offered for couple admission to both the dance and banquet plus two pictures of the couple at the dance at $11.50.

Time periods have been allotted according to blocks of tickets, when couples may have their pictures taken.

The Claude Gordon Orchestra, voted the number one new orchestra in the nation by the American Association of Musicians, will provide the dance music.

"Early ticket sales indicate a large attendance," Terrell S. Mullins, senior class president, said.

Formal attire will be the dress for the dance, but cocktail dress will be appropriate for the banquet.

5% per year paid on all savings at Bryan Building & Loan Assn. Adv.

RV PERFORMANCE

The Texas A&M Ross Volunteers are shown executing part of a precision drill during the Mother's Day Review held on the Drill Field.