700 Expected

Engineers Host Confab

Approximately 700 high school students, science and math teachers, counselors and professional engineers are expected at Texas A&M March 8 for the annual state conference of the junior Engineering Technical Society.

A&M Assistant Engineering Dean J. G. McGuire, JETS state coordinator, said this year's conference will be held in conjunction with an exposition for the organization's Region VIII, which covers a seven-state area extending as far north as Wyoming.

Keynote speaker for the meeting will be Dr. M. R. Lohmann, dean of engineering at Oklahoma State University and president of the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Lohmann, who also is a member of the board of directors for JETS, will discuss "Engineering in the 1980's."

MORNING and afternoon sessions will include competitive tests in chemistry, engineering graphics, mathematics and physics for the students, followed by tours of A&M's engineering facilities.

While the students are taking the tests and tours, the visiting teachers, counselors and engineers will participate in seminars.

Council Requests Chance Draft Pick

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Council of Graduate Schools in the United States appealed to Congress Tuesday to abolish all college draft deferments and turn to a random lottery of 19-year-olds to serve in the armed forces.

The council, which represents major universities across the country, also strongly opposed designation of certain subjects to which students would be eligible for deferment.

Under the new rules only those graduate students in the medical or related fields may be deferred in the future. Students in college or apprentice school may be deferred until they complete their training.

The council's position paper said the rule barring future draft deferments for graduate students imposes serious planning burdens on universities which rely heavily on graduate teaching assistants to teach some freshman courses.

The council stressed its acceptance of the principle that military service is an obligation of every able-bodied citizen.

"We believe that this obligation should be borne equally by all citizens and that neither graduate nor undergraduate should be deferred or exempted from such service," the statement said.

"We believe that draft-eligible men should be inducted on the basis of random selection upon reaching the age of 19."

20 Teen-age Girls
Attack Policemen

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—Beware the fury of thwarted females, even if they're only kids in mini-skirts.

Twenty teen-aged girls stormed the police station in this small Riverside County town early Monday, breaking down the front door, smashing a plate glass window and wrestling six officers to the ground.

Officer John Cunningham said the six tried to push the girls out of the building and "they started swinging, scratching and tackling us. It was a real free-for-all, with three and four girls jumping each officer."

Eventually the officers handcuffed four girls and the rest fled. Names of those held were not released because they are under 18.

The reason for the rampage? The girls were protesting the arrest of two teen-age boys accused of possessing liquor.

Hey, you with the brains.

Thought about an oil company? Talk with the man from Gulf. He'll be on campus March 6 and 7.

He's looking for men who like to stir things up — engineering and business grads with a lot of zap.

Gulf is one of the majors in oil. We're also growing in chemicals, plastics, fertilizers, adhesives and atomic energy. We market in 48 states. We move around in 50 countries. Our man will tell you all about it. Make a date through your placement office.

Who knows? We might live happily ever after.
