

Summer Judo Club Ends Next Week

Next week's final summer meeting of the Texas A&M Judo Club will climax a successful round of club activities.

Capt. Gibbs Dibrell, an instructor for the club, said membership at the beginning of the summer totaled 15 but during the three months has climbed to 30. About one-half of the members are women.

For the women in the club a specialized program was initiated which concentrated on the poise, grace, agility and balance which can be attained through the body control techniques of judo. In addition to its regular activities the club sponsored a special self defense program for the women of the community.

Men in the club concentrated on the more violent techniques used in contest competition.

The club is preparing to send four of its members to a contest at Bergstrom A.F.B. near Austin. Don Saeft, a graduate student in oceanography, and Wayne Wheeler, an Air Force lieutenant studying meteorology, will compete in the senior division.

Bob Frazer, attending A&M under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation, and Jeanne Ballinger, a junior at A&M Consolidated High School will compete in the junior division. Jeanne, the only girl on the team, will be competing almost entirely against boys.

The Judo Club will reorganize for the fall with a meeting Sept. 21 in the Memorial Student Center. Capt. Dibrell said the goal of this fall's club is to form a five-man team which can compete in judo contests throughout the Southwest.

Dr. Cone Johnson of Scott & White Clinic in Temple lectured to some 20 Bryan-College Station area football coaches on "heat problems in pre-season conditioning drills" last week in the Lettermen's Lounge on the Texas A&M campus.

Texas A&M athletic trainer Billy Pickard recently was named national director elect for district six of the National Athletic Trainers Association.

He was named to the office during an election at the Southwest Athletic Trainers meeting in Waco. He will be installed at the next national convention in Houston next June.

Kyle Field Lights To Make Stadium SWC's Brightest

When the final four lighting structures on the east side of Kyle Field go up Saturday, the A&M stadium will become the best lighted stadium in the Southwest Conference.

The only stadium equal to Kyle Field in a lighting system is the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. The Cotton Bowl recently added additional lights to give it the same level of light intensity as Kyle Field.

The four sets of lighting structures on the west side were erected last Saturday and now tower 165 feet in the air above the field. The four additional structures will be of equal height.

Each structure is composed of two 15,000 pounds, 125-foot laminated steel poles. The poles are bolted to 40 foot tall concrete supports which also extend 40 feet into the ground. Bolts holding the poles to the supports are 2 1/2 inches in diameter and the 10 feet long. Each pole is fastened to the support with 1500 pounds of bolts.

There are about 700 floodlights on the eight structures. The 1500 watt lamps are similar to those used in the Astrodome and are pre-focused before erected to provide the maximum amount of light on the field. Each globe will light 900 square feet of the field below and will provide over 100 foot-candles of light.

The area each light illuminates has been determined by computer and within the next two weeks the field will be surveyed and 700 stakes driven into the ground according to the computer-derived diagram.

Each light will be aimed at its predetermined stake and locked into place. This will insure even distribution of light over the playing area.

The lights can be controlled from a room under the east side of the stadium or from the press box.

A tremendous amount of wiring is involved in the system. In the control section there is over 15,000 feet of wiring and coiled within each of the poles is over two miles of wiring encased in tubing the size of an ordinary garden water hose.

ALL THE BETTER TO SEE THEM WITH
New lights rise high above the press box at Kyle Field. The new lightning system will make A&M's stadium the brightest field in the SWC.

GOING FOR ANOTHER ONE

J. E. "Jocko" Roberts tees up on No. 11, one of the two holes at the A&M Golf Course on which he scored a hole-in-one.

A&M Golf Course Yields To Jocko "Hole-In-One" Roberts

The back nine of the Texas A&M Golf Course holds no fear for J. E. "Jocko" Roberts, farms manager at A&M. Roberts is the first and only person to sink two holes-in-one on the course within a thirty-day span.

On July 9 Roberts, along with Pat and Charles Griffith and Harold Otto, all of Houtson, was playing the back nine. Roberts, using a six iron, drove the ball 165 yards down the fairway of hole No. 16 for the big one.

The two Griffiths were again playing with Roberts on Aug. 6. On hole No. 11, a 170-yard par three, using a three wood, Roberts dropped in his second hole-in-one.

According to Roberts, the comment at the time was one of his companion's "Oh my God, he's done it again."

"After the first one I told everyone that I was lucky," Roberts said. "But now I just tell them that I've simply figured out how to do it."

The ball used for the second hole-in-one, a Titleist, is being bronzed and made into a desk set and the PGA is awarding Roberts a citation and a hole-in-one card admitting him to the select group of golfers across the nation who have made holes-in-one.

happiness is a high hill

It had been a long climb. For various reasons, we were all glad to get to the top of the hill. Jackie rolled down, over and over, to the inviting creek at the bottom. Sally bolted off to climb the neighbor's fence and croon to the colts pastured there. Baby saw the buttercups and struggled to get down. Jack dreamed over the rich soil of the south forty, while I was drawn by the tall-spired church in the valley.

We're happy in the home we've built on that hill. We've a dog and a cat and swings for the children. Summers, we race down the hill to cool off in the creek. Winters, we get the sled out and take it singing down the slope.

The kitchen windows frame a lovely view of the valley and our church. On Sunday mornings, when its deep-throated bells call us clearly to worship, we go down the hill together to its doors. We enter reverently and joyfully, knowing that much of our happiness and security stems from God's love.

Wherever your church may be; in valley, on hill, or city street, you will find the same glorious opportunity to sustain and strengthen your faith.
