Ring Dance Tickets Go Off Sale Today

Today is the last chance to buy tickets for the Senior Ring Banquet scheduled for Saturday night in Duncan Mess Hall. The tickets will be taken off sale at 5 p.m. in the Memorial Student Center's Student Program Office. Tickets for the dance, slated for the same night in Sbis Mess Hall, will remain on sale through 5 p.m. Friday. A special mystery speaker will be featured at the banquet.

"Because of the special nature of his act and of his being widely known, we feel it would be better not to release the speaker's name," Terrell S. Mullins, senior class president, explained.

A package price of $11.50 is being asked for couple admittance to both the dance and the banquet, plus two pictures at the dance.

The banquet begins at 6 p.m. while the dance does not start till 8:30.

Claude Gordon and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. The Gordon orchestra

Council Positions Close On Friday

Applications for three Memorial Student Center Council Committee Chairmanships still vacant must be turned in by 5 p.m. Friday, according to Council President Scott Roberts.

These chairmanships include the Bridge, Talent and Travel Committees.

"Chairmen will plan and direct student programs for each committee's area of operation," Roberts said.

According to Betty Franklin, Council Public Relations director, there have been "only a couple" of applications turned in to date. The Bridge Committee provides opportunity for people interested in bridge to play or learn to play.

The Talent Committee plans the annual Aggie Talent Show and provides the enlistment and presentation of performing student artists enrolled at Texas A&M.

The Travel Committee provides organized student and faculty vacation tours and low cost transportation abroad during the summer.

A minimum over-all grade point ratio of 1.4 is required of all applicants. Applications may be picked up and turned in at the Student Programs Office in the MSC.

Pennies Used To Pay Loan

A sophomore saved his pennies carefully to repay a $20 loan to A&M's Student Aid Office.

Miss Mary Ruth Watkins, a Student Aid Office employee, was surprised Wednesday when the youth produced a sock heavy laden with pennies. More than 400 of the copper coins were among a stack of change the student has saved since January.

was elected the top new group in the nation by the American Association of Musicians.

Times will be allotted according to the ticket numbers when each couple may have its picture taken.

Cocktail dress will be appropriate for the banquet but the dance will be formal.

Agriculture Dean Announces Parks Department Professor

The first and only Landscape Architecture Ph.D. recipient in the U.S., Dr. Clare A. Gunn, has accepted a Recreation and Parks Department position, announced Dr. R. E. Patterson, dean of the School of Agriculture.

DR. CLARE A. GUNN

"Effective August 1, Dr. Gunn will be professor of tourism-recreation development," Patterson said. "He is one of the few researchers in the world studying the many facets of tourism and tourism development to discover their inter-relationships."

"He is best known currently for his theory called 'vacation-escape,' a method of planning regions for tourism-recreation uses," Dr. Leslie M. Reid, head of the Recreations and Parks Department, said.

"The majority of motels and resorts in Michigan have been influenced by his ideas and research results on location, site development, and design. Many of his recommendations have also been incorporated into state and federal recreational planning."

Riot Kills Houston Officer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A rookie policeman died of a gunshot wound Wednesday in a battle between officers and student snipers at Texas Southern University, the state's largest Negro school. Three other persons suffered wounds.

Police said more than 3,000 rounds of ammunition were fired.

While police questioned 488 students arrested during the four-hour dormitory siege, city and school officials sought to discover what led to an outbreak Mayor Louie Welch said amounted to anarchy.

Patrolman Lewis R. Kuba was shot between the eyes as he crouched on the terrace of the Student Union Building during an assault with some 100 fellow policemen on the dormitory from which students were firing guns and hurling crude fire bombs.

Kuba, 25, died about 7½ hours later without recovering consciousness. His widow is expecting their first child and the couple had moved into a new home only Tuesday.

While police questioned the students jamming every available city and county cell, trying to pinpoint the gunmen, Welch met with the Police Chief Herman Short, the district attorney and the school administration.

Later, Welch said he found a total breakdown of communication between students and administration at the 7,000-student school.

"When that happens, you have anarchy, and that's what we had last night," Welch said, promising a full report to Texas Gov. John Connally. TSU is a state-supported school.

The Rev. Marvin Griffin of Waco, Tex., chairman of TSU's board, said he would confer with the governor.

Twelve Honored For Vanity Fair

Six retiring student editors and 12 Vanity Fair semi-finalists will be honored at Friday's Texas A&M Press Club banquet in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom at 7 p.m.

Outgoing editors will receive watches for their efforts this year and six beauties will be chosen by secret ballot and announced Saturday night at the senior Ring Dance in the Vanity Fair competition.

Editors to be honored are Winston Green, The Battalion; Judy Franklin, The Review; John Hammond, The AggieLand; Boyd Cherry, The Engineer; Leroy Shaffer, The Agriculturist; and J. Alford Moore, The Southwestern Veterinarian.

The new editors for 1967-68 also will be introduced at the banquet.

The 12 Vanity Fair finalists to be presented by Hammond are:

Merideth Curry, a Lamar Tech business and education major from Highlands. Her escort will be Gerald A. Teel.

Barbara Jane Hinnant, a Texas Tech English major, escorted by Steve G. Beever.

Malda Lynn Mayo, a psychology education major at Texas University, escorted by Richard L. Burns.

Diane Elizabeth Wehner, a Texas Christian University home economics major, escorted by Skip Wehner.

Sharon Huff, a Sam Houston State College business administration major from Houston, escorted by John L. Bradley.

Cheryl Latham, a Trinity University medical technology major, escorted by Dennis R. McLeary.

Karen Kay Arterburn, a commercial art major at Southwest Texas State, escorted by William David Roberts, Jr.

Rebecca N. Stark, a journalism major at Texas Woman's University, escorted by Terrell S. Mullins.

Linda Kay Teekell, a graduate of Louisiana Tech who majored in medical technology, escorted by Mike Marjain.

Kathy Jarman, a history major at Sam Houston State, escorted by Paul D. Bettge.

Nancy Buser, a Houston secretary, escorted by Mickey Batsell.

Also a special award given by The Battalion will be presented to the person for giving the most time and assistance to that publication, while not being official member of its staff.

More than 250 persons have been invited to attend the annual banquet.

According to Winston Green, Battalion editor and president of the press club, "It looks as though we are going to have a real fine turnout this year. I'm sure those 12 pretty Vanity Fair finalists are responsible."

More than 128 students worked on the six publications this year.

Summer Students Must Move After Second Semester

Second semester summer school students must move out of the dormitories immediately after the sessions close, according to Allan M. Madeley, housing manager.

"The reason is an expected attendance of 4,000-5,000 for the American Institute of Biological Sciences Conference here, Aug. 26-Sept. 1," Madeley explained.

Ordinarily, students have been permitted to move belongings to their fall rooms after the close of summer school.

"We realize that the absence of that privilege this year may work some degree of hardship on our students. We sincerely hope, however, that they will understand the importance of this nationwide conference to Texas A&M," Madeley said.

"Their co-operation will make a most important contribution to the smoothness of the housing operations during the conference," he added.

Space Official Speaks At Confab

A Marshall Space Flight Center official, Dr. James R. Scoggins, will present a May 25 Meteorology Colloquium at Texas A&M University, announced Dr. Vance E. Moyer, Meteorology Department head.

Dr. Moyer said the 3:30 p.m. presentation, "Observed Characteristics of Mesoscale Motions," will be in the Coke Building faculty room.

Dr. Scoggins will present analyses of data collected at Cape Kennedy, Fla., and Point Mugu, Calif., relating to Atlantic and Pacific missile range operations.

The colloquium speaker is deputy chief of the aerospace environment division at the Huntsville, Ala., center.

He holds the A. B. degree in math and physics from Berry College, Ga., and B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in meteorology from Penn State, where he was a student of Hans Panofsky.

The NASA scientist was an Air Force meteorologist and Lockheed Aircraft mathematical analyst and meteorologist before NASA at Huntsville. During his seven years at the center, Scoggins has served as space scientist (meteorologist). His primary endeavors have been measurement and analysis of small-scale motions at sub-60,000 feet altitudes.

Faculty Awards Program Is Set

Texas A&M's annual faculty recognition and achievement awards program is set for 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in Guion Hall.

Highlight of the program will be the Association of Former Students' presentation of eight Distinguished Faculty Achievement awards. Each award includes a $1,000 check, gold watch and a certificate.

Retiring faculty members also will be honored.

A&M President Earl Rudder will preside and briefly review major events of the current school year. Jack Crichton of Dallas, Former Students president, also will make brief remarks and present the awards.

Four of the awards will be presented for teaching, two for research and one each for extension work and individual student relations.

President Rudder has urged all faculty and staff members to attend the program.
