

Aggie Booters To Host TCU

Texas A&M's first place soccer team will wind up its home season Saturday at 1 p.m. against Texas Christian University on the drill field in front of the Memorial Student Center.

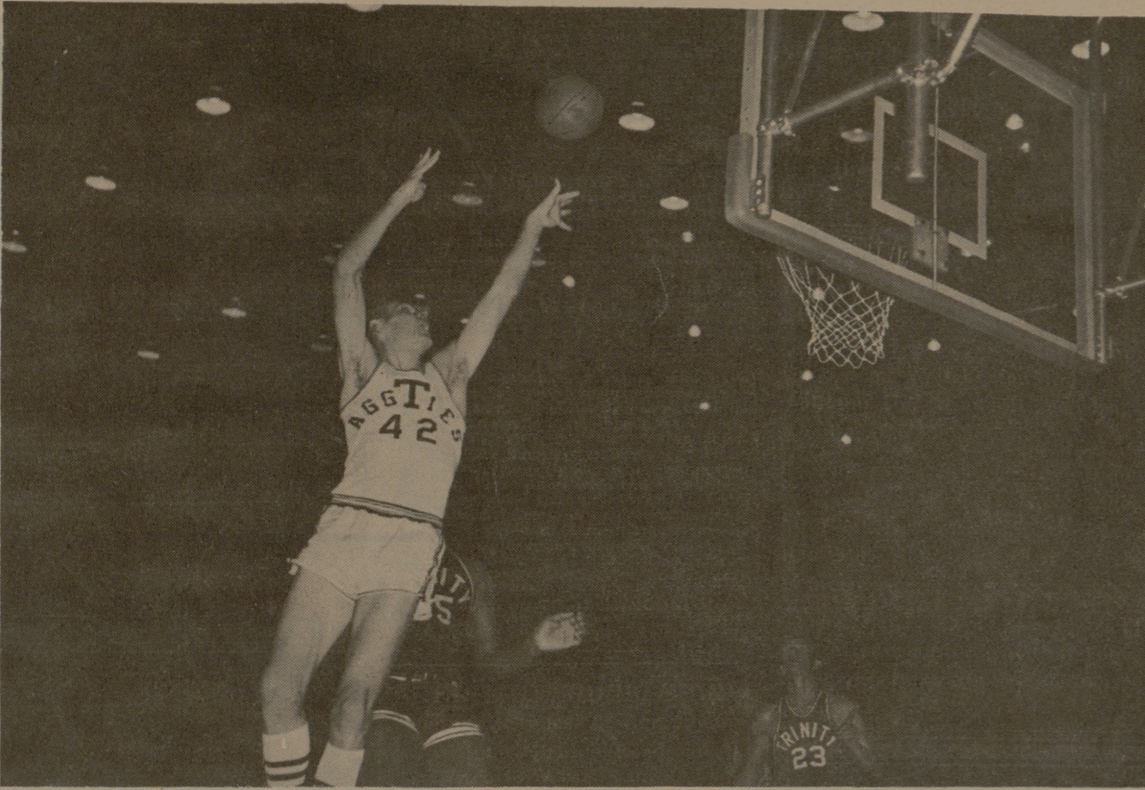

A 3-1 win over St. Mary's of San Antonio last Saturday in San Antonio allowed the team to increase its lead in the Southwest Conference standings.

A&M's goals in the St. Mary's game were scored by Gilberto Earza and Abdelhamid Zid, the right inside forward.

In a recent single elimination tournament hosted by Texas University in Austin, the team lost on a penalty kick in overtime.

At the end of the regulation 90 minutes of the game the score was tied at 0-0 and remained that way through a 15 minute extra period.

When the overtime failed to produce a winner the game had to be decided by a series of penalty kicks. A&M's second kick hit the goal bar and bounced to the outside costing them the game.

Ags Host West Texas

By GARY SHERER
Getting even is the theme of the Aggies' basketball season after two games. The Maroon and White will try to continue on the same pattern when they host the West Texas State Buffaloes at G. Rollie White Coliseum tonight at 8.

The Aggies' first two games this season have been successful as the Maroon and White is the only Southwest Conference team without a loss. The two wins have been over teams that beat the Aggies last season.

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT the Aggies opened their season in Rustin, La. with a 84-77 win over Louisiana Tech. Last year, the Louisiana team started the Aggies off badly by nipping them 53-50 at G. Rollie. Monday night, the Aggies set a scoring record while whipping Trinity University of San Antonio, 106-95 in the first home game of the year. Trinity clobbered the Aggies 100-74 at the Alamo City last season.

Tonight, West Texas State provides the opposition. Last December, the Aggies lost to the Buffaloes at Canyon, 89-71. That win turned out to be the only long end count for West Texas all year as they dropped their other 18 games.

As a result of the poor year, the Buffaloes have a new head coach, Dennis Walling, an alumnus, took over the West Texas helm at the start of the season. Walling came back to his alma mater after spending eight seasons at the helms of Dallas Baptist and a junior college in Decatur.

WALLING BRINGS an experienced team to College Station tonight. Leading scorer of last season, 6-2 Mike Mitchell is back and the bright spot of the Buffalo attack, 6-6 Simmie Hill joins Mitchell in setting the scoring pace.

Hill, a transfer from Cameron JC in Oklahoma, hails from Pennsylvania and is a legend in the Keystone State's high school basketball annals. Mitchell, a junior from Roswell, N. M. paced the Buffs' scoring attack last season with an 18.9 mark.

Two more imports loom big in the West Texas attack. Maurice Savage, a 6-8 transfer from Philadelphia, Pa. and 6-5 Jeff Rowles who performed at Santa Barbara JC last season give the Buffaloes some expected scoring punch.

Returnees David Nowlin, 6-5; Jim Neilsen, 6-9; and 5-10 Val Franklin along with another transfer, Lonnie Speck give the Buffs a seasoned appearance.

West Texas stands 0-2 at this point in the season with losses to Phillips 66ers and Arlington State.

COACH SHELBY METCALF'S charges have looked impressive in their two victories. The team shows improvement over last season and Metcalf, though not making any positive predictions, is pleased with the Maroon and White's performance.

After a shaky game at Louisiana, sophomore Mike Heitmann established himself Monday night with a 28-point performance. The 6-4 Houston product now leads the team in scoring and is tied with 6-6 Tyler JC transfer Harry Bostic for the rebound lead with 20 each.

Bostic, a service veteran from St. Paul, Ind., has put together 15 and 12 point games and was the leading rebounder in the Louisiana Tech game. Bostic's key second half rebounds helped the Aggies sustain their lead in the Trinity game.

RONNIE PERET, John Underwood and Billy Bob Barnett have carried the rest of the load for the Aggies. Peret played his best game at A&M, according to Metcalf, in the Trinity game as the 6-9 junior popped in 21 points. Peret's best scoring effort of 1966-67 came against these same West Texans when the Plainview product his for 30 points.

Underwood, 6-3 senior from Honey Grove, directed the Aggies attack in both games. Against Trinity he hit for 16 points and pulled down seven key rebounds.

Barnett was the high man in the Louisiana Tech game with 24 but foul trouble kept him out of most of the Trinity game.

JUNIOR BACKCOURTER Sonny Benefield has missed both games because of a virus attack but is expected to be back tonight. He along with captain Terry Trippet and Buzzy Myatt will be ready to go into the game as top reserves.

Sophs Bill Brown and Oliver Biggars, have performed well in both games in spot appearances.

The Aggies complete their three-game home stand Saturday night when they host Southwest Texas in an 8 p.m. encounter.

Next week the Aggie five travels to Denton to meet North Texas State and then completes the week by participating in the tough Sunflower Classic at Lawrence, Kansas.

East Team Picked For Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some of the brightest stars of the 1967 collegiate season are included on the East squad announced Wednesday night for the 43rd annual East-West Shrine football game at Candlestick Park Dec. 30.

The selections, announced by Ted Balliet, potentate of Islam Temple, which sponsors the charity classic, are from 21 schools, including Memphis State and Virginia Tech for the first time.

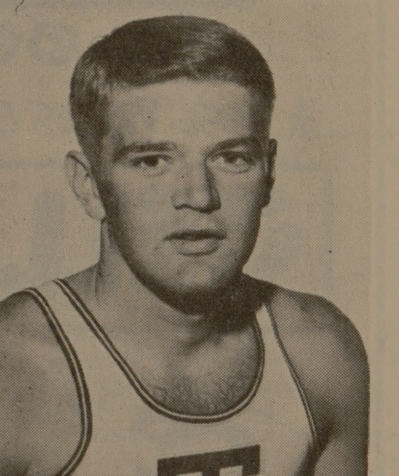

Quarterbacks for the East will be Jimmy Raye, the Michigan State scrambler, and Gary Davis, the Vanderbilt slinger.

The offense will be built around Larry Czonka, Syracuse fullback, bolstered by halfbacks Dale Brady of Memphis State and Bennie Garnto of South Carolina and ends Rob Taylor of Navy, Jim Biene of Purdue and Ken Barefoot of Virginia Tech.

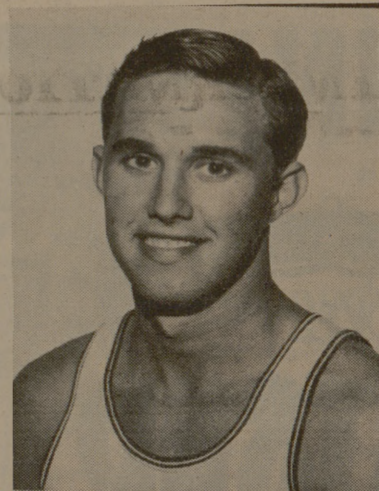

The massive defensive unit will feature a front line of Kevin Hardy of Notre Dame; Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State; Lance Olsen of Purdue; Tom Domres of Wisconsin, and John Williams of Minnesota, averaging 6-4 and 255 pounds.

Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame is the East's head coach, aided by Paul Dietzel of South Carolina and Alex Agase of Northwestern.

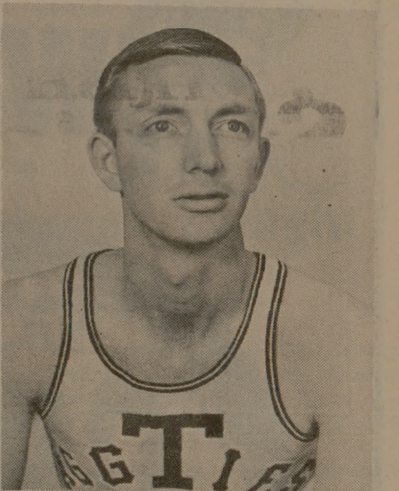

The East squad will train at the University of Santa Clara after reporting to San Francisco Dec. 20.
