

NEW NAME NEEDED?

What new name could this sign carry to express College Station's growth and progress? Mayor D. A. Anderson has proposed that a new name be investigated by a group of citizen. See Editorial, Page 2.

Ten Junior College Grads Get Merit Award Scholarships

Junior college graduates of Navarro, Amarillo, Schreiner, Texarkana, Panola and Wharton and a Tarleton State College transfer have been awarded Merit Award Scholarships to attend Texas A&M.

Ten $300 a year scholarships for outstanding Texas junior college students were announced by Academic Vice President Wayne C. Hall. Dean Hall chairs the faculty scholarship committee which selected Merit Award recipients.

The program, in its second year, is funded by industry, former students and organization gifts through the A&M Development Fund.

Recipient of the two-year scholarship are Amarillo College graduate Robert B. Morgan of Amarillo; Joe D. Platt of Thornton, Navarro Junior College; Michael D. Asher, Beckville, and Michael L. Heard, Panola, Panola College; James L. Hobbs, Van, and Ronald E. Stoeck, Houston, Schreiner Institute; Jimmy G. Cheek, Virginia Beach, Va., Tarleton State; Rudolph A. Drautz, Texarkana, and Charles G. Patton, New Boston, Texarkana Junior College, and Kenneth D. Vassina of Lissie, Wharton County Junior College.

The new A&M students expect to study mathematics, business administration, accounting, agricultural education, chemistry, electrical and mechanical engineering. Grade point ratios for their first two years of college study range from 2.89 to 2.52.

84 Vet Graduates Set A&M Record

A record 84 veterinary medicine students are scheduled to graduate from Texas A&M Aug. 4, announced Dr. Alvin Price, College of Veterinary Medicine dean. Dr. Price said graduation ceremonies are set for 8 p.m. in Bryan Civic Auditorium.

The College of Veterinary Medicine conducts graduation separately from other units of the university because it operates on a trimester basis, rather than the standard semester.

Dean Price said the largest previous graduation class was last year's which totaled 69 students.

Two Dances Announced By Summer Directorate

Room Sign-up Begun

By WINSTON GREEN
Battalion Editor

Students now in school who will attend the second term of summer school should report to the Housing Office and sign up for rooms, Housing Manager Allan M. Madeley urged Thursday.

"Students who wish to reserve the room they now occupy have until Tuesday to do so," he said. "Students who wish to reserve a room other than the one they now occupy may sign for rooms on a first come, first served basis beginning Wednesday."

Students who have a $20 room deposit on file will not have to pay additional fees to reserve rooms. Other students must pay the deposit in order to reserve rooms.

Since room reservations for the second summer term are beginning after the deadline cancellation, he said, students should not reserve rooms if there is a possibility that they will not attend the second term. Cancellation of a room reservation for any reason, except for the convenience of the university, will result in a forfeit of the room deposit.

"Because of room property responsibility," Madeley said, "all students changing rooms are reminded to properly check out of their old rooms and into their new ones with the dorm house-masters."

Students who reserved rooms for the fall before May 13 in those dormitories being used for summer school will have priority on those rooms for the fall. Summer school students will not necessarily be able to retain their summer rooms for the fall.

According to Madeley, male undergraduate students are required to live on campus unless they live with their families.

"Exceptions will not be made except for very unusual circumstances," he said. "Students who have reasons which are an exception to this policy must file a request for a day student permit with the Student Affairs Office unless they have already been cleared to be a day student during the first term of summer school."

Students who are eligible for a day student permit, including students living in university apartments and others who are day students at the present time, are urged to secure their permits early in order to save time at registration, on July 17. Permits may be secured at the Housing Office in the YMCA until noon, July 15.

After this date, day student permits must be secured in the process of registration at Sbis Hall.

Tuesday Night Set For Next Event

Dances sponsored by the Memorial Student Center Summer Directorate will be held next Tuesday and Aug. 1.

The events were announced by David Wilks of Pampa, MSC Summer Directorate president.

Soul music by the "Soul Shadows" of Bryan will be the feature attraction at the July 11 dance in the MSC ballroom. Admission for the 8 to 12 p.m. dance will be $1 per person, Wilks said.

Continuous music with two bands is scheduled for the Aug. 1 "Sock Dance-Town Hall" combination in G. Rollie White Coliseum. "Neal Ford and the Fanatics" of Houston and "The Chessmen" of Dallas will play from a platform in the middle of the coliseum floor. One of the bands will be playing at all times during the 8 to 12 p.m. dance.

Dancers will check their shoes as they go down the ramp to the dance floor. Those who only want to watch and listen to the music can sit in the stands above the floor.

Admission to the dance will be $3 for couples and $2 for singles. Both dances are open to the public as well as A&M students, Wilks noted.

Rehmet Says SCONA XIII Plans Southeast Asia Topic

The price of peace in Southeast Asia will be "studied, discussed and argued" in the 13th Student Conference on National Affairs at Texas A&M next December.

Patrick G. Rehmet, SCONA

XIII chairman, announced the program committee's topic selection for the Dec. 6-9 conclave that annually involves students from all over the nation and key international diplomats as speakers.

"The agenda is designed to outline the apparent policy of the U. S. government," Rehmet explained.

The senior civil engineering major from Alice said that such an agenda should create a general exchange of ideas induced by delegates who disagree with subject area policies.

The 180 SCONA delegates will dissect the Southeast Asia conflict, economic prospects, social progress, prospects for political stability and peace. Among focal points of the agenda are Western and Chinese exploitation vs. local resistance, post-colonial communist and Western intervention, land reform and reconciling international political rivalries.

The planning committee headed by Frank Tilley of Jacksonville has invited eight Southeast Asian embassy representatives as round-table co-chairmen. Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, Georgetown University economics professor and Washington Post economics editor, and A&M history professor Dr. David Woodward have accepted invitations.

Workshop Set For Journalists

Texas A&M will host 350 persons for a High School Publications Workshop July 23-28, announced Dr. Delbert McGuire, Journalism Department head.

McGuire, workshop director, said innovations include beginning and advanced lecture sections in the newspaper workshop, divided sections in lecture and laboratory for newspaper, yearbook and photography workshops.

Also offered this year is a two-hour seminar in high school publications and journalism curricula for advisers.

Jack Boggan, assistant professor of journalism at A&M, and Mrs. Lela Edwards, publications adviser at Stephen F. Austin High School in Bryan, are assistant workshop directors.

Other staff members include Mrs. Betty Stanley of Lubbock Monterey High, a adviser for "Summertime," a 64-page yearbook produced during the workshop; Mrs. Ester Curnutt, San Antonio Roosevelt High, beginning newspaper workshop supervisor; Chet Hunt, a University of Texas graduate student from Port Lavaca, beginning newspaper laboratory instructor; and Mrs. Elaine Pritchett, Houston Memorial High, advanced newspaper laboratory instructor.

Also Mrs. Sharon Cox, San Antonio Lee High, adviser for the "Sweatshopper," mimeographed newspaper produced by students; Charles J. Dolan, national education director for Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, instructor for the advanced yearbook section.

Mrs. Edwards will supervise the advanced newspaper workshop and Boggan will teach the advanced photography section.

Newspaper lecturers include Mrs. Lillian Hefner of Dallas' Lake Highlands High, Mrs. Dimple Hutchings of Longview, Mrs. Edith King of San Antonio College, Don Presley of Dallas Storey Junior High, Mrs. Corinne Renschel of Gonzales, and Mrs. Norma Mares of Huntsville.

Exams To Bring Session To End

The first summer session of summer school at Texas A&M comes to a close next week with final exams on Thursday and Friday.

Classes which meet daily at 8 a.m. will have their exams given at 8 a.m. on Friday and classes meeting at 10 a.m. will hold their exams at 11 a.m. Friday.

Exams for noon classes are scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. classes will hold exams at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Final exams in courses with only one theory hour per week will be given at the discretion of the department head concerned or at the last meeting of either the theory class or the practice period before the close of the term.

IT'S FINGER LICKIN' GOOD!

Ken, left, and Kyle Patranello were only two of the more than 600 Bryan-College Station citizens who attended the Lions Club's "Chick-N-Cue" Tuesday at the A&M Consolidated football stadium. The chicken dinner was part of the Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Lions Club and the College Station Recreation Council. See pages 6-7.

Christian Named To Library Post

Roger L. Christian of Roswell, N. M., has been appointed assistant library director for collection development at Texas A&M's Cushing Library.

His appointment was effective July 1, announced Dr. James P. Dyke, library director.

Christian, a native of Shreveport, La., came to A&M from New Mexico Military Institute, where he was head librarian three years.

He is an Elk and member of American, Louisiana and New Mexico Library Associations and Alpha Beta Alpha. A Reserve Officers Association member, he was an Army reserve unit commander in Roswell.

Christian received his bachelor degree at Northwestern State College and a masters in library science from Louisiana State. The 1955 Shreveport Byrd High graduate attended Centenary College for his Louisiana teachers certificate before going into teaching and librarianship in Louisiana schools at Cameron and Vivian.
