

Aggies Aim For First Victory

By GARY SCHERER
There is an old saying that too much of a good thing might become a disadvantage. Aggie Coach Gene Stallings hopes that can apply in the reverse.

The Aggies have had nothing but bad luck in their first three ball games as they have dropped them all. In each game, with the exception of LSU, the Aggies have been in the contest up to the end but couldn't get the break that would give them the win.

After the last-second heart-break loss to Southern Methodist, the Maroon and White were banged up in the Purdue game at Dallas. That game produced an abundance of injuries from which they couldn't recover in time for the LSU game.

Because of injuries, Stallings has had to shift players to strange positions, for them, and the inexperience has shown. Depth was a problem to start with and now, with all the injuries, the lack of deep personnel has become an acute setback.

In the LSU game the main problem was the offensive line. Quarterback Edd Hargett was surrounded by Tiger linemen most of the night and his 4-14 passing statistics show how the harassment bothered the junior signal-caller.

Stallings mentioned making some changes at his Tuesday press conference but declined to be specific. All he would mention was the possible shift of Robert Cortez to offensive guard. Cortez, a senior, started out the year as a first team linebacker. After the SMU game he was shifted to defensive guard and then didn't play at all in the LSU game.

On offense, Wendell Housley remains a questionable starter, along with tackle Dan Schneider. Housley has had both shoulders injured and Schneider had a bad cut on his head. Other than these injuries, the offense looks fairly healthy.

On defense, tackle Grady Allen is definitely out for the Florida State game, with Lynn Odom and Bill Kubecka still doubtful. In fact, that's about the status of the shape of the team as tomorrow's game approaches.

The opposition, Florida State, presents a confusing picture. The Seminoles were clobbered by the "monsters of space city," the Houston Cougars. The next week, they led Alabama most of the game but had to settle for a 37-37 tie. That amount of points on a Bear Bryant-coached team was almost an impossibility prior to this season, but the Seminoles really clicked in that game.

The following week, they were favored over Atlantic Coast Conference toughie North Carolina State and lost 20-10 to the unbeaten Wolfpack. Head Coach Bill Peterson has always used a pro-type offense and turned out some hard-nosed defensive teams. Defense seems to be the team's weak points this season, as they have given up 90 points in their three games.

The main offense for the Seminoles is their passing game. Junior Gary Pajcic took senior Kim Hammond's quarterback job away last season. This year, Pajcic was injured in the Houston game and hasn't been able to get back in the lineup as Hammond seems to have his old job back.

The incentive to win will definitely be with both teams. It should be an aerial-oriented game as the Aggies have adopted the pass to their attack more often this season.

It looks like an offensive show at Kyle Field Saturday night.

Lonborg, Yaz Lead Bosox To 5-0 Win

BOSTON (AP)—Jim Lonborg was robbed of a World Series no-hitter by Julian Javier's double with two out in the eighth inning Thursday as Lonborg's one-hitter and two tremendous home runs by Carl Yastrzemski squared the Series with a 5-0 Boston Red Sox victory over St. Louis in the second game.

Lonborg, who barely escaped injury when mobbed by fans after winning the clincher from Minnesota Sunday, threatened to match Yankee Don Larsen's perfect game of 1956 as he retired 19 straight Cards before he walked Curt Flood on a 3-2 pitch with one out in the seventh.

Javier ruined the 24-year old right-hander's bid for a no-hitter when he doubled to the left field corner on the first pitch with two out in the eighth.

Lonborg, a handsome razor-cut Stanford graduate, thus became the fourth pitcher to throw a one-hitter in Series history.

Yastrzemski's extra 20 minute batting practice after Wednesday's opening defeat and hitless frustration, paid off with two homers, a single and four runs batted in. He had taken no batting practice Thursday to save himself for real action.

A brightly sunny day with temperatures in the 80s turned into a dull, cloudy afternoon as the game wore on.
