Department Adds Houston Geologist

Dr. Richard Rezak of Houston, a petroleum company geologist, has joined the Oceanography Department faculty at Texas A&M.

He became an associate professor in geological oceanography Nov. 1, announced Dr. Richard A. Geyer, department head.

The professor was in Houston nine years, as research associate in geology with the Shell Development Company. He was an instructor at St. Lawrence University two years and a U. S. Geological Survey geologist six years.

Dr. Rezak specializes in carbonate petrology and algeology. He will be involved in coring research in the Gulf of Mexico and in nearshore environmental studies on A&M research cruises in addition to instructional duties, Geyer said.

A retired Navy commander, Rezak completed undergraduate studies at Syracuse in 1947, received the master's degree at Washington University, St. Louis, in 1949 and completed Ph.D. work at Syracuse in 1957. The 47-year-old professor is a native of New York.

He conducted a Shell seminar for paleontologists from the U.S., Canada and Europe in addition to Gulf coast fossils research and publication.

With USGS, Rezak carried out stratigraphic projects and was in charge of the Denver branch office. Field work took him to 12 states throughout the U. S., the Bahamas, Campeche Bank, Mexico, and Canada.

Member of numerous societies, the professor received Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists publication distinction. He has been nominated for paleontology councilor during 1963-69.

Rezak was commanding officer of a U. S. Naval Research Fighter Squadron and is a commercial pilot.

Artists Display Work In MSC

Fifty-five works of students of the Junior Art Institute of Chicago are on display in the Texas A&M Memorial Student Center through Thanksgiving Day.

Michael Petersen, Contemporary Arts Committee chairman, said the exhibit, "Museum Impressions," reflects interpretations of a visit of children 6 to 16 to the Field Museum of Natural History.

Petersen said teachers encouraged individuality through a wide choice of media, including pastels, paints, inks and paper strips, as well as seeds, string, drinking straws and felt cutouts.

Many of the subjects are easily recognizable, while others defy interpretation. Three green giraffes, thickly outlined in brown and spotted in orange, are definitely giraffes, but one shape called "Animal," with white stripes and brown, blue, red and green dots, all on a star-studded background, might better be called just "Thing."

Chamberman Named To Head State Amendment Six Fight

Rex Bailey, chairman of Bryan-College Station Chamber of Commerce's Public Affairs Committee, has been appointed to the Citizen's Committee for Amendment 6, announced Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff, head of the statewide organization.

The group is working for passage of the amendment which would allow non-elective state officers and employees, including personnel at state-supported institutions such as Texas A&M, to serve in other non-elective state and federal positions.

Specifically, approval of Amendment 6 would permit faculty members at state-supported schools to accept invitations to serve on non-paying federal and state advisory boards.

Many of these advisory boards, Bailey points out, control allocation of large research and development grants and are often instrumental in determining location of federal facilities.

Texas, Bailey adds, is one of the few states prohibiting service on these boards and is at a distinct disadvantage in obtaining federal funds and facilities because of its lack of representation.

Bailey, active in numerous Chamber of Commerce and other civic projects, is local manager for Southwestern States Telephone Company.

Bottomless Dresses Pass Minis In Designer's Show

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

Though it has seemed for some time that miniskirts might minimize themselves out of existence, it took the man who invented topless swimsuits to come up with bottomless dresses.

Even so, with the skirtless suits which California designer Rudi Gernreich introduced to buyers Tuesday as part of his Siamese influence spring collection there was a modicum of modesty.

Though wide-belted jackets stopped short of expectations, the painted manikins were primly covered with ballooning bloom-ers, or Oriental diapers. Much less so were the bare-foot, barelegged, bare-nearly all beachwear babes who opened Gernreich's show with his Hard-mon knitwear collections.

To anyone farther away than second row with less than 20-20 vision the parade of minified manikins seemed to be wearing bright islands of cloth magically clinging at strategic places. The magic was vinyl which Gernreich used liberally as shoulder straps, side panels portholes and picture windows on beach shifts as well as bikini suits that already showed enough.

Physical Hazing Charges Proven In Baylor Student Court Cases

WACO, (AP)—Three more Baylor University clubs were found guilty of physical hazing in trials before a student court Tuesday night.

Tryon Coterie, men's social club, was told they would not be allowed to take pledges during the spring of 1968. The club earlier pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Delta Sigma Pi, national business fraternity, and Lambda Sigma Chi, men's social club, both were given suspended sentences after pleas of guilty.

The Baylor Chamber of Commerce, men's service club, was found guilty Monday night on charges of physical hazing in the Oct. 10 initiation that claimed the life of John Everett Clifton, 19, of Crosby.

The Clifton death set off a series of student investigations leading to the student court trials this week.

Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity, will be investigated for physical hazing by their national organization, the group's regional director, Dr. Robert W. Bell of Fayetteville, Ark., said Tuesday. The Baylor chapter was found guilty Monday night by a student court.

Bell would not comment on the possibility of the club losing its national charter.

Vo-Ag Teachers Begin Instruction

Eighteen prospective vocational agriculture teachers have begun student teaching in schools from Cuero to Breckenridge.

"The purpose of student teaching is to provide guided experiences for the prospective teacher under an experienced teacher. Student teaching serves as an internship in the profession of education," Dr. O. M. Holt of Texas A&M's Department of Agricultural Education said.

Selection of the cooperating teachers is a demanding process, Dr. Holt said. The best programs in a good educational environment, with help from the high school administration, is sought. Many factors are considered in the selection.

Do you buy a shirt or a label?

If you want a good shirt, look for a good label. One that means the shirt is styled to last. With rolls, tapers and pleats in the right places. Like this Arrow "Cum Laude" Oxford. It's a woven blend of Dacron® polyester and cotton with skinny boxed stripes of green and blue. Button-down collar, tapered waist, long sleeves. Perma-Iron so it won't wrinkle. And "Sanforized-Plus." In checks, plaids, solids and stripes. All the things you look for in a shirt—for $7.00. And in a good shirt you'll find a good label. The best labels come in our shirts. Arrow.

ARROW DECTON PERMA-IRON™ CUM LAUDE

Authentic Ivy styling through and through. You'll notice it in the gently flared button-down collar, shoulder to waist taper. The fabric's 65% Dacron® polyester, 35% cotton that's "Sanforized-Plus" labeled. Best of all, it never needs ironing. You'll want several. $7.00
