HORSLEY HONORED

MSC Shutterbugs Keep Darkroom Spic And Span

A swarm of elves appear to help keep equipment, supplies, chemicals and negatives orderly in the Camera Committee's 12 by 33 foot darkrooms used by 96 Texas A&M students.

Such is actually the case. C. M. Sykes, a retired food buyer who likes to keep his finger near a camera shutter release, is the Memorial Student Center club's advisor.

The 69-year-old College Station resident hides club shutterbugs about their "house-keeping" in the darkrooms as Klub Kop, is handy with saw, hammer and nails and inspires confidence of club members.

"Sykes is one of the most precious people I know," remarked J. Wayne Stark, MSC director. "He's very generous with his time and helped build one of the finest camera clubs in the U. S., working as an unpaid advisor."

"Student leadership in the camera committee is strong because he attracts that sort of student, and keeps 'em," Stark went on. The elfish-appearing, sprightly Sykes could pass for 20 years younger. Almost any weekday morning he is found in the student programs office or the darkrooms, finalizing details for a meeting, photo contest or the club's annual intercollegiate photo salon.

At other times, he's cleaning darkroom shelves and lockers, returning misplaced gear to its proper place or looking after enlargers, drum dryer, print washer, negative cabinet or sundry other equipment used in turning blank film into prize-winning photographs.

"Unless I'm on a fishing trip," he injects.

Dean To Chair Research Corp. College Board

Dr. Horace R. Byers, dean of the College of Geosciences, was elected chairman of the board of Gulf Universities Research Corporation at the organization's annual meeting in Dallas this week.

Dr. Byers, a fellow of the National Academy of Sciences, succeeds Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Technological College.

Two new universities also were named as members of the non-profit research combine (cq). The University of Mexico and the University of Southern Mississippi make a total of 18 members.

Serving with Dr. Byers will be Dr. Eugene Man of the University of Miami, first vice chairman; Dr. Joseph M. Reynolds of Louisiana State University, second vice chairman; Dr. Carl H. Oppenheimer of Florida State University, third vice chairman, and Dr. James M. Sharp of Southwest Research Institute, secretary. Joseph Crump of the University of Houston will continue as secretary.

New directors-at-large named at the meeting are George P. Mitchell of George Mitchell & Associates, Houston, and William R. Walton of Pan American Petroleum Corp., Tulsa. Dr. E. Leigh Secrest of Texas Christian University and Dr. Fred R. Cagle of Tulane University were elected to the board as representatives of GURC institutions.

The Gulf Universities Research Corporation is an educational research organization which focuses on effective use and exploration of the Gulf of Mexico.

One of the organization's projects is the planning of a Gulf Science Year which will be the most intensive scientific exploration of the Gulf ever attempted.

This week's annual meeting, held at Southern Methodist University, featured Dr. Robert Abel, director of the National Sea Grant Program for the National Science Foundation, as speaker.

Members of GURC include Florida State University, Gulf South Research Institute, Louisiana State University, Rice University, Southern Methodist University, Southwest Center for Advanced Studies, Southwest Research Institute, Texas A&M University, Texas Christian University, Texas Technological College, Tulane University, University of Alabama, University of Houston, University of Mexico, University of Miami, University of Southern Mississippi, and University of Texas.

FRITZ TINGLING'S
SPRITE

SPRITE, SO TART AND TINGLING, WE JUST COULDN'T KEEP IT QUIET.

Please don't zlupf Sprite. It makes plenty of noise all by itself.

Sprite, you recall, is the soft drink that's so tart and tingling, we just couldn't keep it quiet.
Flip its lid and it really flips. Bubbling, fizzing, gurgling, hissing and carrying on all over the place.
An almost excessively lively drink. Hence, to zlupf is to err.
What is zlupfing?

Zlupfing is to drinking what smacking one's lips is to eating.
It's the staccato buzz you make when draining the last few deliciously tangy drops of Sprite from the bottle with a straw.
Zzzzzllupf!
It's completely uncalled for. Frowned upon in polite society. And not appreciated on campus either.
But, if zlupfing Sprite is absolutely essential to your enjoyment; if a good healthy zlupf is your idea of heaven, well...all right.
But have a heart. With a drink as noisy as Sprite, a little zlupf goes a long, long way.
SPRITE. SO TART AND TINGLING, WE JUST COULDN'T KEEP IT QUIET.
