

DIANA DEVORE ... Lamar Tech junior

KAREN PEARSALL ... SWTSC junior

JANIS BOON ... ETSU junior

JANIS HOLDER ... Universal City Secretary

SUSAN ARMSTRONG ... Abilene High senior

Che Battalion

Class Voting To Continue Through 7:30 p.m. Today

Sophomores Seek Unity For Class

Battalion Feature Editor Voting machines for next year's class officers and yell leaders will remain open until 7:30 p.m. tochairman of the election commis-

"Results will be posted, as soon as possible after the pools are closed, on the Student Programs Office door," Benedetto said. Run-offs will be next Thurs-

Benedetto remarked that he expected a greater turnout in votcampaigning efforts.

class will be president, vice-presisecretary, historian, MSC Coun-

In addition, a senior concession manager will be chosen.

Yell leaders will be elected from the junior and senior classes for next year.

Editor's note: As has been the policy in a continuing series of articles prior to this election, The Battalion has sought out the candidates for their qualifications for their respective positions, and has attempted to report the platforms on which they are campaigning. Following are the canwho provided us with this infor-

Band freshman, majors in aerospace engineering. Martin had high school student council. He in Hubbard. was a student senator and member of the National Honor Society during his senior year.

His platform:

"My platform is based on class

"A rivalry is good in some instances, but when it involves different sections that may divide the class, unity should be placed first."

"I will attempt to bring more civilians into activities conducted by our class that formerly have been Corps - dominated," Martin noted. "This is going to be very important in preserving the Corps, because we must show that we can work together with civilians, and not be divided by a constant, cutting rivalry.'

MIKE SCHILHAB, a civilian pre-law student from Conroe, is a second candidate.

Schilhab was interviewed this year for freshman representative to the Civilian Student Council. He served as President of his freshman, sophomore and senior classes in high school. He was also on the student council.

As his principal point in a platform, Schilhab said "more class unity is needed. This can be ac-and activities for the whole class. "I feel that we should promote more social activities as a class throughout the year—as a means day, according to Tony Benedetto, of helping the students to better acquaint themselves with the chool and their classmates."

ROBERT B. PRICE, a freshman Corps of Cadets member from El Paso, forms a platform around class unity, but with a slightly different method.

"I think we could have more frequent meetings which are open to all interested sophomores. ing this year because of increased Those attending the meetings could give their ideas directly to Officers to be elected for each class officers on class projects."

Price was president of the largdent, secretary-treasurer, social est Future Farmers of America chapter in the country. He was cil representative, and election runner-up in his area F.F.A. Public Speaking competition in 1967.

Price said more frequent meetings on the part of the entire class would result in greater participation and cooperation "from

"With this increasing participation," Price explained, "we could be assured of having successful projects. "The meetings would also provide a lasting contribution to student government, through direct class participation." "We should be able to progress didates for sophomore president further in this area than any class before us."

Steve Pringle, a cadet pre-law Gary Jerome Martin, a White major from Hubbard, is a fourth candidate. He was president of his senior class in high school three years experience with his and of the district FFA chapter

HIS PLATFORM:

"If I am elected. I propose more class unification through greater class participation on a stronger Sophomore Council.

"With representatives from each Corps outfit and each civilian dormitory, I feel that we could function more closely as a class.

Thus, we could have more successful class activities." John T. Pratt, a Maroon Band marketing freshman, was president of his high school band in class of 1971 as a main point in tional intercollegiate photographic his platform.

'I will uphold the reputation of the class of '71 by representing it to the best of my ability," Pratt

COOPERATION is a must between the civilians and the Corps. This won't come about in a year it is a gradual thing, but we can start the program on the right

"In addition, our class must keep the reputation of the giving the best class dances. This will be done," Pratt said.

Other candidates for sophomore (See Voting, Page 5)

WISH WE WERE IN COLOR

the individual members of the The Fish Pond and memorial fountain took on the appearance of a ceremonial Aztec blood bath Wednesday as red dye mysteriously turned up in the water, on the fountain and around the edge. (Photo by Mike Wright)

Artists Can Give Solutions To U.S. Problems'—Target

By DAVE MAYES

Battalion Staff Writer The complex problems facing America must be solved by the artists, novelists, playwrights and musicians "who are seeing what is really happening," novelist plained. George W. Target claimed here Wednesday.

The British critic of contemporary America, addressing a Graduate Lecture Series audience of about 175, said that the memare the only ones who have the ability to "tell it the way it is." "The true artists look at the trends and predict what's going to happen. They aren't frightened by the present and want to live in the future," Target ex-

TARGET WAS highly critical, on the other hand, of the established conventional solutions to U.S. problems, especially the "educational solution."

"Teachers who merely impart bers of the artistic professions information have done more damage to the world situation than

Camera Committee To Sponsor Photo Contest Here May 11

The Texas A&M Camera Com-He places the reputation of the mittee will holds its annual nacompetition May 11 in the Memorial Student Center.

Salon '68, open to students, faculty and members of photographic associations sponsored by universities and colleges in the U.S., will provide competition in eight categories.

MSC Committee Chairman Frank Tilley of Jacksonville said color or monochrome prints mounted on 16 by 20 inch mats must be received by May 8. Three distinguished profes-

University National Bank "On the side of Texas A&M" entries in landscape, news, portraiture, sports, human interest, nature, still life, fashion and advertising categories at the MSC Assembly Room May 11. "Visitors may sit in on the initial judging of prints, but final selections will be made in closed session," Tilley added.

Awards for the committee's 10th salon will be first, second and third place ribbons and a ribbon for each print selected for exhibition, according to Louis Hodges of Houston, salon chair-

Award winners and accepted prints will be displayed in the MSC for one week.

anyone else," he exclaimed. "The only good teachers," he said, "are those who, like Socra- BB&L tes, dare to make moral statements which tend to change or alter the behavior of their students. And these teachers are pretty rare nowadays.

"You people are being cheated if you think you can get an education by attended classes at a universtiy," Target told the audi-

HE ARGUED that one learns only when he is participating in informal discussions with his peers and professors.

"Charging bulls will get much more mental exercise than steers sitting contentedly on their backsides.'

Target ended his lecture with this remark:

"I don't care if you reject everything I've said tonight—so long as you have arrived at your. decision by your own mental processes and not by using stock

Dr. Manuel M. Davenport, head of the Department of Philosophy and Humanities, introduced Target as a moralist "whose philosophy is based not on bookishness but his own experiences" as a deck hand, grocery clerk, soldier and teacher.

First Bank & Trust now pays 5% per annum on savings certif-

Five AF Sweetheart Finalists Announced

The Air Force Sweetheart will Kerrville resident weighs 100 be chosen Saturday night from five finalists at the annual Air Force Ball in Sbisa Dining Hall. The informal dance will last from 8 p.m. until midnight. Uniform will be long-sleeve summer with ascots.

Music will be provided by Texas Southern University's Toronados. The band recently played at the Army's Combat Ball. "We are expecting a good turnout from both the Army seniors and the Air Force cadets," Steve Melzer, Ball chairman, said. THE BALL is free to all Air Force cadets, Army seniors and their dates. Sbisa will be decorated for the ball with Cadet Slouch, Snoopy and Red Baron cartoons.

Special guests for the evening include President Earl Rudder, Gen. Spencer J. Buchanan (USA ret.), Maj. Gen. John P. Doyle (USAF ret.), and Rear Admiral James D. Craik (USCG ret.).

Candidates for Air Force Sweetheart are Janis Holder, Karen Pearsall, Janis Boon, Susan Armstrong and Diane

MISS HOLDER, a hazel eyed brunette, was entered in the contest by Anthony W. Groves. She is a secretary in Universal City, is 5 feet four inches tall and weighs 115 pounds.

A junior elementary education major at Southwest Texas State, Miss Pearsall has green eyes and brown hair. The 5-foot-2-inch

Paving Project To Start Soon

First phase of a four-street paving project on the south side next week, announced W. H. Badgett, system physical plants man-

Badgett said the $72,668 project will extend the pavement of Throckmorton, Houston, Russell and Bizzell to Jersey Street, which is currently being widened.

Throckmorton will be paved first, Badgett noted, and probably will be closed most of April.

Houston and Russell will be under construction during May and Bizzell in June and July.

Bryan Building & Association, Your Savings Center, since 1919.

—Adv.

pounds, and her name was submitted by Quentin N. Killian.

Escorted by Marshall J. Gaspard, Miss Devore is a junior elementary education major at Lamar Tech. The five-foot, sixinch brunette weighs 120 pounds and is from Anahuac.

Miss Armstrong, who will be escorted by Richard Bowen, is a senior at Abilene High School. She has hazel eyes, blonde hair, weighs 107 pounds and is five feet, one inch tall.

Miss Boon, a green-eyed red-head, is a resident of Ennis and will be escorted by Russell E. Bell. The elementary education major at East Texas State weighs 115 pounds and is five feet, two

Benton, Hall, Lippke Named Drum Majors

Michael B. Benton of Dallas, Lawrence A. Lippke of Yorktown and James J. Hall III of Corpus Christi have been selected as Texas Aggie Band drum majors for 1968-69, announced Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, director.

The junior Army cadets were chosen by a 14-man selection committee. They will be recommended to President Earl Rudder through the commandant's office for appointment to cadet rank next September.

Selection was based on performance in directing the band in the "National Anthem," "Spirit of Aggieland" and marching maneuvers. The selection committee was composed of this year's combined, Maroon and White Band commanders and drum majors, first sergeants, sergeant major, a freshman and sophomore of each band company and Colonel Adams.

Benton, an accounting major and Woodrow Wilson High graduate, was recommended for head drum major.

Lippke and Hall were approved for Maroon and White Band drum major posts, respectively. An agricultural economics major, Lippke is the third Aggie Band member of the Yorktown family.

Hall is an industrial engineering major and graduate of W. B. Ray High School of Corpus.

NEW DRUM MAJORS The Texas Aggie Band will be led onto the field next year by these three juniors, named 1968-69 drum majors this week. Left to right, they are Lawrence Lippke, recommended for Maroon Band drum major; Mike Benton, recommended for head drum major; and James Hall, recommended for White Band drum major. (Photo by Mike Wright)