

Papers Presented On Child Fitness

Studies of factors in children's physical fitness patterns and how play affects decision making will be described in papers to be presented by two Texas A&M professors in Houston this week.

Drs. Linus J. Dowell and Charles B. Corbin of A&M's Health and Physical Education Department will present results of their studies at the 71st annual convention of the National College Physical Education Association convention.

"Body Fat, Diet, and Activity Patterns of Varying Levels of Physical Fitness of Children" is the title of Dr. Corbin's treatise. He is an assistant professor.

Dr. Dowell, associate professor, studied "The Effect of Play Experience on Rational Decision Making." He said student subjects used basketball and football abstracts to play 8,000 "games." Data on rational behavior were taken using a mathematical theory for games. Dowell said research indicates the more complex a game becomes, the less decision making experience gained.

Corbin's article reveals a child's activity pattern is the prominent factor in determining his degree of physical fitness. Fitness tests of chinups, running and situps, skinfold measurements and motion picture studies along with study of diets indicate active kids tend to be leaner and fitter.

"It was found that endurance and stamina were developed best in the most active child and that muscular strength is not related to activity," the professor said. He emphasized that the research supports a casual observation that "fat kids aren't fit kids."

East Tops West In ABA All-Star

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—The East spurred in the final 3½ minutes Tuesday night, breaking up a see-saw battle for a 126-120 victory over the West in the first American Basketball Association All-Star game.

(Editor's Note: A&M's all-time scoring star, John Beasley, was on the West squad. The 1966 graduate plays for the ABA's Dallas entry.)

Kentucky's Randy Mahaffey scored all four of his points in the final splurge to bring the East from a two-point deficit to a 112-112 tie with 3:35 left.

The regulars—Mel Daniels and Don Freeman of Minnesota and Louie Dampier of Kentucky—took over, outscoring the West 14-7 to clinch the victory.

Larry Brown, New Orleans' 5-foot-9 sparkplug, made the West's last basket with the ABA's most spectacular innovation—the three point field goal.

Brown hit a 40-foot push shot. Daniels scored only eight points in the first half but poured through 14 in the second half and grabbed several key rebounds. His Muskie teammate, Freeman, scored 20 points, and Dampier, who ignited the East's second half attack, finished with 18.

Brown and his Buccaneer teammate, James Jones, teamed for 15 points and several clutch steals and passes in the final West rally. Brown and Doug Moe, another New Orleans player, topped the West with 17 points each.

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas held onto its perfect loop record Tuesday night by holding off a Texas Christian rally in the second half to edge the Horned Frogs 66-65.

Texas enjoyed an 11 point lead late in the first half and had 41-32 halftime advantage. But early in the second half the Frogs jumped into a 6-point lead.

Center Gary Overbeck had three big baskets to pull the Longhorns abreast.

Overbeck and Billy Arnold, both with 22 points, led the Longhorns. Mickey McCarty and Rick Wittenbraker each had 18 points to pace the Frogs.

Texas is now 3-0 in conference play and 6-7 for the season. The Frogs are now 2-1 in loop competition and 6-6 for the season.

WACO (AP)—Baylor, behind the hot hands of Ed Thorpe, Tommy Bowman, David Sibley and Russell Kibbe, downed Arkansas 80-

69 Tuesday night to hold onto a first place tie in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

Both Baylor and Texas, which defeated Texas Christian, are 3-0. Baylor never trailed although the score was tied three times in the first half, once at 2-2, then at 37-37 and again at 39-39.

Thorpe paced Baylor with 21 points, Bowman had 18, Sibley 15 and Kibbe 14. Robert McKenzie had 16 points for Arkansas, Bobby Vint 15, Benton Cone 13, and James Eldridge 12.

The loss leaves Arkansas with a 1-2 conference record.

HOUSTON (AP)—Greg Williams hit a 25-foot jumper with only one second left Tuesday to give Rice a 73-71 Southwest Conference basketball victory over Southern Methodist.

SMU's Bill Voight, who scored 20 points, had tied the score at 71-71 with a short jumper in the last minute and 20 seconds.

Rice immediately went into a stalling game and got the clock down to 32 seconds and then called time out.

The victory boosted Rice's conference mark to 2-1 and left SMU with a 0-3 league record.

Voight led all scorers with his 20 points but teammate John Higginbotham was a close second with 19.

Lary Miller and Farrar Stockton each had 16 for Rice.

The Texas Aggies Monday named Grady Allen, Dan Schneider and Mark Weaver as tri-captains of their 1967 Southwest Conference champion football squad.

In an election by the varsity squad, all five Aggie seniors, including fullback Bill Sallee of Midland and Robert Cortez, guard from San Benito, received votes.

Allen, an end from Nacogdoches, was the only senior on the defensive platoon this past season.

Weaver, from Victoria, played guard while Schneider, from Trafford, Pa., was a tackle.

Big Leagues Seek Schoolboy Talent

NEW YORK (AP)—Professional baseball clubs will hold their 1968 winter draft of January high school graduates and eligible collegians on Jan. 27 in New York, baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert announced Tuesday.

The regular phase of the winter selections will be held first followed by the secondary phase.

Eligible for the regular phase are high schoolers graduating in January and collegians, who have finished their fourth year.

In the secondary phase, the clubs will pick players who have been drafted previously but who have not signed pro contracts. Clubs which drafted them will not be able to pick them again.

The Oakland Athletics will get the first pick in the regular draft, followed by the New York Yankees. The clubs select in inverse order of their finish in the 1967 season, alternating by leagues.

The draw for the second phase was arranged by draft from a hat. In that draft Minnesota will be first followed by San Francisco.

Each of the 20 major league teams will be permitted one selection. Then each of the Class A and Double A farms get one pick, selecting in the order of their major league club. The teams' Class A clubs have unlimited selection rights also picking in the order of their major league teams.
