

Arkansas Here Tonight To Test Aggie Win Streak

By GARY SHERER
This is the age of sit-in's, love-in's and laugh-in's. The topsy-turvy Southwest Conference has decided to add a new game; its called the stay-in.
The Aggies will be playing the new game tonight as they host the Arkansas Razorbacks in an 8 o'clock tip off at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

FOUR TEAMS (five if you hail from Fayetteville) remain in the now-tight SWC race. The Arkansas Razorbacks did not stay with their second place pals and lost to Southern Methodist, at the Ozark bandbox.

The rest of first place Baylor chasers, the Aggies, Texas Christian and Texas won their games.
The most important of these victories, was the 67-63 Saturday afternoon Aggie victory over Baylor at Waco. Beating the Bears at home hadn't been done by five other SWC teams to venture into the Baptists home. The other members of the deadlock, Texas and TCU, beat Rice and Texas Tech respectively.

was the only home team to win Saturday.
INCLUDED in the Razorbacks' five conference wins is an overtime 75-70 victory over the Aggies at Fayetteville. The Aggies then, will be looking for revenge as well as their seventh conference win.
Saturday afternoon before 5,000 in-person Heart-O-Texas Coliseum fans and a large regional TV audience, the Aggies whipped the Bears with a hot-shooting second half.

Baylor led at halftime, 33-30.
It was Sonny Benefield's two foul shots however, that finally closed the door on the Bears, with just three seconds to go. The Sweeny junior since getting back into the starting lineup, has added more speed to the Aggies' attack. It was this commodity, speed, that licked the deliberate-style Bears.
THE RAZORBACKS will hope to stop the Aggies winning streak with a predominantly sophomore-lineup. Arkansas is led by two first-year men, 6-4 forward Robert McKenzie and 6-5 center James Eldridge. Second year head man Duddy Waller's charges stand at 8-12 for the season as they enter tonight's game.

This game plus the outstanding prelim between the Fish and the third-ranking junior college get in the land, Tyler JC, should provide an exciting doubleheader for College Station fans.

NOW, WHAT WAS a safe two-game lead for Baylor becomes a very shaky one-game lead. The Bears are now 7-3 while the Aggies, Longhorns and Horned Frogs lurk menacingly in second at 6-4. The Razorbacks are all alone at 5-5 as is SMU at 4-6 and Rice and Texas Tech are a frustrated 3-7.

The Aggies are looked on as the hottest team in the league at present. A four-game winning streak in the SWC is something akin to a George Wallace-Stokley Carmichael ticket.

Unlikely or not, the Aggies have knocked off four straight foes and tonight host the Razorbacks, who still think, and rightly so, that they still have a chance at the title.

Arkansas lost to SMU at their Arkansas' homeground Saturday night in what turned out to be a bad day for the home team. TCU

Tyler Junior College, the number three ranked junior college five in the land, visits G. Rollie White tonight to play the Aggie Fish in a preliminary to the varsity game.

BEHIND THE efforts of 6-8 Jim Brooks, 6-3 James (Poo) Welch, 6-7 Harvey Huffstetler and 6-7 Jesse Marshall, Tyler has raced to a 25-1 record this season. Their lone defeat was at the hands of the top ranked junior college in the nation, San Jacinto of Houston.

watched closely by the Aggie coaching staff in hopes they will pick A&M for completion of their college careers.
The Fish won their third game in a row Saturday with an impressive 76-73 victory over the Baylor Cubs.

BILL COOKSEY was once again the high scorer for Coach Jim Culpepper's cagers who are now 7-3 on the year and 5-2 in Southwest Conference action. The 6-2 guard from Houston Sam Houston hit on 10 of 20 from the field and 2 of 2 from the foul stripe for 22 points.

Steve Niles, the game's top rebounder with 16, was a close second in scoring with 21.
