The Church.. For a Fuller Life.. For You..

To Train A Child

Mommy, I love you.
 I'm glad I'm alive.
 It's fun to run and play and laugh and dance.
 It's hard to stand still and listen.
 Mommy, I love you.
 Thank you for taking care of me. Thank you for cookies and milk and bread.
 Please give me a dime for Sunday School. I like Sunday School. We sing and laugh and listen about God.
 Mommy, I love you.

And so on and on she prattles in her own innocent and naive way. Soon, however, her questions will become more complex and her parents will need all the love and wisdom they can obtain.

Fortunately, we as parents are not alone in this endeavor. The Church stands ready and anxious to help us train our children. Through worship, study and meditation we can learn to know what God requires of us. Come to the church of your choice this Sunday and every Sunday.

Maurer Presented Award At Vet Meet

Dr. Fred D. Maurer, associate dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, has been presented the 1968 12th International Veterinary Congress Prize for his "outstanding contributions to the international advancement of veterinary medical science."

The award was made Tuesday during the American Veterinary Medical Association's 105th annual meeting in Boston, Mass.

Dr. Maurer has been associate dean at A&M since 1964 and is widely known for his efforts to show how foreign animal diseases can be hazards to the United States livestock industry and to the world's food supply.

For more than 20 years before his retirement in 1964 as a colonel in the U.S. Army Veterinary Corps, he was engaged in some form of foreign animal disease control. His work brought him two army commendation medals — the Legion of Merit and the Surgeon General's "A" rating for research competence.

The army citations recognized his work in fighting such foreign animal diseases as African swine fever in Spain, horse prionosis when it first invaded Florida, and the Middle East outbreak of African horse sickness.

During his army career, he served at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology as chief of its Basic Science Division, Virology Division and the Veterinary Pathology Division.

He is past president of the American College of Veterinary Pathologists, one of seven specialty boards recognized by the AVMA for certification of veterinarians.

The associate dean is currently chairman of both the Equine Division of the Morris Animal Foundation and the AVMA Research Council, and is active in 15 other professional organizations.

Dr. Maurer was given the "1961 Alumnus of the Year" award by the Washington State University College of Veterinary Medicine, from which he graduated in 1937.
