

AFL-NFL Make Decisions

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League considered harsher penalties for the use of electronic scouting equipment Wednesday, and a committee of National Football League owners met with representatives of the NFL Players' Association.

Al Davis, managing general partner of the Oakland Raiders and former AFL commissioner, said the league discussed forfeits, suspensions and a $50,000 fine for teams using electronic tape replays during a game.

Milt Woodard, AFL president, said there was strong sentiment for adoption of a get-tough policy on use of the tape but no new rule had yet been written.

Both leagues have a ban on the use of electronic equipment by scouts during games. The Baltimore Colts of the NFL used the system a few years back, but the league adopted a policy against it. Presumably any violation in the NFL could be treated as conduct detrimental to football. Most of the teams do use it at their own practice sessions.

There was a flap about the video tape last season when the New York Jets complained about reports that Houston was using it in a vital game with San Diego late in the season. The Oilers denied it, and President Woodard cleared them of the charge.

The electronic device enables a team to make an instant video tape of play action on the field and then use the replay to supplement scouting information in their game plans.

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League agreed Wednesday to recognize the NFL Players' Association as the exclusive bargaining agent for the athletes, pending verification of an unbiased check of membership.

The agreement, announced jointly by Ted Kheel, labor consultant for the owners, and Dan Shulman, labor consultant for the players, was announced after a meeting between representatives of the two groups.

Both sides emphasized the step was only a formal procedure that would lead up to bargaining on basic issues.

Shulman declined to list the players' demands that will eventually come up for arbitration. However, it had been announced previously that the goals included a $15,000 minimum salary, $500 a game for exhibitions and an annual $5 million contribution to the pension fund.

Shulman said he thought it was the first time an organized sport had given formal recognition to a players' group for collective bargaining.

The players' association announced in Miami in January it was becoming an independent union. Cards had been sent out to the 685 members who pay $100 annual dues, asking if they agreed to accept the association as their bargaining agent.

Shulman, 34, whose firm represents many labor unions in Chicago, emphasized that individual salary bargaining between players and owners will continue.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina's Rusty Clark scored 27 points to lead the third-ranked Tar Heels to an easy 83-60 victory over Atlantic Coast Conference rival Maryland Wednesday night.

The Tar Heels had little difficulty, despite a poor shooting record of only 37 per cent. They went ahead after a 5-5 tie in the opening minutes and never lost the advantage.
