Chenoweth Joins A&M E. E. Staff

Dr. Robert Dean Chenoweth, currently a faculty member at the University of Missouri at Rolla, will join the Texas AM faculty this fall.

John Denison, acting head of A&M's Electrical Engineering Department, said Dr. Chenoweth will be professor of electrical engineering. Chenoweth's primary interest is control and power systems.

At present, Chenoweth is in charge of graduate programs in electrical engineering at the University of Missouri at Rolla. He is married and has four children.

A&M, GIVE ME ROOM!

Yell Leader Wayne Porter attempts to restrain a group of "fish" waiting to throw him in the mud after Saturday's intersquad football game. The game was between the Maroons and Whites, but the new yell leaders, making their debut, came out the losers.

SPLASH DAY—AGGIE STYLE

Saturday was Splash Day at Kyle Field, or at least appeared to be, since enthusiastic "Fish" couldn't wait to haul Yell Leader Bob Segner to the Fish Pond. So a convenient mud hole had to do.

Duo Gets Agronomy Honors

Johnnie W. Cospers and Billy Ray Schuette were presented out-

Cospers of Edna was recognized by the American Society of Agronomy as the Outstanding Senior Agronomy Student and presented a plaque by Dr. R. C. Potts.

BAND DIRECTOR ON THE SPOT

Because of the Saturday rains, Col. E. V. Adams, director of a somewhat wet Fightin' Texas Aggie Band, brought along his own "dry spot" to the game.

NO DAMPENED SPIRIT

Where the team goes, the band goes. Despite the weather and wet instruments, the band quickened the pulse of the drenched crowd with the Aggie War Hymn.

What does he want?

What is he really like? Now, in his own words, Castro speaks directly to the American people... the longest and most revealing interview he has ever granted to a member of the American press...

It was an eight-day marathon conversation on the Isle of Pines in Cuba. They sat at a card table. Lee Lockwood, author-journalist-photographer, asked the questions. Fidel Castro, in green fatigues and smoking a long Cuban cigar, replied. A tape recorder took it all down... Castro's candid comments on Johnson, Khrushchev, Batista, Kennedy, the Guevara guerrilla warfare, the Bay of Pigs, the Cuban people—in this remarkable book. Not until now have Americans had an opportunity to know Fidel Castro this well. Nearly 150 candid photographs.
