A&M Recipient Of $1,000 Check

A $1,000 check for use in any manner deemed appropriate was presented to Texas A&M recently by the Bryan-College Station Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber President J. B. (Dick) Hervey formally presented the contribution during brief ceremonies in the office of A&M President Earl Rudder.

Rudder said the funds will be used to help "tell the A&M story" throughout the state.

Hervey noted the $1,000 check is the first of three university contributions budgeted by the chamber this year.

The local organization of merchants and businessmen has made similar contributions to A&M for several years.

Firemen's School Begins On Monday

Trial runs of fires at Brayton Training Field Friday will involve 60 instructors of the 38th Texas Firemen's Training School opening Monday at Texas A&M. Henry D. Smith, firemen's training chief for the A&M Engineering Extension Service, said instructors will check out each of the field problems to determine that everything is working properly.

Among the fires are houses, butane tanks, overhead storage tanks, pit and tank, tank and dike, and airplane.

Most of the instructors are fire chiefs and fire marshals from Texas. Technical specialists come from as far away as New York.

Other instructors will arrive Saturday and Sunday for orientation meetings before the school gets into full swing Monday. Smith said 290 instructors will comprise the staff for the municipal school Monday through Friday.

A public firefighting demonstration is planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the training field. State and local government officials also will witness the demonstration.

The industrial fire protection school is slated July 23-28.

Fallout Theater Presents Comedy Production Tonight

An adult comedy, "Under the Sycamore Tree," opens tonight for a three-night run at Texas A&M University's Fallout Theater.

Presented by the Premier Players, a production group of 15 to 18 year olds in Bryan and College Station, the three-act play involves a group of ants with the attributes of man.

"It's a satire on man's foolishness," director Bob Wenck, A&M English instructor, said. "The play is constructive as well as funny. Man's history and aspirations are made to seem worthwhile."

Supervised by Aggie Playmen, "Under the Sycamore Tree" is set for 8 p.m. curtain time.

Written by Samuel Spewak, the play takes place in the throne room of an ant hill in a pasture under the sycamore tree.

The cast includes Brodie Park, an announcer; Heather Gaines, the general; Scott Wilson, a scientist; David Alsmeyer, scientist; Becky Upham, queen; Wanda Wolf, brown ant; Judy Emquist, girl ant; Jim Collins, boy ant, and Bill Smith and Richard Stewart, worker ants.

All seats are 50 cents.
