

Double Trouble In Store From This Pair

Edd Hargett, a 20-year-old junior, has played in only 12 varsity football games for the Texas Aggies but he already is the "passing passer" in A&M history.

Last year as a sophomore Hargett virtually rewrote the Aggie passing record book. Now after two games as a junior he has added another and is so close to three others that it is only a matter of a game or so before he holds them all.

Hargett now has thrown 324 passes for the Aggies. The old mark was 321 by Charlie Milstead in 1957-58-59. Hargett has completed 161. Milstead has the career record of 164 but that may fall this week against LSU. Hargett has passed for 1,968 yards. Milstead's record of 2,072 is only 104 yards better and that, too, may fall in Baton Rouge. Hargett has passed for 12 touchdowns. The A&M career mark is 13, by Dick Gardemal in 1949-50-51 and it should go like the others real soon.

Milstead's 24 interceptions is another record and Hargett hopes he doesn't break that one but he's had 21 swiped and he'll have to be careful else he'll add that to his list, too.

Last year Hargett set nearly all the passing records for a single game or a season as he hit on 132 of 265 attempts for 1,532 yards and 10 touchdowns.

His two touchdown tosses this year both have gone to Bob Long, for 29 yards against SMU and 60 yards against Purdue. Oddly, Long has caught only four, two in each game. So, when Hargett aims at Long, he is aiming to score.

Hargett, who took on a bride this past summer, played basketball, baseball and ran track in addition to playing quarterback at Linden-Kildare High in East Texas. He hurt a knee in the seventh game of his senior year and had two operations, thus missing his freshman year of competition at A&M.

He has a strong right arm and really whistles the football to ward his targets. The receivers, however, contend that Hargett throws a soft pass, one with the nose up and easy to catch. He has been equally effective on either short or long throws.

Hargett is a quiet, likable young man and a quick-thinking leader on the field of battle.

He considered only one other school during the time he was being recruited. That was Arkansas. But, when he met A&M Coach Gene Stallings he was sold on A&M. And, he has never regretted the decision.

"On target with Hargett" is the passing slogan around A&M. The Aggies, hopeful of breaking into the win column this week, will be pulling for Edd to break some records against the LSU Tigers Saturday night in Baton Rouge.

Back when Paul Bryant was bringing Texas A&M to national football fame, there was a big tackle on the club named Charlie Krueger who played well enough to win All-America honors two years running (1956 and 1957).

A Rip VanWinkle type, coming out of a sleep of 10 years, would swear that Ole Charlie still is playing tackle for the Aggies.

He'd almost be correct. One of A&M's prime tackles is a Krueger. He's Rolf, a younger brother of Charlie's but not a "little" brother. Rolf, now a junior, stands 6-4 and weighs 227. You just don't associate the word "little" with those dimensions.

Rolf played his high school football at Bryan, a city that connects with College Station and he has had to face that "big brother" problem ever since Charlie made All-America and went on to pro fame with the San Francisco 49ers.

It didn't seem to have much effect on him last season. He was perhaps the best sophomore defensive tackle in the Southwest. This year he has moved to offensive tackle but last week, against Purdue, a few injuries among the defensive folks forced Krueger to play both ways nearly all the last quarter. He hasn't lost any of his defensive skills, either.

Rolf was very responsible for A&M's 7-6 victory over Rice last year. It was late in the game and Rice had just scored to pull up to within one point, at 7-6. QB Robert Hailey dropped back to pass for a two-point conversion. As he turned, the big, hulking Krueger draped himself on the Owl and pulled him to the turf.

Young Rolf keeps getting better all the time. It is seldom that one family produces two All-America football players but it just could be that Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger of Bryan will be such parents.

Charlie was the quiet type and Rolf is no loud mouth by any stretch of the imagination. But, prior to his sophomore season he was being interviewed by the touring writers of the Southwest when one spoke up . . . "Rolf, I don't know whether you'll ever be the football player that your brother, Charlie, was but I can assure you one thing. You're a better talker as a sophomore than he was as a senior."

Those who have been watching him closely will tell you now that Rolf will be just as good as Charlie on the field of battle, too. He has played in 12 varsity games and has another season after this. He's quick for his size and he's strong and tough.

The way he's improving it will be difficult for the All-America selectors to ignore him.

MSC Recreation Plans Full Slate

Persons interested in participating in the Aggie bowling league and qualifying for the Intrecollegiate Match team should meet at the bowling center Oct. 2.

All leagues will be worked on a handicap basis and there will be three players to a team. There will be as many teams formed as possible, depending on interest shown.

To qualify for the Intercollegiate Match team, last year's average will be used by returning students. New students will roll 10 games before Oct. 2 to establish Match team, last year's average last year may bowl in the 10-game roll-off. There will be a special price of $2.50 for the 10 games.

A&M's match team will bowl other colleges and universities in the Intercollegiate Traveling League. The top six averages of the month in Aggie bowling leagues will represent A&M at all the bowling meets.
