

Busy Weekend Brings Spring Semester To An Abrupt Close

The national championship Fish Drill Team goes through its award-winning precision drill for 15,000 spectators at the Maroon and White game. The team returned from a parade in Houston just in time for this performance.

The Ring Dance, social highlight of the year for seniors, attracted a packed house at Sbisa Dining Hall Saturday night.

Larry Stegent crashes through for yardage for the Maroons in the annual Maroon and White intersquad game Saturday. Stegent made two TD's but the Whites beat the Maroons 32-22.

Coach Gene Stallings poses with a group of drenched participants in the annual Gene Stallings News Media Golf Tournament. Members of the football team served as caddies.

Two College Station beauties come prepared to get a tan while watching the Whites beat the Maroons Saturday afternoon.

"T" Association Has Annual Outing At Somerville

The Maroons and the Whites combined forces again Sunday, and were joined by lettermen in other sports for an outing at Lake Somerville. Boating, swimming, skiing, girl watching, and lots of good food were enjoyed by athletes and their dates. "Hub" Baker hosted the event for the Aggie athletes. They consumed 115 pounds of boiled jumbo shrimp, 130 pounds of catfish, 30 pounds smoked sausage, and no telling how much beverage.

