

Free Summer Outboard Trip For Couple Given By Evinrude

Do you know a young couple who would like an expense-paid summer vacation? A cruise from the Klondike to Manhattan? They should be adventuresome, quick to respond to notice of this sort:

Wanted: Personable married couple, ages 25 through 35, with solid boating experience, to cruise by outboard boat from Juneau, Alaska, to New York City, starting early June, this year. Fee, plus all expenses paid.

Sound far-fetched? It's not. Evinrude Motors, Milwaukee, is seeking such a couple for precisely such a trip: a 6500-mile cruise down Alaska's inland waterway to Olympia, Washington, thence across the United States to New York City. With the exception of a portage of about 400 miles, the entire trip will be made by water.

THE PURPOSE of the venture is to test equipment and to dramatize potential cruising areas open to boating families throughout the nation, according to Robert N. West, Jr., director of marketing, Evinrude Motors. "Too often, the boatman thinks solely in terms of water in his immediate vicinity," West said. "We hope to create an awareness of the rivers, lakes and inland waterways open to all boatmen. We hope to show that a young couple, with proper equipment, can achieve a cruise of the kind most of us dream about."

In describing the couple his company seeks, West said: "They're young—25 to 35—reliant, personable, enthusiastic and with considerable experience in handling small craft. They'll be sleeping aboard, on the beach and in shorefront motels. In a sense, they'll be test drivers on the longest cruise of its kind. We think it's a lifetime adventure for the right couple."

The boat in which the cruise will be made is a 20-foot Glastron Gulfstream runabout, powered with twin installation 55 hp Evinrude Triumph outboard motors. The cruise is expected to start the first week in June and to end the first week of September.

FIRST LEG of the cruise, from Juneau, Alaska, to Olympia, Washington, will be made down the inland waterway through Alaska and British Columbia. The second major run will be made up the Columbia River to Lewiston, Idaho, at which point a portage of about 400 miles will be made to Fort Benton, Montana, on the Missouri River. The cruising couple will travel down the Missouri to St. Louis, thence up the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers to Lake Michigan. They will travel through the Great Lakes, the Trent Waterway and the St. Lawrence to Montreal. From the St. Lawrence, they will head down the Richelieu into Lake Champlain, then down the Hudson to New York City.

"The couple will travel Alaska, three Canadian provinces and 17 states," West said. "They'll be met by cruising fleets and entertained at boat clubs en route. We think they'll have a ball."

Candidates for the assignment can receive application forms by writing to: Alaska-New York Cruise, Public Relations Department, Evinrude Motors, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 53216.

Oceanography Grad Student Speaks Tonight

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Don Walsh, a doctoral student in physical oceanography at Texas A&M, will address the Bryan-College Station chapter of the American Society for Oceanography tonight.

Walsh's talk, "Exploring Inner Space," will highlight the 8 p.m. regular meeting in the Memorial Student Center Assembly Room, announced John Van Ossald.

Active in numerous areas, Walsh was cited as one of the nation's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1960 and has received several other distinguished awards.

The 37-year-old scientist, who made the deepest ocean dive and once commanded a submarine, works in A&M "oceanography from space" research, flies, boats, skin dives and is active in photography. He is in the final stages of his Ph.D. work and is completing a master's degree in political science through correspondence.

A native of Berkeley, Calif., Walsh has written 30 articles in the field of oceanography and emphasized oceanic education in more than 750 speeches in colleges, symposia, conferences, TV and radio presentations.

The co-holder with Jacques Piccard of the world's deepest ocean dive of 35,800 feet has also been cited with the Golden Plate Award from the American Academy of Achievement, Legion of Merit from President Eisenhower, Gold Medal of Trieste, Italy, and the Distinguished Service Medal from the Theodore Roosevelt Association.

Israel Prepares For All-Out Arab Guerrilla Offensive

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israel is steeling itself for an all-out offensive by Arab guerrillas in an apparent backlash from the massive assault on their bases in Jordan last week. Officials here seem in no mood to take any more raids without hitting back.

Top-level discussions are believed to be already under way to plan how to meet any threat. Sources predict action may reach its peak around Israel's independence day May 2.

Although any large-scale action similar to the massive punch against guerrilla bases in Jordan last Thursday could plunge the Middle East into another war, such action is considered unlikely at present. It has not been entirely ruled out, however.

The guerrillas, although mauled in the attack last week on their bases at Karameh and Safa, are raiding and firing mortars at settlements again to show the

Army Inspection Set For April 6

Texas A&M's Army ROTC will stand its annual formal and general inspection April 5-6, announced Col. Jim H. McCoy, professor of military science.

A team of 12 inspectors headed by Col. Herbert W. Krueger, Fourth Army official of Fort Sam Houston, will conduct the command-type inspection.

The department's administration, equipment and supplies and instruction will undergo close scrutiny by the team, which will include 10 Army ROTC representatives from other Fourth Army area universities and colleges.

Colonel Krueger is assigned to the office of the deputy chief of staff for reserve forces.

A&M's 1,300 Army ROTC cadets will stand in-ranks inspection at 8 a.m. April 6. The Army element of the Corps of Cadets will be reviewed at 9 a.m. on the main drill field.

Cadet commander for annual inspection will be Cadet Col. Patrick G. Rehmet of Alice, deputy corps commander.

Arab world they have not been crushed.

The Jordan border, especially along the exposed Beisam Valley, has flared daily since the operation.

Sources said one possibility is the formation of small Israeli commando units to meet the guerrillas at their own game, trying to hit them in their bases and curb their attacks.

Similar tactics were used by the semiregular 101st Battalion 12 years ago against Egyptian commandos.

According to the best available information, Israel is unlikely to endanger its diplomatic campaign at this time with another "police action" invasion of Jordan.

It still supports the flagging peace mission of U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring, but some circles here hold out little hope it will achieve any progress in breaking the Middle East deadlock.

New Gold Breakthrough May Relieve U.S. Industry Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Development of a new process for extracting gold from previously unworkable ores, a breakthrough that might open huge new gold deposits to mining, was announced Wednesday by the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

If successful, use of the process would help meet the gold needs of U.S. industry, but it would scarcely dent the Treasury's gold-stock shortages.

AN 8,000-square-mile area of Nevada, the Bureau said, is known to contain gold-rich ores which contain carbon compounds that hang on to gold so tightly that the conventional cyanide process can't extract it economically.

The bureau said scientists at its Metallurgy Research Center in Reno have invented "an aqueous chemical treatment" to break up the gold-carbon love affair; once that is done, the cyanide process can extract the gold.

The new method is said to permit economical recovery of 90 to 95 per cent of the gold in these ores, compared with previous recovery of only 20 to 35 per cent.

BUT SO FAR it has been performed only in the laboratory. Pilot scale tests are being conducted, the Bureau said.

"If the pilot scale tests indicate commercially feasibility, this will be a major technical breakthrough," said J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of the interior for mineral resources.

The bureau said the carbonaceous ores of Nevada are believed to contain some 10 million to 30 million ounces of gold, compared with the nation's known reserves of some 9.4 million ounces economically mineable by present methods.

There are geological indications, the bureau added, that the gold-bearing area might extend into central Idaho and southern Nevada.

"In Nevada alone," Moore said, "success with the bureau's process could increase gold production potential severalfold, yielding enough to supply domestic industrial requirements for six or seven years.
